Burglar Shot By Priest At Dungannon

The Rev. Martin E. Matulik of St. Philip Neri Catholic Church at Dungannon shot a burglar in the side Friday night with a .38-caliber revolver.

The victim, Jackson Coleman Prater, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Prater of Hanoverton RD 1, was admitted to Salem City Hospital with a chest wound. He was listed in "guarded" condition.

David Barnhouse, 16, Prater's companion, also was treated at the hospital for lacerations of the left hand and right wrist and released in care of the sheriff's office.

He will be cited to Juvenile Court, officers said. He is the stepson of Nick Divjak of Lisbon RD 1.

SHERIFF Russell J. Van Fossan said the priest had reported break-ins at the rectory Nov. 26 and Jan. 14 and presumably was wearing the gun for protection.

Fr. Matulik was assigned last August as pastor of St. Philip Neri Church and St. Agatha Mission at West Point. He served in Canton and Mantua before being assigned to St. Philip.

The sheriff said the priest told him he left home at 8 to go to Minerva for groceries. Returning about 9, he noticed a window broken in the back door. He entered the house and, reaching the living room, saw two persons in the front hallway trying to get out the door. Some lights were on, as they were when the priest left, but he said he did not recognize either youth.

Both boys live in the Dungannon area, the wounded one on Hanoverton RD 1 and the other on Lisbon RD 4. They are not St. Philip's parishioners, the pastor said.

The Maple - Cotton ambulance took the wounded youth to the hospital. The boy did not fall when hit, nor did he lose consciousness. Fr. Matulik took him to the kitchen and called for an ambulance and notified the sheriff.

The sheriff said there were signs the boys had been in the priest's study, but nothing appeared to have been taken.

THE SHOOTING was the second in a Columbiana County rectory in six months. Two gunmen, one posing as a priest, forced their way into the residence of St. Patrick's Church at Leetonia Sept. 3 and were wounded in an exchange of shots with the Rev. Fr. Thomas Beldue.

Burglars were active Friday night in other Columbiana County areas.

Car Slams Into Pole

Two Area Brothers Killed, Two Others Hurt In Crash

Dead Pair Trapped For Two Hours

Accident Occurs In Fox Lake Area Of Pennsylvania

Two Clinton area brothers, 17 and 19, were killed early today when the car in which they were returning from Terrace Lanes bowling center near Chester slammed into a utility pole along Route 30 in Pennsylvania.

The bodies of John H. McCullough, 17, and Pvt. Richard H. McCullough, 19, sons of Mrs. Hillis McCullough of Clinton RD 1, were trapped in the wrecked auto for over two hours.

DANIEL L. Wimer, 16, of Imperial RD 1, the driver, and Michael A. Baker, 16, of Imperial, another passenger, are confined to City Hospital with injuries.

Wimer, son of Victor Wimer, is "satisfactory" with lacerations of the lip, left hand and wrist and right arm.

Baker, son of Michael Baker, is "fair" with cuts on the right knee and left wrist and bruises of the scalp.

The McCullough brothers were pronounced dead at the hospital with multiple fractures.

Pvt. McCullough was home on leave from Ft. Leonard Wood, Miss. He was scheduled to report shortly for Army duty in Vietnam.

Pennsylvania state police at Carnegie said the four youths were returning from the bowling center when the mishap occurred about 12:10 a.m.

Wimer was headed east, when he apparently lost control on a slight curve just west of the Laughlin's Corners intersection with Route 168, in the vicinity of Fox Lake.

The auto spun around and slid sideways into a Duquesne Light Co. pole, breaking the pole in half. The auto halted facing west.

Power lines on the pole were not snapped, officers said, but

South Viet's Flag Raised Over Citadel

South Vietnamese Recapture Palace; Fighting Continues

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces recaptured the palace grounds of Hue's Citadel today from Communist troops which seized them 25 days ago, but heavy fighting continued in other parts of the Citadel.

A small force of government troops penetrated the fortified palace area early today, ripped down the Communist flag that had flown there since Jan. 31, and raised the government's colors on the 200-foot radio tower flagpole.

In early afternoon, a battalion of South Vietnamese soldiers and a company of rangers blasted through the palace area wall with mortars and cleared the palace within two hours against little opposition. The government troops reported two wounded.

The enemy troops apparently slipped out of the palace grounds into positions along the western half of the south wall of the 1½-mile square Citadel, where heavy fighting was reported still in progress.

Associated Press correspondent George McArthur reported from Hue that there also were pockets of Communist resistance in a small area in the northwest corner and in a one-mile square area of stucco, thatched and tile houses just outside the east wall.

In Saigon, South Vietnamese military headquarters reported that government forces had killed a total of 250 Communist troops in scattered fighting today throughout the Citadel. Government losses were put at five dead and 22 wounded.

U.S. headquarters in Saigon said the first 24 days of the fighting in Hue had cost the Communists 4,173 men killed. It reported U.S. losses as 119 killed and 961 wounded and South Vietnamese losses as 363 killed and 1,242 wounded. Headquarters also said allied troops captured 163 Communist suspects and 1,224 weapons.

Meanwhile, North Vietnam's defense minister, Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, was quoted as saying the war is entering "a fierce phase" in which there will be continual Communist attacks.

The latest enemy attacks included a 1,307-round shelling of the Khe Sanh U.S. Marine base —the second heaviest shelling of

Thant Ties Talks To Bombing Halt

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary General U Thant said today he is convinced meaningful talks on ending the war in Vietnam would take place "even perhaps within a few days" if the United States stopped bombing North Vietnam.

He said the stepup on hostilities in the last few weeks "should not lead to the conclusion that the door is closed for negotiations."

Thant set forth his views in a 1,600 word statement issued after talks with North Vietnamese envoys, President Johnson and other world leaders in New Delhi, Moscow, London, Paris and Washington.

"The ugliness of the war is matched only by its futility," Thant concluded. "There can be no victory, no defeat, only more suffering, more death and more destruction. The very survival of Vietnam is at stake. It is time to call a halt."

Thant declared that both the United States and the Soviet Union seemed "firmly determined to prevent the defeat of the side which each supports."

He warned, "If such a trend continues, the conclusion is inescapable that there will be continued intensification and escalation of the conflict, resulting in unforeseeable developments with dire consequences."

"On the other hand," he said, "my recent contacts have confirmed by view that, if essential steps are taken, they will lead to a chain of events which, in the end, can bring about a just solution to the problem, and which will save both South Vietnam and North Vietnam from devastation and virtual destruction and will offer a chance for

World Communist Parley Aim Of Budapest Meeting

BUDAPEST (AP) — Communists from most of the world were arriving in Budapest today to discuss whether a world Communist conference can be organized and what it might take up.

Emphasis in the Communist press seemed to be shifting from a conference of Communist parties on ideological questions to a general leftist rally to denounce the United States and other countries the Communists label "imperialist."

The whole question of the conference was so wide open—no date for it has been publicly mentioned—that no one here knew how long the discussions would last. The best guesses, however, were 7-10 days.

Representatives of 66 to 68 Communist parties will open discussions Monday.

Out of 89 Communist parties in the world, 81 that attended the last ideological conference in 1960 were eligible to attend the Budapest "consultative meeting." But some are staying away because of the Moscow-Peking dispute and reluctance to expose themselves to Soviet influence.

The stay-at-homes include Albania, Burma, China, Cuba, Iceland, Indonesia, Japan, North Korea, Malaysia, the Netherlands, Sweden, Thailand and North Vietnam.

Widespread opposition by some parties appears now to have forced the Soviets to abandon their hopes of getting a new, more Soviet-line statement out of parties gathering here.

That would mean that the eventual conference need not be strictly for Communist parties.

It could, as Italian and Yugoslav Communists have been arguing, become a broader gathering of all who agreed with the Communist line on imperialism. This could bring in national liberation movements and revolutionary fronts in countries lacking significant Communist parties.

Labor Cites President On School Needs

Says White House Not Pressing Hard Enough On Matter

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The AFL-CIO, backer of most of President Johnson's legislative program, says the White House isn't pressing hard enough to meet the nation's educational needs.

"No sounder investment can be made by the citizens of the United States than an investment in their own children's economic future," The labor federation's executive council said Friday in taking issue with Johnson's education message to Congress earlier this month.

Education is a vital tool in fighting poverty and the causes of city riots, said the statement by the policy-making council of the 14 million member labor federation.

"Particularly in the field of higher education there is need for going far beyond the administration's recommendations," said the council.

"The proposed cut of more than $500 million funds for construction of new facilities for higher education will mean that thousands of young people who stand ready for higher education will be denied it by simple lack of space," it said.

The labor council also criticized Johnson's proposal to spur private student loans by giving lenders a service fee of up to $35 per loan. It urged instead "return to the principle of government loans such as have been available on a limited basis through the National Defense Education Act."

"Government loans are surer

7 To 14% Homeless

Refugee Problem Faces South Viet

SAIGON (AP) — From seven to 14 per cent of South Vietnam's people are homeless today and the government, in the midst of a costly war, faces a staggering refugee problem.

Just how staggering a problem it is can be imagined if, for example, from 15 to 30 million people were homeless in the United States.

For Saigon itself, the refugee situation became an acute problem after the Communist Tet — offensive. For the rest of the country the problem has been a chronic one growing constantly with the intensification of the war.

Nobody knows precisely how many refugees there are in the nation of 14 million people. The Vietnamese government puts the figure at 642,795 homeless throughout the country. But U.S. sources say the figure must easily be a million and perhaps as much as 2 million. That is one person in every 14, or perhaps one in every seven.

Nobody can say just how many refugees there are inside the capital itself. Officially, the homeless in Saigon are not even classed as refugees. The areas into which they are jammed are called, on official maps, "food distribution centers."

To be classed as a refugee, a person must be receiving a stipend from the government. The idea of this in the past had been to discourage the flood of homeless streaming into what once was the safety of the capital from a war-wracked countryside. Many of the refugees in the capital have been absorbed into its mainstream.

Officially, the South Vietnamese government says there are 144,481 homeless in the city and 76,088 more in the small encircling Gia Dinh Province.

Almost half of these, by official account, lost their homes and most of their belongings in the fighting which created acres

Capitol Hill To Study LBJ Plan On Visas

Proposes Easing Of Requirements For Foreign Tourists

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Johnson's proposed easing of visa requirements for tourists from abroad is in for a close, hard look on Capitol Hill.

The Senate Judiciary Committee in particular is expected to take a highly cautious approach when it begins processing the legislation unveiled Friday by Johnson at the Texas White House.

There is strong support on the Judiciary Committee for the present system in which most foreigners planning on traveling in this country must obtain a visa through a U.S. consulate and undergo an immigration check on arrival, sources reported.

Under the bill Johnson announced he was sending Congress:

—Foreigners wanting to visit this country would not need visas if they planned to stay for 90 days or less, had a valid passport and nonrefundable, round-trip tickets and their own countries made reciprocal arrangements for U.S. travelers.

—Security risks, narcotics dealers and persons who had been convicted of serious crimes would be barred, as would persons simply bent on getting a job in the United States.

Because of the requirement for reciprocity, it is expected the eased requirements would apply primarily to tourists from Western Europe.

However, two Communist nations—Bulgaria and Yugoslavia —currently waive visa requirements for American travelers.

Yugoslavia has waived such requirements through Nov. 1, 1968. Bulgaria has waived them through 1968, with the stipulation that the American tourist makes arrangements through

LBJ Huddles With Ford At Texas Ranch

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson meets today with industrialist Henry Ford II to plan a government-industry effort to find jobs for 500,000 hard-core unemployed who live in the slums of the nation's 50 biggest cities.

Ford is chairman of the newly formed National Alliance of Businessmen, which will spearhead the three-year drive.

Accompanying Ford to the conference with Johnson were Paul Austin of Atlanta, chief executive officer of the Coca-Cola Co., and former Ford Motor Co. executive Leo Bebee of Washington, D.C. Austin is vice chairman of the alliance, Bebee executive vice chairman.

The Texas White House has labeled as rumors published speculation that Ford might be in line for an important government job in the near future. Sources said the Saturday meeting was strictly to discuss the jobs program.

At Secretary's March Appearance

Hope Voiced Feud Cools Between Rusk, Fulbright

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources express hope that Dean Rusk's scheduled public appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in March will defuse an escalating feud between the secretary of state and Sen. J. W. Fulbright.

It may also, administration sources say, offer President Johnson a way out of the middle of the fight between Rusk and the Arkansas Democrat who heads the key Senate panel.

At issue is Rusk's persistent refusal to accept Foreign Relations Committee demands that he testify in public on administration policy in Vietnam—a policy Fulbright strongly opposes.

It has been two years since the secretary of state testified publicly on Vietnam before the panel, although he has appeared before it a number of times in closed session.

Fulbright, failing to budge Rusk from his position that public testimony on Vietnam would not serve the national interest, requested Johnson by letter to order the secretary's appearance before the committee.

Johnson has not responded to the two-week-old request.

But sources said Rusk's March 11 committee appearance—an annual assignment to support the Johnson foreign aid program—could at least partially resolve the dilemma.

Rusk appears certain to be asked questions about Vietnam that go far beyond the subject of U.S. aid to that country. And the administration is said to hope his responses will satisfy Fulbright, who has called Rusk's refusal to discuss the war in open session an affront to Congress.

Exacerbating the Rusk-Fulbright feud was their recent exchange of letters on possible use of tactical nuclear weapons by U.S. forces in Vietnam

Audit Slated In Reported Fund Errors

BEAVER — District Atty. John Good Jr. has been directed by county judges to request an official audit of the affairs of the Beaver County Domestic Relations Department following the discovery of discrepancies in accounts.

A meeting with county officials was under way late this morning concerning the planned audit.

Good said he was asked by Judges Ralph Scalera, James Rowley and John Sawyer to conduct an investigation of the collections and disbursement department after a complaint was received about a check due an out-of-state woman.

The woman said she had not received a check for June 1967 and had not received a satisfactory explanation from the department.

Good ordered County Chief Detective Bernard Cashdollar to make a preliminary investigation with the cooperation of E. B. McNitt, administrator of domestic relations.

A verbal report made to Good indicated the check had not been received by the woman. Good was then directed by the Judges to advise the county commissioners, the county controller and other officials, and to request a complete audit of the department.

The office collected $1,615,[illegible] in 1967, up some $200,000 over the previous year.

Fulbright, failing to budge Rusk from his position that public testimony on Vietnam would not serve the national interest, requested Johnson by letter to order the secretary's appearance before the committee.

Johnson has not responded to the two-week-old request.

But sources said Rusk's March 11 committee appearance—an annual assignment to support the Johnson foreign aid program—could at least partially resolve the dilemma.

Rusk appears certain to be asked questions about Vietnam that go far beyond the subject of U.S. aid to that country. And the administration is said to hope his responses will satisfy Fulbright, who has called Rusk's refusal to discuss the war in open session an affront to Congress.

Exacerbating the Rusk-Fulbright feud was their recent exchange of letters on possible use of tactical nuclear weapons by U.S. forces in Vietnam

Capitol Hill To Study LBJ Plan On Visas

Proposes Easing Of Requirements For Foreign Tourists

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Johnson's proposed easing of visa requirements for tourists from abroad is in for a close, hard look on Capitol Hill.

The Senate Judiciary Committee in particular is expected to take a highly cautious approach when it begins processing the legislation unveiled Friday by Johnson at the Texas White House.

There is strong support on the Judiciary Committee for the present system in which most foreigners planning on traveling in this country must obtain a visa through a U.S. consulate and undergo an immigration check on arrival, sources reported.

Under the bill Johnson announced he was sending Congress:

—Foreigners wanting to visit this country would not need visas if they planned to stay for 90 days or less, had a valid passport and nonrefundable, round-trip tickets and their own countries made reciprocal arrangements for U.S. travelers.

—Security risks, narcotics dealers and persons who had been convicted of serious crimes would be barred, as would persons simply bent on getting a job in the United States.

Because of the requirement for reciprocity, it is expected the eased requirements would apply primarily to tourists from Western Europe.

However, two Communist nations—Bulgaria and Yugoslavia —currently waive visa requirements for American travelers.

Yugoslavia has waived such requirements through Nov. 1, 1968. Bulgaria has waived them through 1968, with the stipulation that the American tourist makes arrangements through

Audit Slated In Reported Fund Errors

BEAVER — District Atty. John Good Jr. has been directed by county judges to request an official audit of the affairs of the Beaver County Domestic Relations Department following the discovery of discrepancies in accounts.

A meeting with county officials was under way late this morning concerning the planned audit.

Good said he was asked by Judges Ralph Scalera, James Rowley and John Sawyer to conduct an investigation of the collections and disbursement department after a complaint was received about a check due an out-of-state woman.

The woman said she had not received a check for June 1967 and had not received a satisfactory explanation from the department.

Good ordered County Chief Detective Bernard Cashdollar to make a preliminary investigation with the cooperation of E. B. McNitt, administrator of domestic relations.

A verbal report made to Good indicated the check had not been received by the woman. Good was then directed by the Judges to advise the county commissioners, the county controller and other officials, and to request a com... department.

of smoking rubble in the Cholon area of Saigon. That Communist offensive erupted suddenly just as the celebration of Tet, ushering in the Year of the Monkey, was getting under way.

A U.S. official says there are 140 refugee stations scattered around Saigon today, a city already swollen to a population of anything from 2 to 3 million. The camps are islands of misery.

"This is the biggest challenge yet for a government which has not had much of a record for meeting challenges," said one American official.

"These camps are supposed to be temporary, and that is where the challenge is — to prevent temporary camps from becoming permanent."

The Americans reflect worry that another offensive with the force of the Viet Cong's Jan. 31 assault in the Cholon area of Saigon could generate a chaotic refugee situation.

Until Friday, 30 families were housed at the An Quang pagoda in Cholon, in the heart of an area which saw the heaviest fighting in Saigon of the Tet offensive.

Then Saigon's politics entered the picture. The current government crackdown on its opposition required the sudden removal of the refugees to another point. Plain clothesmen cordoned off the pagoda, which was headquarters for the militant Buddhist leader, Venerable Tri Quang. Tri Quang is under arrest.

The pagoda itself weathered much of the storm, but the surrounding area is a scene of desolation. There is block after block of rubble, scarred buildings, burned out vehicles. Streets are lined with the remains of what had been the possessions of the people who lived in the area.

The people in the camp still seem stunned. Only the children smile as they prance and play. They have enough to eat, provided by the government, and enough water. Some still have money and can shop for themselves. The refugees have been given injections to immunize them against plague and cholera. Sanitation has become a major problem.

"This is one of the best camps," a U.S. official said, referring to a center set up at the Chu Van An school in Cholon, where 846 families are packed into virtually every available cranny of the three-story building and the courtyard.

The courtyard is crammed with military tents and hastily erected lean-to sheds where the refugees share their cramped quarters with their ducks and chickens, surrounded by what few belongings they were able to save from the fighting. A stale, overpowering aroma pervades the compound.

Naked children play scarcely noticed by their elders. Families cook outdoors on the ground with makeshift fireplaces.

They are likely to be in such camps for months, while the government struggles to launch a refugee relief program of housing. They have just begun clearing an area for the project.

The government provides the Chu Van An camp with 1,100 pounds of rice a day. There is little else in the way of food, except what the homeless can rustle up for themselves.

"Oh, yes," said the Vietnamese camp director. "We have a little meat."

He pointed out the cardboard box standing in a corner. He reached into it and displayed one of the tiny cans.

It was liver pate.

to get to the student who needs them, and they are less expensive in the long run than the guaranteed private loan program," the council said.

It added that the Johnson administration's proposal for $40 million in Head Start funds for pre-school children "is still too limited."

The labor federation's policy makers said Johnson's educational proposals for adults "move in the right direction but not far nor fast enough."

The labor officials also urged Congress to provide federal funds "for training and education of union members, stewards and officers in the same way as federal grants are made available to farmers and businessmen."

The labor council did "welcome the changes recommended by the president in vocational education."

the people of Vietnam to regain a sense of national identity and to reconstruct their wartorn country."

"Everywhere," he continued, "I found a genuine desire to bring this tragic conflict to an end.

Thant has just returned from talks with President Johnson and other key figures including North Vietnamese Communist diplomats.

Advance indications were that Thant would say that the United States could get wide-ranging talks with North Vietnam if it stopped bombing that country, but that the Americans were still holding out for a promise that North Vietnam would not take military advantage of a bombing halt.

Only a week ago—two days after talking with the North Vietnamese—Thant told a reporter he was "more convinced than ever" that if the United States stopped the bombing, North Vietnam would enter talks in two or three weeks.

But then Thant talked with President Johnson, who reaffirmed "the continued validity of the San Antonio formula," Thant reported. That formula is an offer to stop the bombing only if it would lead to productive discussions and if North Vietnam would not take military advantage of it.

In his latest policy-sounding world swing, Thant held talks with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union, Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain, and President Charles de Gaulle of France, in their respective capitals.

He saw North Vietnamese Consul-General Nguyen Hoa in New Delhi Feb. 8 and North Vietnamese Delegate-General Mai Van Bo in Paris Feb. 14.

There were reports that Thant submitted some questions to Hoa and got the answers from Bo. The questions dealt with North Vietnam's position on peace negotiations.

Thant set out on his trip a few weeks after North Vietnamese Foreign Minister Nguyen Van Trinh said talks "will" follow a cessation of the bombing — not "can," as he had stated 11 months earlier.

Before Thant got back to New York, Trinh had added that talks would start as soon as there was proof that the bombing had stopped. Unconfirmed reports said Thant was told that this meant two days if there was a U.S. announcement of the stoppage, two weeks if there was not.

Some U.N. diplomats said the North Vietnamese told him that once the bombing was over, they would be willing to discuss anything the United States wanted to discuss, including de-escalation of the war in South Vietnam.

Intermittently for the last two years, Thant has promoted a three-point peace plan that calls for stopping the bombing of North Vietnam, scaling down all military activities in South Vietnam and admitting to the peace table the Viet Cong's political arm, the National Liberation Front.

Irondale Driver Hurt In Mishap

An Irondale man was injured and his auto demolished in a mishap at Hammondsville Friday, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville reports.

Thurman Allgood, 36, was treated at City Hospital for lacerations of the forehead and chin after his auto went left of center on a curve on Route 213 at 7:45 p.m. and struck an approaching vehicle, driven by Dawson, 21, of Toronto.

Officers said Dawson was treated at St. John's Hospital, Steubenville, for lacerations of the hand. His auto was demolished.

Allgood was cited for "reckless operation."

service had to be shut off for a time while wrecker crews worked to remove the auto and free the bodies.

—:—

WITNESSES said the 1964 sports auto was virtually wrapped about the base of the wooden pole, which was sheared off about two - thirds of the way from the ground.

One of the youths was lying over an embankment, partially conscious. Another was in the back seat.

The injured youths were rushed to City Hospital by Lynn's Ambulance Service. The Cannon Funeral Home ambulance was on standby at the scene for the dead pair.

A wrecker from Mick's Garage and another from Stewart Texaco Service pulled at both ends of the battered wreckage to free it from the pole.

There have been repeated accidents at the curve, residents of the area pointed out.

The deaths brought to five the Beaver County traffic toll for 1968.

Services will be held Monday for the McCullough brothers, sons of Mrs. Anna Zaremba McCullough of Clinton RD 1 and the late Hillis McCullough.

Pvt. McCullough was born Oct. 6, 1948, in Sewickley.

He attended West Allegheny High School.

His brother John was born April 19, 1950, also in Sewickley. He also attended West Allegheny High School.

He was an employe of the Joseph Miller Atlantic Service Station.

Their father, Hillis McCullough, died Jan. 6.

In addition to their mother, at home, survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Patricia Medlen of Pittsburgh and Miss Mary Alma McCullough of Washington, D.C.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. in the Carl Moody Funeral Home at Clinton. Burial will follow in Clinton Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Sunday.

Israel Music Center Will Honor Tucker

ASKHELON, Israel (AP) — A Richard Tucker Music Center shortly will be built here, as a permanent part of the Kfar Silver Complex.

Proceeds of a recent Zionist Organization of America dinner honoring the American tenor, Tucker, will be used toward the erection of the new center. It will consist of an auditorium for concerts, a music library, a recording room and a number of studio classrooms.

The new music center will adjoin the agricultural school of Kfar Silver, named for the late American rabbi, Abba Hillel Silver.

Postmistress Evelyn Baker reported the post office incident at 7:35 a.m. today. Sheriff's Deputy Kent Garvey investigated and found someone had broken a window, but nothing was taken.

Deputy Herman (Cy) Wellman last night investigated burglaries at the home of George Bell Jr. on Route 62, east of Damascus, and at the residence of Mrs. Ella Michaels near Westville Lake.

Wellman said someone entered the Michaels house by breaking a glass in the back door and took a box of old coins, value undetermined, from a downstairs bedroom. The owner reported the burglary at 11:52 p.m.

Bell told Wellman the intruder at his place took old coin books and coins valued at $120. The deputy could find no sign of forcible entry.

Deputies are investigating another reported break - in this morning. It was reported about 9 p.m. yesterday by Bud Alsenhead, who resides near Route 14 west of the Midway Restaurant. An officer left for the Alsenhead property last night, but was diverted to Dungannon after the break-in there.

Damages Being Paid On 'Installment Plan'

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Ricardo Cagnacci, a fitter and turner, was paying off a damages claim at the rate of $7 a month.

The damages were awarded to Miss Joan Barbara Card in 1964 for injuries she received in an accident while a passenger in a car driven by Cagnacci.

Now Acting Supreme Court Judge C. S. Margo has ordered Cagnacci, who has a net monthly income of $284 to increase his monthly installments fourfold.

At this rate the $18,280 damages will be paid off in 54 years instead of 216 years.

Schools Are Doing An About-Face

Spotlight Swings Back Once More To Vocational Education In Ohio

By WILLIAM V. MERRIMAN
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ohio schools are doing an about-face.

A decade ago, in the shadow of Sputnik and the space race, a national outcry turned them and schools across the country toward science and mathematics.

Largely forgotten in the upheaval was the fact most young people didn't want to be — and couldn't be — scientists and engineers. The majority didn't even go to college.

But there are unmistakable signs the emphasis is shifting away from academic studies and toward job-oriented vocational education.

LOOK, for instance, at the increase in vocational classes subsidized by Ohio's State School Foundation program. In five years the number has jumped from 1,134 to 2,598. And the State Department of Education is projecting another 329 units next year.

The state is spending more than double the money it channeled into vocational subsidies four years ago.

Then there's the move toward joint vocational high schools, authorized in 1963 by the Ohio General Assembly.

Five — at Springfield, Pickerington, Piketon, Xenia and Rossford — are in operation and 11 more are under construction.

AND ANOTHER 18 districts have been formed and are awaiting voter approval of money issues to get started.

If Sputnik touched off the hullabaloo over college preparation, what's caused the apparent renaissance of job training in Ohio's schools?

Byrl R. Shoemaker, the Ohio Department of Education's director of vocational education, has a quick answer: Gov. James A. Rhodes.

"I hardly have to remind anyone that Rhodes has been selling Ohioans on the need for jobs and job training ever since he came into office in 1963," Shoemaker says. "They've been listening."

MOREOVER, he thinks unrest and unemployment in the cities have focused even more attention on the governor's patented "Jobs and Progress" slogan.

Nor has Rhodes failed to recognize how smugly his unending cry for "more and better jobs" is falling into place as a practical long-range answer to delinquency and crime in urban areas.

Just a few weeks ago he observed:

"We must provide jobs for the unemployed and training for them, or meet the riots in the streets with continuous deployment of armed forces in our major cities."

EVEN MORE POINTEDLY, he told his cabinet earlier this month: "We must give them job education or fight them in the streets."

No one around the Statehouse seems to be disputing his logic.

And the legislature, trying to decide what priorities should be in the governor's proposed bond issue, isn't tampering with the administration's plan to put $35 million in vocational education.

The most recent proposal calls for $50 million of the bonds to be earmarked for vocational and technical education. Shoemaker testified in a recent House Finance Committee hearing that $35 million for vocational facilities would generate another $27 million in federal funds.

SOME $16.8 MILLION of the money, he recommended, should be used to develop vocational training centers for disadvantaged youth, aged 16 to 21, in the state's eight largest cities. Canton would be in line for $1.05 million.

Another $8.5 million would go on a matching basis to the eight cities for expansion of existing vocational programs within the school systems.

Finally, joint vocational school districts in less urbanized areas would receive $30.7 million in state and federal monies.

THE JOINT SCHOOLS, Shoemaker pointed out, represent a departure from the old system of distributing state money to each school district to run vocational programs.

"That approach just didn't work, and we're now firmly committed to funneling operating money into joint schools which can offer students quality vocational instruction and a much wider selection of courses," he said.

Plainly, Rhodes is equally committed to expanding job training opportunities. And he's not called "The Salesman" for nothing.

the war against that northwest frontier outpost — and another rocket assault on Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport.

Ten Marines were killed at Khe Sanh and 34 wounded, 30 of whom were treated and returned to duty. The shelling Friday was the heaviest since the Communists fired in 1,500 rounds of artillery, rockets and mortars Feb. 7.

An estimated 40,000 Communist troops are in and around the demilitarized zone and a major assault is expected. U.S. Commanders have said the most likely target is the Khe Sanh base, guarded by 5,000 U.S. Marines and 500 Vietnamese rangers.

The shelling of Tan Son Nhut airport was the second concentrated barrage there in less than a week. One of the 16 Russian-designed 122mm rockets that hit the base tore through a wooden barracks, killing four U.S. Air Force sergeants who had taken cover under their beds. Two other men in the barracks and 29 men elsewhere on the base, including a civilian, were wounded.

Six rockets landed in a crowded section of Vietnamese homes and shops just outside the base's main gate. A government spokesman said 11 civilians were killed and five or six wounded.

The base commander said slight damage to one of the airport's two runways was repaired and both runways remained operational.

For the flag-raising in Hue, the province chief, Lt. Col. Pham Van Khoa, mustered several thousand people to watch from across the river, 500 yards away.

The first attempt failed. The red and yellow banner of the Saigon government rose halfway up the pole but then fluttered to the ground when the rope either broke or was cut by the fusillade of gunfire that broke out when the ceremony began. Even so, a weak cheer went up from the spectators.

When the flag finally was raised 45 minutes later, almost no one was watching. Gunfire had broken out at several points on the Citadel side of the river.

In general, the people live in fear of a Viet Cong return, random firing from the battle scene, snipers still holding out in the city and harassing Communist mortars and rockets.

American sources estimate the southern half of the city—the modern sector—has been 60 per cent destroyed. The devastation is equally great in the northern part, which includes the Citadel, McArthur reported.

The city's population of some 145,000 is half refugee.

There is no reasonable estimate of the money it will take to rebuild the city, McArthur said. If the imperial throne and other treasures in the palace grounds of the Citadel are destroyed, they cannot be replaced.

In the air war, U.S. pilots attacked the Vinh airfield, a railroad bridge 24 miles northwest of Vinh and a railroad bypass bridge 13 miles northwest of the city. Other raiders hit artillery sites, storage areas, highways, antiaircraft and rocket positions and bunkers just above the demilitarized zone.

North Vietnamese Defense Minister Giap spoke Friday night at a Soviet Army Day reception in Hanoi.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency quoted him as pledging "every sacrifice" until "final victory." Giap made no reference to the possibility of peace talks.

In Saigon, South Vietnamese plainclothes policemen threw a ring around the An Quang pagoda, home of Saigon's politically ambitious militant Buddhists. The police said they were under orders to arrest any Buddhist leaders who showed up.

In a crackdown on dissident elements, the government has arrested more than 20 political figures so far. A militant Buddhist spokesman said at least six of the sect's important monks have been arrested, including the leader, Thich (Venerable) Tri Quang.

The government has announced only four of the arrests of political figures and says the four are under "protective custody" in a safe area—national police headquarters.

The administration is said to consider it unlikely that other Iron Curtain countries would be willing to waive visa requirements on U.S. citizens visiting them.

There are no such requirements for visitors from Canada and Mexico.

The President advanced the plan as another effort to cut the U.S. balance-of-payments deficit. Part of that problem stems from the substantially larger amounts U.S. Tourists spend abroad than overseas visitors spend here.

While not disputing the President's goals, some members of the Senate Judiciary Committee were reported concerned about the possibility of insufficient controls on visitors entering this country.

It was pointed out that some machinery would be needed to screen out the security risks, narcotics dealers and criminals specifically exempted by the presidential proposal.

One committee source questioned whether an effective screening program was compatible with eliminating "the time-consuming entry requirements" the President mentioned.

Probation Asked By Motorist In Crash Fatal To 2

LISBON — William E. Roessler, 47, of Canfield RD 1, whose wife and daughter were killed in a two-car crash, is under investigation for probation after pleading guilty to a traffic manslaughter indictment.

Judge Raymond S. Bunnard ordered a pre-sentence investigation and report at the request of Roessler's counsel, D. Barry Dickson of East Palestine.

The indictment alleged that Roessler was driving too fast and without due regard for the safety of others, resulting in a head-on collision Oct. 20 on Route 14 near Unity. The victims were Mrs. Annabelle Roessler, 47, and daughter Shirley Ann, 3.

Roessler and the other driver, Michael Stuart, 18, of East Palestine, were injured. The two sedans were demolished.

Fire Destroys Shed At Wellsville Home

Loss was considered "negligible" when fire today destroyed an old shed at the home of Willis Perry of 1419 Center St., Wellsville.

Two trucks and 14 firemen answered the call from an unidentified neighbor at 8:10 a.m. Firemen watered down two nearby buildings smoldering from the heat.

Firemen said the blaze, which burned for about an hour, was caused by an overheated oil heater.

Schools Are Doing An About-Face

Spotlight Swings Back Once More To Vocational Education In Ohio

North-South Balderdash

The polarity of Columbiana County — reportedly evidenced by a so-called north-south friction between Salem and East Liverpool — continues to perplex and frustrate a large number of planners and leaders who are county-oriented.

Similarly, there are those in Salem and East Liverpool who are limited in their thinking concerning the needs and potential in the county.

Both factions represent an oversimplification of asserted facts and a failure to evaluate the realities of county and city relationships.

The truth is there are major differences in geography, economic interests, population makeup and other aspects between the northern and southern parts of the county.

On either side of the little "Mason - Dixon Line" are the rolling hills north of Lisbon compared to the more rugged terrain on this side. There are the machinery, fabricating plant, small pottery operations of the upper part of the county in contrast to the heavy steel industry, larger pottery, brick and tile base in the Ohio River Valley.

There is ample level land for expansion from East Palestine to west of Salem, but water supplies are a concern. There is little land for major industrial development in the steep hills in the south, but the Ohio River offers almost limitless water.

MOST EAST Liverpool area residents are employed outside the city and outside the state. Most workers in Salem, Columbiana and East Palestine live within two miles of their jobs.

The northern communities are centered on the Youngstown - Canton metropolitan complexes, the southern communities more toward Pittsburgh and Steubenville. There are fewer ethnic and racial differences in the cities and villages to the north.

So the distinctions between the two areas of the county rest on natural environment and historical developments which cast them in separate roles. Had Lisbon been blessed with the resources and leadership which caused Salem and East Liverpool to develop into major cities in the 19th Century, this county would have had a single major community as the center of commerce and industry, such as in Mahoning and Stark and Jefferson Counties.

But that was not the case, and the problems of cooperation and administration are easily seen in the separate structures of the Boy Scouts with its Cherokee (south) and Shawnee (north) districts, the Red Cross and other organizations.

THERE ARE those who think that there is a harsh and bitter struggle involving Salem, East Liverpool and the rest of the county, shown for example, in the selection of the site for the county airport, or the controversial community college.

If there was competition in those cases, it must be remembered that it was on all three sides, and that in all cases it was resolved by out-of-county agencies in the light of logic and reason.

ANYONE WHO thinks that the answer to any Columbiana County problem lies in a mid - point compromise at Lisbon just is not being realistic about plain facts. There was no airport site available or feasible at the center of an imaginary line drawn between Salem and East Liverpool.

On the other hand, arguments for a cooperative vocational or technical training program centered at Lisbon, a countywide health department and other county - oriented proposals bear much more study than some people in East Liverpool and Salem are currently willing to give.

East Liverpool — with Columbiana the first municipalities to join and financially support the Regional Planning Commission — needs no instruction on how to get new industry even if it can't be brought into the community — a number of the Hancock County industrial projects obtained with the assistance of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce and the Community Improvement Corp. testify to that.

It will do Columbiana County no good to carp about the differences between north and south; they exist and will do so for some time. But these differences should not be a handicap to the growth and improvement of the whole county.

What is needed is more attention to the areas where concrete progress can definitely be made or where planning can be started — such as countywide industrial development where some discussions have already been held by Salem and East Liverpool groups.

There is no use rehashing all the old accusations and complaints and rumors as was done at an alleged community development seminar last fall. All governmental and civic leaders should be aware of the spheres of community interest and to strive for effective cooperation that can begin to help solve the county's overall problems as soon as possible.

Games Flout Ohio Law

Ohio lawmakers have never had a clearer mandate for legislative direction than in the current drive to end service station and supermarket giveaway schemes that flout state anti-lottery laws.

A Senate committee hearing into oil company promotions shows the situation to be paradoxical. Oil companies say they do not want the games but are forced into it by competitors. Dealers are opposed to the giveaway because of its expense and deterioration of public relations. A majority of customers dislike the set up because they never win and feel that are absorbing a loss in service to make someone else a winner.

These opinions notwithstanding, the contests now are bigger than ever.

The gimmickry seemed to be on its way out last year when Atty. Gen. William B. Saxby ruled giveaway games a violation of the Ohio anti-lottery law.

It turned out to be only a false alarm as lawyers rushed in and found a loophole allowing the games to continue by offering contest cards to players who telephoned or submitted written requests.

This is brazen strategy to circumvent the intent of Ohio law. It should not be permitted to go unchallenged.

Legislators should waste no time in approving proposed legislation that would plug the loopholes and end the mockery of the anti-lottery law.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

To the thousands of people who were so worried last week when Bus No. 1 of the Columbiana County Retarded School was "not feeling well," I'm very happy to tell you my bus is "very much improved" and back on its regular run.

I don't know where the writer of the article which appeared in The Review got the information about the bus being in a collision. It's true the motor didn't run right, but the bus wasn't in a collision — for which I'm very thankful, although I have had some pretty close calls.

And incidentally, when all my "youngsters" go, I have 22, not 18.

I want to thank the people for their "get well" wishes for my bus, and I, for one, hope it stays well.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I am writing because I believe in giving praise where praise is due, and in this case City Hospital is the recipient.

I have heard so many people ridicule and downgrade our City Hospital that I am beginning to get a little sick of it, and I would like to ask those same people what they are doing to make it better. The answer is nothing but find fault and criticize those who are doing their part.

I admit our whole town could be better, but we, the people, have to make it better. As for City Hospital, it may not be the very best but I believe it to be a good one and much better than most around here. I don't know what the people would do without it — and I mean those same people who run it down and find fault with it.

I have been a patient at City Hospital several times — three times since September — and I have not seen any of the conditions mentioned in a letter in Tuesday's Review. This person surely was speaking of the old section of the hospital which really isn't all that bad either. True, it is old and not as nice as the new wings, but the whole hospital should not be judged by one floor or one section.

As for the [illegible] patients, one should realize [illegible] the hospital has been very busy this winter, and it has been necessary to put patients in the hall for a short time until a bed is available. But can the sick and injured be turned away? No.

Our hospital has been called a disgrace to the city. In my opinion City Hospital is the best thing in this town. It is some of the people who are a disgrace to the city, and not our hospital.

I for one am grateful that we have as fine a hospital as we do, and I believe it will become better and better until one day it will be such that none can find fault or speak a word against it.

In my opinion the surroundings are not as important to the sick as the care they get, and the very best care is given at City Hospital. I say this because, being a patient there often, I know. I couldn't have asked for or received better care anywhere than I received while there. I am grateful to the entire staff and management of the hospital, the nurses, the aides and everyone connected with the hospital who made my stay there so pleasant.

There is one thing our hospital has that we can be proud of, and that is some very fine, dedicated doctors. In closing I want to say that I believe City Hospital, its administration and all who are connected with it are worthy of our praise.

Rocky Wants Labor Backing

WASHINGTON — The new left in the Republican party has had its agent on the Florida gold coast mixing with the new class.

As befits the envoy of Nelson Rockefeller to the high command of American labor, the good-will ambassador has had an inexpensive lower floor room in the movement's winter White House, the Hotel Americana, Bal Harbour, Fla., where the AFL - CIO Executive Council has been meeting.

Victor Riesel

Rockefeller's man, a soft-spoken gentle chap who once waited on tables at Dartmouth, Victor Borella, is on a mission which will have its impact on what is known on the campus as our national destiny.

Borella is there, in a clime so different from his native New England, to make certain that America's most influential labor leaders just don't forget that it was Gov. Nelson Rockefeller who flatly refused to dispatch the National Guard into New York City, garbage or no garbage.

Borella will accomplish his mission. He is unique for many reasons. He doesn't look like the kind of skate with whom the labor leaders, controlling millions in money and manpower, are convivial. But they are — and often.

He is an intimate friend of union leaders who are the hard core of New York labor — the building and construction trades. For decades Borella was executive vice president of Rockefeller Center, and so was the man who dealt directly in hundreds of millions of dollars worth of new construction. And, he did not automate the Center's elevators.

BUT MORE — He is close to leaders to white collar unions, the steelworkers and other policy makers. Officially he is a New York State labor consultant. But unofficially he is close to the "family" — meaning all the Rockefellers.

Furthermore, he is the only man any of the Republican contenders has who can call so many labor leaders by their first names and be received by them as a trusted friend.

Thus, what Nelson Rockefeller lost in the short run among potential national convention delegates and the governors who control them, Vic Borella may well win back in the long run ending early in August.

Borella may well return to the New York governor's Fifth Ave. home with strong private pledges of support regardless of what the AFL-CIO 29-man Executive Council is saying publicly.

Thus, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller will be able to claim in Miami Beach's smoke-filled rooms next August, that — as in his 1966 gubernatorial race — powerful labor unions will support him with manpower, money and literature while giving the usual lip service to the Democratic opponent.

MR. ROCKEFELLER THEN can bargain with those who believe that no Republican can win without carrying New York State — by claiming that he is the one Republican who can swing a powerful labor machine into action.

Why can he do this? There's far more than garbage involved. There's an untold story.

The governor now is making it possible for the labor movement to push its organization drive in the land's most fertile membership field — public employment. There are between seven and eight million non-federal public service employes — in the nation's townships, cities, districts (sanitary, etc.), and on state and county payrolls.

In New York alone the figure runs to some 900,000. Only some 250,000 are unionized. At least 26 unions want a piece of this action.

If they succeed — and it merely takes political influence in some areas — they will have made the greatest single membership gain since old King Coal, the 88-year-old John L. Lewis, massed his legions outside the steel mills, and walked out of Franklin D. Roosevelt's bedroom with a made-to-order contract that launched the CIO.

At first Nelson Rockefeller had missed the ploy and play. Last Nov. 15 he recognized the bitterly anti-AFL-CIO independent Civil Service Employes Assn. as the exclusive bargaining agent for virtually all N.Y. State employes, thereby freezing out the big labor federation. Victor Borella was up at his farm and was caught short. Then the AFL-CIO leaders got off some Anglo-Saxon language LeRoi Jones has not yet dreamed of.

SO ON DEC. 18, just a few days after the national AFL-CIO convention recessed amid sulphurous fumes which filled the hall on the mention of Rockefeller's name, the governor invited AFL-CIO president George Meany and the three most influential state labor leaders to his Manhattan office. They talked for 90 minutes.

After they left, the state union chiefs unveiled the New York State AFL-CIO Public Employes Joint Organizing Council, thereby giving Mr. Rockefeller a chance to switch, and negotiate with them instead of the rival independent civil service outfit.

If the AFL-CIO people can, with one maneuver, gather in hundreds of thousands of public service employes, first in the state employ, and then move on to county, city and town workers, Mr. Rockefeller will have made some powerful allies, Lyndon Johnson or not.

But vital, too, is Gov. Rockefeller's comment, as he saw Meany and company to the door that December day. When asked why the national labor president was there, he retorted:

"... because what happens in New York State is going to influence what happens nationwide."

Some 900,000 public service employes make a tempting goal.

Obviously garbage was just a symbol of things to come. Special agent Victor Borella is telling the union chiefs Nelson Rockefeller is the workingman's best friend.

The Unemployed

While the federal government is developing plans to increase opportunities for employment, there is recognition that many of the idle do not possess a "will to work."

Percentages are issued from time to time by government bureaus which state, for example, that the unemployment rate at present is somewhere between 3.5 and 4 per cent.

But when the fine print is examined, it is discovered that, "as of any one time," an average of about three million people are unemployed — that is, looking for work and unable to find it. Indeed, there are 10 million unemployed "at one time or another during the year."

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, in testifying before a joint committee of the Senate and House, refers also to "a so far uncounted number of additional people who ought to be working but who for one reason or another are not 'looking for work' and therefore are not included in the traditional 'unemployment' statistics."

HE POINTS out, too, that a heavy concentration of the unemployed is found among "minority groups" and youth in certain areas, particularly urban and rural slums.

What is being realized at last is that there are, as Mr. Wirtz says, problems of "unemployment" which are essentially more "personal" than "economic." Efforts are being made to develop new methods which would identify and measure this type of unemployment and operating programs to deal with it.

It is noted, for instance, that Negro and other minority groups have an unemployment rate, particularly in big cities, twice as large as that of the white workers.

Teen-agers also had an average of 12.9 per cent unemployment in 1967, which is not much of an improvement over 1961. Likewise, nonfarm laborers had an average rate of 7.6 per cent.

So when fragmentary news dispatches from Washington speak of a 3.5 per cent unemployment rate, it must be borne in mind there are approximately 11 million persons who "experience joblessness at some time during the year." Of these, more than a million are unemployed for a total of at least half a year.

As reasons for this situation are examined, it is found that hundreds of thousands of men and women are not working "because of remediable physical and emotional handicaps."

Secretary Wirtz says:

"Others are not looking for work because they lack the basic minimum of literacy or skill, or have been repeatedly rebuffed, or cannot find transportation to where the jobs are located, or cannot find child-care facilities. Still others have only part-time work although they need and are looking for full-time employment. Millions with full-time jobs cannot earn enough to support their families decently."

There is still another grouping — those who are so "estranged from the world of work" or are so "convinced they will be barred from work" they do not seek jobs. At least one out of three residents in the slums was found to have a serious problem related to employment.

THE ADMINISTRATION is urging that there be an active cooperation of business, labor and other community interests, and that projects be initiated to provide a wide range of counseling, health, education and training services as needed by the individuals.

It is also recommended that a form of follow-up assistance be introduced so as to assure that "a job, once obtained, will not quickly be lost."

During the depression days of the 1930's, "Made work" by the government itself was not a success. The current effort is being directed toward more cooperation between business and the workers.

During the depression days of the 1930's, "made work" by the government itself was not a success. The current effort is being directed toward more cooperation between business and the workers.

This will necessitate re-examination of the ill effects of the federal minimum-wage law, which often makes it uneconomic to hire certain individuals at the rates of pay prescribed. There are also restrictions placed by labor unions on selection of employes.

All of these factors will have to be given thorough study by the government before substantial progress can be made in handling unemployment.

Rocky Wants Labor Backing

WASHINGTON — The new left in the Republican party has had its agent on the Florida gold coast mixing with the new class.

As befits the envoy of Nelson Rockefeller to the high command of American labor, the good-will ambassador has had an inexpensive lower floor room in the movement's winter White House, the Hotel Americana, Bal Harbour, Fla., where the AFL - CIO Executive Council has been meeting.

Victor Riesel

Rockefeller's man, a soft-spoken gentle chap who once waited on tables at Dartmouth, Victor Borella, is on a mission which will have its impact on what is known on the campus as our national destiny.

Borella is there, in a clime so different from his native New England, to make certain that America's most influential labor leaders just don't forget that it was Gov. Nelson Rockefeller who flatly refused to dispatch the National Guard into New York City, garbage or no garbage.

Borella will accomplish his mission. He is unique for many reasons. He doesn't look like the kind of skate with whom the labor leaders, controlling millions in money and manpower, are convivial. But they are — and often.

He is an intimate friend of union leaders who are the hard core of New York labor — the building and construction trades. For decades Borella was executive vice president of Rockefeller Center, and so was the man who dealt directly in hundreds of millions of dollars worth of new construction. And, he did not automate the Center's elevators.

BUT MORE — He is close to leaders to white collar unions, the steelworkers and other policy makers. Officially he is a New York State labor consultant. But unofficially he is close to the "family" — meaning all the Rockefellers.

Furthermore, he is the only man any of the Republican contenders has who can call so many labor leaders by their first names and be received by them as a trusted friend.

Thus, what Nelson Rockefeller lost in the short run among potential national convention delegates and the governors who control them, Vic Borella may well win back in the long run ending early in August.

Borella may well return to the New York governor's Fifth Ave. home with strong private pledges of support regardless of what the AFL-CIO 29-man Executive Council is saying publicly.

Thus, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller will be able to claim in Miami Beach's smoke-filled rooms next August, that — as in his 1966 gubernatorial race — powerful labor unions will support him with manpower, money and literature while giving the usual lip service to the Democratic opponent.

MR. ROCKEFELLER THEN can bargain with those who believe that no Republican can win without carrying New York State — by claiming that he is the one Republican who can swing a powerful labor machine into action.

Why can he do this? There's far more than garbage involved. There's an untold story.

The governor now is making it possible for the labor movement to push its organization drive in the land's most fertile membership field — public employment. There are between seven and eight million non-federal public service employes — in the nation's townships, cities, districts (sanitary, etc.), and on state and county payrolls.

In New York alone the figure runs to some 900,000. Only some 250,000 are unionized. At least 26 unions want a piece of this action.

If they succeed — and it merely takes political influence in some areas — they will have made the greatest single membership gain since old King Coal, the 88-year-old John L. Lewis, massed his legions outside the steel mills, and walked out of Franklin D. Roosevelt's bedroom with a made-to-order contract that launched the CIO.

At first Nelson Rockefeller had missed the ploy and play. Last Nov. 15 he recognized the bitterly anti-AFL-CIO independent Civil Service Employes Assn. as the exclusive bargaining agent for virtually all N.Y. State employes, thereby freezing out the big labor federation. Victor Borella was up at his farm and was caught short. Then the AFL-CIO leaders got off some Anglo-Saxon language LeRoi Jones has not yet dreamed of.

SO ON DEC. 18, just a few days after the national AFL-CIO convention recessed amid sulphurous fumes which filled the hall on the mention of Rockefeller's name, the governor invited AFL-CIO president George Meany and the three most influential state labor leaders to his Manhattan office. They talked for 90 minutes.

After they left, the state union chiefs unveiled the New York State AFL-CIO Public Employes Joint Organizing Council, thereby giving Mr. Rockefeller a chance to switch, and negotiate with them instead of the rival independent civil service outfit.

If the AFL-CIO people can, with one maneuver, gather in hundreds of thousands of public service employes, first in the state employ, and then move on to county, city and town workers, Mr. Rockefeller will have made some powerful allies, Lyndon Johnson or not.

But vital, too, is Gov. Rockefeller's comment, as he saw Meany and company to the door that December day. When asked why the national labor president was there, he retorted:

"... because what happens in New York State is going to influence what happens nationwide."

Some 800,000 public service employes make a tempting goal.

Obviously garbage was just a symbol of things to come. Special agent Victor Borella is telling the union chiefs Nelson Rockefeller is the workingman's best friend.

The Unemployed

While the federal government is developing plans to increase opportunities for employment, there is recognition that many of the idle do not possess a "will to work."

Percentages are issued from time to time by government bureaus which state, for example, that the unemployment rate at present is somewhere between 3.5 and 4 per cent.

But when the fine print is examined, it is discovered that, "as of any one time," an average of about three million people are unemployed — that is, looking for work and unable to find it. Indeed, there are 10 million unemployed "at one time or another during the year."

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, in testifying before a joint committee of the Senate and House, refers also to "a so far uncounted number of additional people who ought to be working but who for one reason or another are not 'looking for work' and therefore are not included in the traditional 'unemployment' statistics."

HE POINTS out, too, that a heavy concentration of the unemployed is found among "minority groups" and youth in certain areas, particularly urban and rural slums.

What is being realized at last is that there are, as Mr. Wirtz says, problems of "unemployment" which are essentially more "personal" than "economic." Efforts are being made to develop new methods which would identify and measure this type of unemployment and operating programs to deal with it.

It is noted, for instance, that Negro and other minority groups have an unemployment rate, particularly in big cities, twice as large as that of the white workers.

Teen-agers also had an average of 12.9 per cent unemployment in 1967, which is not much of an improvement over 1961. Likewise, nonfarm laborers had an average rate of 7.6 per cent.

So when fragmentary news dispatches from Washington speak of a 3.5 per cent unemployment rate, it must be borne in mind there are approximately 11 million persons who "experience joblessness at some time during the year." Of these, more than a million are unemployed for a total of at least half a year.

As reasons for this situation are examined, it is found that hundreds of thousands of men and women are not working "because of remediable physical and emotional handicaps."

Secretary Wirtz says:

"Others are not looking for work because they lack the basic minimum of literacy or skill, or have been repeatedly rebuffed, or cannot find transportation to where the jobs are located, or cannot find child-care facilities. Still others have only part-time work although they need and are looking for full-time employment. Millions with full-time jobs cannot earn enough to support their families decently."

There is still another grouping — those who are so "estranged from the world of work" or are so "convinced they will be barred from work" they do not seek jobs. At least one out of three residents in the slums was found to have a serious problem related to employment.

THE ADMINISTRATION is urging that there be an active cooperation of business, labor and other community interests, and that projects be initiated to provide a wide range of counseling, health, education and training services as needed by the individuals.

It is also recommended that a form of follow-up assistance be introduced so as to assure that "a job, once obtained, will not quickly be lost."

During the depression days of the 1930's, "Made work" by the government itself was not a success. The current effort is being directed toward more cooperation between business and the workers.

During the depression days of the 1930's, "made work" by the government itself was not a success. The current effort is being directed toward more cooperation between business and the workers.

This will necessitate re-examination of the ill effects of the federal minimum-wage law, which often makes it uneconomic to hire certain individuals at the rates of pay prescribed. There are also restrictions placed by labor unions on selection of employes.

All of these factors will have to be given thorough study by the government before substantial progress can be made in handling unemployment.

Museum At Chicago Visited By 60 Million

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's number one tourist attraction — the Museum of Science and Industry — has welcomed its 60 millionth visitor.

It attracted its army of guests in only slightly more than 34 years.

Opened in July 1933, when Chicago was staging the first year of its Century of Progress world's fair, the annual visitation is nearing the 3¼ million mark.

The museum owes its world renown to the foresight of the late Julius Rosenwald, merchant-millionaire. His $8 million endowment in the mid-1920s, plus a $5 million bond issue and donations by school children and women's clubs, made it possible.

It was created by the rehabilitation of the Fine Arts building of the Columbian Exposition of 1893.

Museum At Chicago Visited By 60 Million

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's number one tourist attraction — the Museum of Science and Industry — has welcomed its 60 millionth visitor.

It attracted its army of guests in only slightly more than 34 years.

Opened in July 1933, when Chicago was staging the first year of its Century of Progress world's fair, the annual visitation is nearing the 3¼ million mark.

The museum owes its world renown to the foresight of the late Julius Rosenwald, merchant-millionaire. His $8 million endowment in the mid-1920s, plus a $5 million bond issue and donations by school children and women's clubs, made it possible.

It was created by the rehabilitation of the Fine Arts building of the Columbian Exposition of 1893.

'Tape' Machine Aids In Study Of Heart Problems

A physicians' teaching aid now in use in East Liverpool hospitals is named in memory of Myrna M. Wilderson of Leetonia, who died May 24, 1966. She left a portion of her estate to the Heart Association.

The Wilderson Tutor 102 is scheduled for use later at hospitals in Salem and in Trumbull and Mahoning counties — the area of the Heart Association of Eastern Ohio which purchased the aid.

The instrument looks like a small television set. A cartridge or tape is inserted and a voice describes the various heart conditions which are shown simultaneously on the screen through electro - cardiogram measurements.

There are different tapes, each describing four or five heart problems. The entire set runs about 30 minutes. Physicians may study them all or play a certain tape over and over, as they wish.

Nurses who work in coronary care or intensive care units will benefit from the aid since it is the skilled nurse in this unit who will monitor the device.

Club To Support Chamber Plans

The East Liverpool Toastmasters Club Wednesday night voted support of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce in various improvement projects.

The action came during a dinner meeting at the Inn Town Motel. John Dorich, Area 12 governor, was a guest.

James Lowe was presented the bull - thrower award and the most improved speaker award.

Robert Harris was toastmaster and William Frontz had tablotopics. James Steiner was chief evaluator. Giving speeches were H. R. Sneddon, Lowe, George Beck and Al Babb.

Robert Frontz, education vice president, conducted business.

Boosters Group Names Officers

Pete Allen has been named president of the Community Support League of the Stanton Little Raiders football team.

Charles Waggoner is vice president, Maureen Lawrence secretary and Susan Reese treasurer.

Earl Allen, John Grimm and John Olesky are directors. Committee chairmen are: Nancy Desper, concessions; Tom Snyder, ways and means, and Marjorie Carter, publicity.

The election was held at the group's initial meeting Thursday night at Reese's Trailer Court in Stratton. Wendell Reese acted as chairman. Russ Carter, coach, said the next meeting has been set tentatively for March 8.

Students Win Art Prizes

Merit awards were won by Larry St. Esprit, Miss Breakiron, Miss Chaffee and Miss Basta. All are students of Dan Nelson.

The exhibit is being shown at Kaufman's in Pittsburgh. It will close Saturday. Gold Key winners were guests of honor at a preview reception recently.

Miss Cowan will demonstrate mixed media at the show Saturday.

Last year's scholastic winner, James Cole Young, won a scholarship to Art Student League in New York. Lawrence F. Novak is the Midland high art teacher.

A film, "Heart Disease —Its Major Causes," was screened by Dr. Margaret Sarver of Beaver Falls at a meeting of the Midland Italian Sons and Daughters of America Tuesday night at Presentation Catholic Church lyceum. The film was provided through the Beaver County Heart Association.

Mrs. Clement Migliore, president, introduced Dr. Sarver who gave a chalk talk on the workings of the heart.

The ISDA made a donation by check to the Heart Association.

Mrs. Joseph Wirag announced plans for a dinner meeting at the Beaver County Home and Hospital March 19. A tour of the building will follow. Reservations must be made by March 11 with Mrs. Migliore, she said.

Mrs. Migliore is accepting reservations to the Fair Lady Frolic March 2 at the Pittsburgh-Hilton Hotel. A luncheon, fashion show and public card party will be held, with proceeds to be used to entertain orphans on Italian Day at Kennywood this summer.

Miss Clementine D'Angelo reported on a recent presidents and deputies meeting she and Mrs. Migliore attended at Pittsburgh. Two new lodges plan to install officers in Canada, making the ISDA an international order.

The Midland Lodge will charter buses for the presentation of I Campagnoli, a folk festival of Italian music, May 18 at the Syria Mosque.

High School debutantes will be presented at a May - time Ball May 25.

At Christmas time the ISDA sent packages of new and used infants' wear to Sacred Heart Mission at Walls, Miss. The Lodge received a thank-you letter from the mission.

The ISDA donated to WQED educational television, to the Midland Area Chamber of Commerce Christmas lighting project, and to the Vietnam CARE Relief Fund.

Mrs. Wirag and Mrs. Steve Vranich headed the social committee which included Mrs Francis Galioto, Mrs. Nancy Galioto, Mrs. Dan Bellay, Mrs. Sullivan Tonti, Mrs. Michael Galovic and Mrs. John Bronic.

Columbiana County Farmers Reminded Of Crops' Sign-Up

LISBON — Columbiana County farmers have until March 15 to sign for participation in the 1968 feed grain and wheat programs.

J. Glenn Bates, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, says farmers who wish to take part in the program should file their applications early at the ASCS office in the Gello Building on the Square.

Under the feed grain program for 1968, farmers may earn diversion and price - support payments as well as qualify for price - support loans on their crop.

Feed grain diversion payments will be available to all program participants this year. The wheat program provides price-support loans and marketing certificates which bring returns up to full parity for the part of the wheat crop allocated for domestic use. No diversion payment is available for wheat.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

Acceptable Worship

We are quite sure that all of the people who worship God expect that their worship will be pleasing to God and accepted by Him. However, it is quite clear to the student of the Bible that God is not happy with all of the worship that is offered to Him.

The old Testament abounds with examples that show that God is not pleased with all of the efforts of men to worship Him. Notice for example the account of the worship of Cain and Abel. We read these words in Gen. 4: 2-5. " . . . And Abel was a keeper of sheep, but Cain was a tiller of the ground. And in the process of time it came to pass, that Cain brought of the fruit of the ground an offering unto the Lord. And Abel also brought of the firstlings of his flock and of the fat thereof. And the Lord had respect unto Abel and to his offering: but unto Cain and to his offering he had not respect." This question then comes to our mind, Why did God accept the offering of Abel and refuse the offering of Cain? Remember that there is nothing to indicate that Cain was not sincere. The reason for the rejection of Cain's offering is explained in Heb. 11:4. Here we learn that the offering of Abel was pleasing to God because of the fact that it was offered by faith. Thus Cain's offering was not by faith. Since faith comes by hearing the word of God (Rom. 10:17) we conclude that Abel did what God commanded and that Cain did not. Cain was rejected because of the fact that he did not do as God commanded. He did not offer his sacrifice by faith.

The New Testament also gives accounts that show that God is not happy with all of the worship that is offerred unto Him. This is the reason then that Jesus explained concerning acceptable worship to the woman of Samaria in Jno. 4:24. In this verse we are told that worship that pleases God must be in spirit and in truth. To worship in truth is to worship according to those things we read about in the word of God (Jno. 17:17). To worship in spirit means that our heart is in what we are doing. (Mt. 15:8,9.).

Are you sure that the things you are doing in your worship are pleasing to God? How sad it would be to spend your lifetime in offering worship unto God that is not acceptable. We must be sure that the things we are doing are pleasing to God.

'Tape' Machine Aids In Study Of Heart Problems

A physicians' teaching aid now in use in East Liverpool hospitals is named in memory of Myrna M. Wilderson of Leetonia, who died May 24, 1966. She left a portion of her estate to the Heart Association.

The Wilderson Tutor 102 is scheduled for use later at hospitals in Salem and in Trumbull and Mahoning counties — the area of the Heart Association of Eastern Ohio which purchased the aid.

The instrument looks like a small television set. A cartridge or tape is inserted and a voice describes the various heart conditions which are shown simultaneously on the screen through electro - cardiogram measurements.

There are different tapes, each describing four or five heart problems. The entire set runs about 30 minutes. Physicians may study them all or play a certain tape over and over, as they wish.

Nurses who work in coronary care or intensive care units will benefit from the aid since it is the skilled nurse in this unit who will monitor the device.

Club To Support Chamber Plans

The East Liverpool Toastmasters Club Wednesday night voted support of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce in various improvement projects.

The action came during a dinner meeting at the Inn Town Motel. John Dorich, Area 12 governor, was a guest.

James Lowe was presented the bull - thrower award and the most improved speaker award.

Robert Harris was toastmaster and William Frontz had tabletopics. James Steiner was chief evaluator. Giving speeches were H. R. Sneddon, Lowe, George Beck and Al Babb.

Robert Frontz, education vice president, conducted business.

Boosters Group Names Officers

Pete Allen has been named president of the Community Support League of the Stanton Little Raiders football team.

Charles Waggoner is vice president, Maureen Lawrence secretary and Susan Reese treasurer.

Earl Allen, John Grimm and John Olesky are directors. Committee chairmen are: Nancy Desper, concessions; Tom Snyder, ways and means, and Marjorie Carter, publicity.

The election was held at the group's initial meeting Thursday night at Reese's Trailer Court in Stratton. Wendell Reese acted as chairman. Russ Carter, coach, said the next meeting has been set tentatively for March 8.

Students Win Art Prizes

Merit awards were won by Larry St. Esprit, Miss Breakiron, Miss Chaffee and Miss Basta. All are students of Dan Nelson.

The exhibit is being shown at Kaufman's in Pittsburgh. It will close Saturday. Gold Key winners were guests of honor at a preview reception recently.

Miss Cowan will demonstrate mixed media at the show Saturday.

Merit winners from Midland Lincoln High School were Tom Doyle and John DeNardo, seniors, and Robert Swinker, Phillip Taylor and Robert Krakar, juniors. The junior high winners were George Lavrusky, Charles Craik and John Liberatore.

Last year's scholastic winner, James Cole Young, won a scholarship to Art Student League in New York. Lawrence F. Novak is the Midland high art teacher.

Midland Area News

Mrs. Charles McClure 643-1130

A film, "Heart Disease —Its Major Causes," was screened by Dr. Margaret Sarver of Beaver Falls at a meeting of the Midland Italian Sons and Daughters of America Tuesday night at Presentation Catholic Church lyceum. The film was provided through the Beaver County Heart Association.

Mrs. Clement Migliore, president, introduced Dr. Sarver who gave a chalk talk on the workings of the heart.

The ISDA made a donation by check to the Heart Association.

Mrs. Joseph Wirag announced plans for a dinner meeting at the Beaver County Home and Hospital March 19. A tour of the building will follow. Reservations must be made by March 11 with Mrs. Migliore, she said.

Mrs. Migliore is accepting reservations to the Fair Lady Frolic March 2 at the Pittsburgh-Hilton Hotel. A luncheon, fashion show and public card party will be held, with proceeds to be used to entertain orphans on Italian Day at Kennywood this summer.

Miss Clementine D'Angelo reported on a recent presidents and deputies meeting she and Mrs. Migliore attended at Pittsburgh. Two new lodges plan to install officers in Canada, making the ISDA an international order.

The Midland Lodge will charter buses for the presentation of I Campagnoli, a folk festival of Italian music, May 18 at the Syria Mosque.

High School debutantes will be presented at a May - time Ball May 25.

At Christmas time the ISDA sent packages of new and used infants' wear to Sacred Heart Mission at Walls, Miss. The Lodge received a thank-you letter from the mission.

The ISDA donated to WQED educational television, to the Midland Area Chamber of Commerce Christmas lighting project, and to the Vietnam CARE Relief Fund.

Mrs. Wirag and Mrs. Steve Vranich headed the social committee which included Mrs Francis Galioto, Mrs. Nancy Galioto, Mrs. Dan Bellay, Mrs. Sullivan Tonti, Mrs. Michael Galovic and Mrs. John Brozic.

Columbiana County Farmers Reminded Of Crops' Sign-Up

LISBON — Columbiana County farmers have until March 15 to sign for participation in the 1968 feed grain and wheat programs.

J. Glenn Bates, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, says farmers who wish to take part in the program should file their applications early at the ASCS office in the Gallo Building on the Square.

Under the feed grain program for 1968, farmers may earn diversion and price - support payments as well as qualify for price - support loans on their crop.

Feed grain diversion payments will be available to all program participants this year. The wheat program provides price-support loans and marketing certificates which bring returns up to full parity for the part of the wheat crop allocated for domestic use. No diversion payment is available for wheat.

Acceptable Worship

We are quite sure that all of the people who worship God expect that their worship will be pleasing to God and accepted by Him. However, it is quite clear to the student of the Bible that God is not happy with all of the worship that is offered to Him.

The old Testament abounds with examples that show that God is not pleased with all of the efforts of men to worship Him. Notice for example the account of the worship of Cain and Abel. We read these words in Gen. 4: 2-5. " . . . And Abel was a keeper of sheep, but Cain was a tiller of the ground. And in the process of time it came to pass, that Cain brought of the fruit of the ground an offering unto the Lord. And Abel also brought of the firstlings of his flock and of the fat thereof. And the Lord had respect unto Abel and to his offering: but unto Cain and to his offering he had not respect." This question then comes to our mind, Why did God accept the offering of Abel and refuse the offering of Cain? Remember that there is nothing to indicate that Cain was not sincere. The reason for the rejection of Cain's offering is explained in Heb. 11:4. Here we learn that the offering of Abel was pleasing to God because of the fact that it was offered by faith. Thus Cain's offering was not by faith. Since faith comes by hearing the word of God (Rom. 10:17) we conclude that Abel did what God commanded and that Cain did not. Cain was rejected because of the fact that he did not do as God commanded. He did not offer his sacrifice by faith.

The New Testament also gives accounts that show that God is not happy with all of the worship that is offerred unto Him. This is the reason then that Jesus explained concerning acceptable worship to the woman of Samaria in Jno. 4:24. In this verse we are told that worship that pleases God must be in spirit and in truth. To worship in truth is to worship according to those things we read about in the word of God (Jno. 17:17). To worship in spirit means that our heart is in what we are doing. (Mt. 15:8,9.).

Are you sure that the things you are doing in your worship are pleasing to God? How sad it would be to spend your lifetime in offering worship unto God that is not acceptable. We must be sure that the things we are doing are pleasing to God.

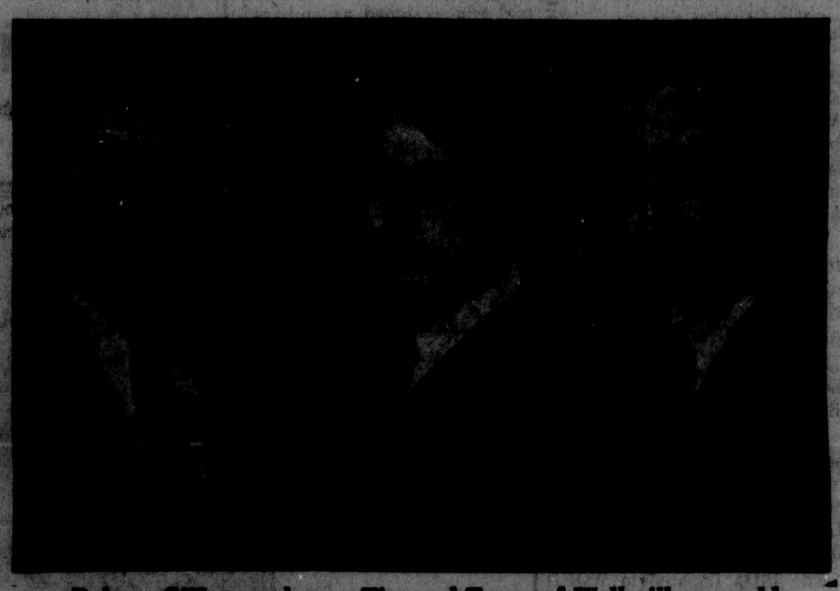
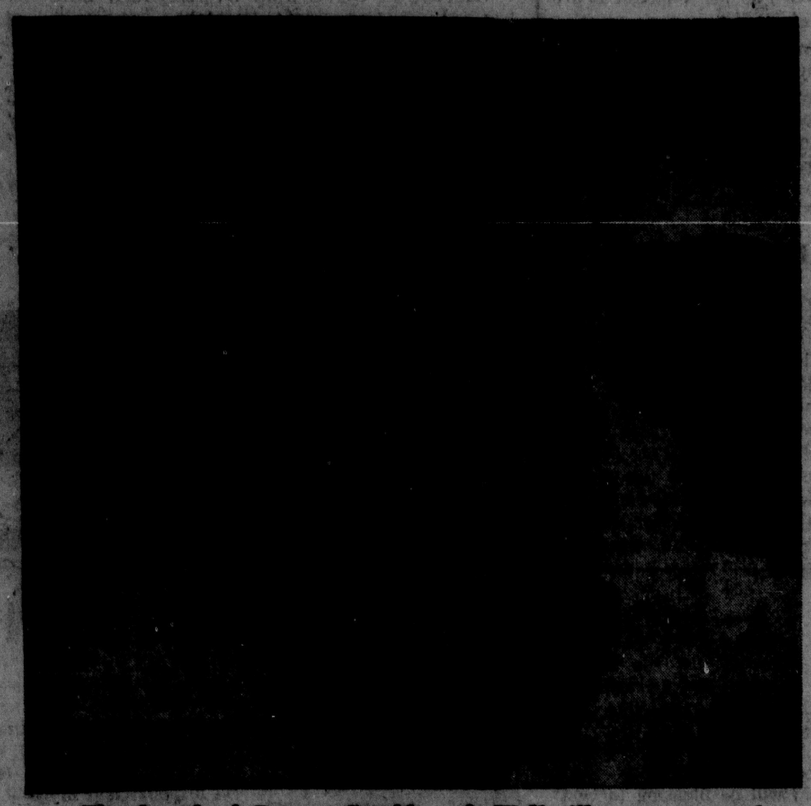
To Beard Or Not To Beard

By LIDA SMITH

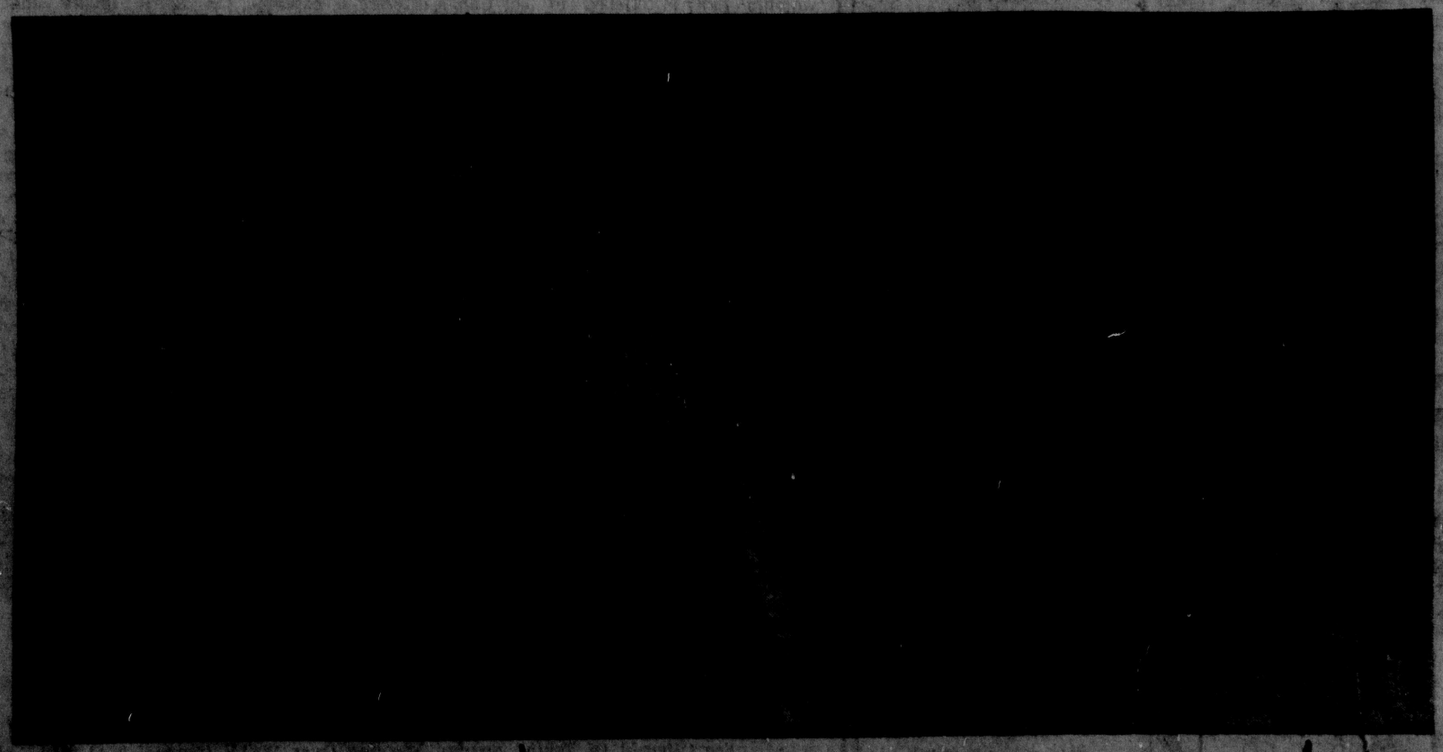
Pete Russell of Wellsville, philosophy student, has the look of an ancient prophet about him.



Delmar O'Hara and sons, Tim and Terry, of Wellsville resemble 19th Century family portrait.



The beard of Danny Cataldo of Wellsville was termed a "hazard," and had to be shaved.



Review printers Tom Seevers, Chuck Campbell and Don Perkins, who grow whiskers in a church contest, received a quick trim from fellow employe Pat Delp, fun who is not enthusiastic about hairiness.

"They grow on you," Burl Ives, nationally-known bewhiskered folk singer once said when queried about beards.

And so, it seems, beards are growing on many heretofore cleanshaven chins of area men. Although receiving a lot of attention through "hippies" coming of age, a sign-of-the-times it is not.

In Biblical times the "in" group wore beards. The hair on their heads was worn at a length that would challenge Britain's Beatles — but that's another story.

Through the years men have been known to term facial hair repulsive and evil or fashionable as society demanded. In Egypt, beards were frizzed, dyed, hennaed and even plaited with golden thread. False beards, or "postiches," were worn to denote sovereignty.

The Incas of South America had distaste for facial hair, from what historical sources indicate. When the hirsute Spaniards first appeared in the New World, they were called the "bearded ones."

During the Renaissance, both cleanshaven and stubbled faces could be seen.

With the 20th Century lip foliage a la Charlie Chaplin, Hitler and Keenan Wynn moustaches was witnessed, and now protest marchers, hippies and even statesmen have sprouted fascinating growths.

FOR SOME reason, a moustache seems to add dignity to the public image of the mature man but creates a "hippie" out of a young beard-bearer. It doesn't seem fair to judge a man by preference to wear a beard, but that's the way it is.

An important day arrives in a man's life when he decides to "let his hair down," so-to-speak. If he's single and still living at home, he has to overcome the ridicule of sisters, the open disapproval of mother, the silent admiration of younger brothers, a wistful sigh from a father who knows what it's all about. . . and perhaps, most deflating, a giggle from his girl friend!

A married male, however faces different problems. He has to have an understanding employer or else must find one.

The "little woman" in this case, is another stumbling block. She generally decides whether or not the "thing"—as she calls it—goes or stays.

STARTING THE stubble is the first step in an endless cycle of upkeep. The wearer must decide what he will grow — Moustache beard, mutton chips, goatee or some combination. He will find himself getting up earlier in the mornings to shave around the masterpiece, his pride and joy.

Area men have offered several suggestions from grooming, including the use of hair tonic as a softening and controling agent (a little dab'll do ya'), cuticul scissors for trims and a professional clip occasionally to keep things in line.

The neck area is fairly simple, they say, and is shaved in the same old way. With a beard or mutton chops, the cheeks are the most difficult. One slip of the blade and a chunk of the beard — and several weeks work is lost in a most noticeable area.

A hot cloth to remove the lather makes way for the next step in the process. A fine-toothed comb is used to straighten the hairs as they can be evened up with scissors. A little hair preparation to keep the beard "down" finishes the job until the end of the week.

A PRIME EXAMPLE of a family of decision is that of Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara of Wellsville. O'Hara himself wears a neat beard along the jaw line, minus a moustache, started in July 1966 when he and his wife undertook a world trip.

He said it was not by choice that he let his beard grow. At the time an airline strike was on and his luggage with razor mislaid. O'Hara noted that throughout the remainder of the trip he was taken for an Englishman, and discovered quite a favorable difference in prices of merchandise.

He first grew a beard for a Wellsville anniversary celebration in 1951. In 1963, he grew another one for the re-enactment of Confederate General John Morgan's capture.

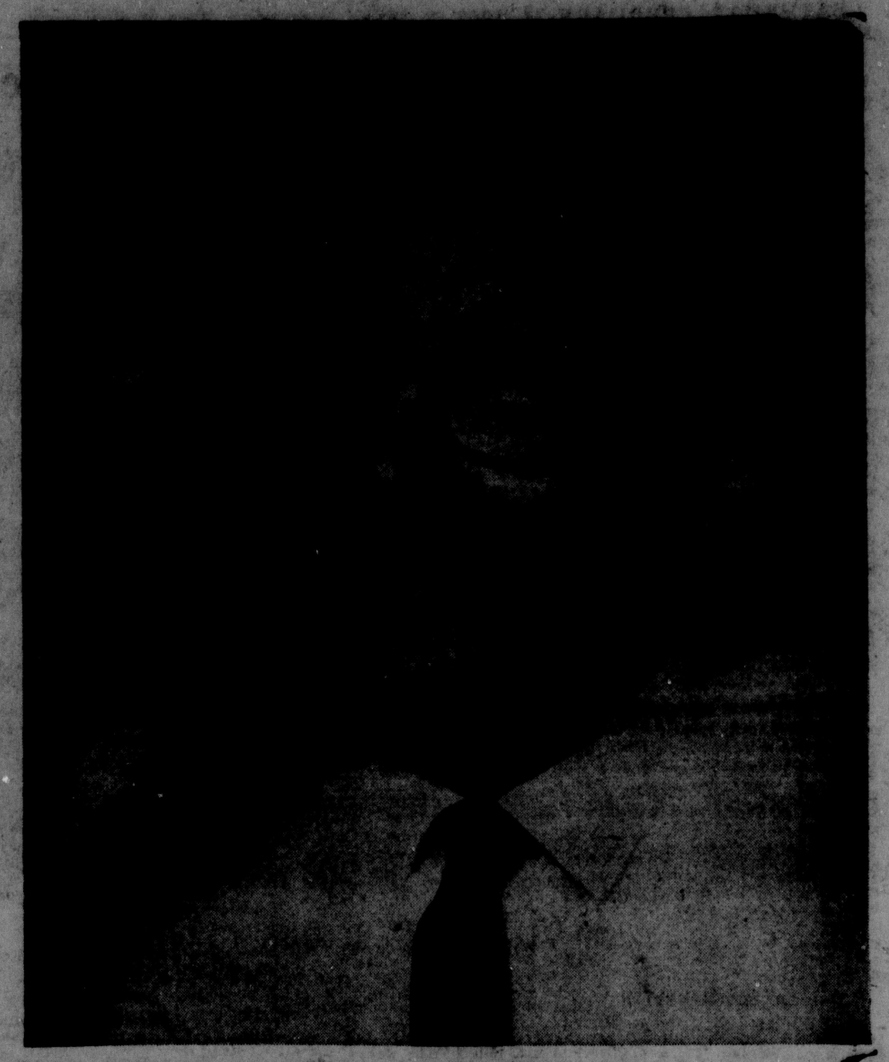
O'Hara says his wife likes his beard. She must be a real fan, because both of their sons, Terry, 20, and Tim, 19 also have them!

Terry, a sophomore at Kent State University Extention here, sports "mutton chops." The 'chops', also called "Piccadilly weepers," were very popular during the Victorian period with the London Set.

MUTTON CHOPS appear as overgrown sideburns, which by the way, received their name from the U. S. Civil War General Ambrose Burnside. Terry O'Hara, delicately featured with wavy hair, carries off the style quite well, appearing very "English." He's had the "chops" since Christmas.

Tim O'Hara, a freshman in pre - med at Mt. Union College, wears a full beard with a sparse moustache. His chin is exposed, thus completely opposite from the style of his father.

Raymond Wright of 419½ Thompson Ave. has had his beard about ten years. His wife likes it, and Wright said, "It's just me." A deckhand on the towboat "Susan," Wright attends a computer school at McKinley Heights, Ohio. His daughter, Tracy Jo, 1, must like her daddy's beard too, or it probably wouldn't have lasted this long!



Artist Marvin Triguba of Park Way twirls his moustache which is almost a family tradition.

Another well - known face around this area is that of Patrolman Orin Smith Jr. of Fairview St., city policeman. A friend of just about everybody, Smith has had his moustache 20 years — since he was an Army Military Policeman at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

Mrs. Smith who says she accepts the moustache, has been "conditioned." Her father - in - law, Orin Smith of 220 E. 3rd St., and her 16-year-old son, David, also wear them!

Denny Cataldo, 20, of Riverside Ave., Wellsville, has since had to shave off his beard and moustache. The growth, begun in September, was termed a hazard by his superiors at the Midland Division of Crucible Steel Co., though to whom it was a hazard was never actually explained.

PETE RUSSELL of Russell Heights, Wellsville, is a philosophy student in graduate school at Ohio State University. His wirey - looking beard and moustache seem to fit in with his field of study "more philosopher, less 'hippie.'"

Three Review employes, all of East Liverpool and all members of the Boyce Methodist Church in East End, removed their beards in January after a hairy victory over the First Christian Church membership contest.

Chuck Campbell, Tom Seevers and Don Perkins, printers, grew the beards for two months to draw interest in the church. And with those beards, the fellas caught everyone's eye!

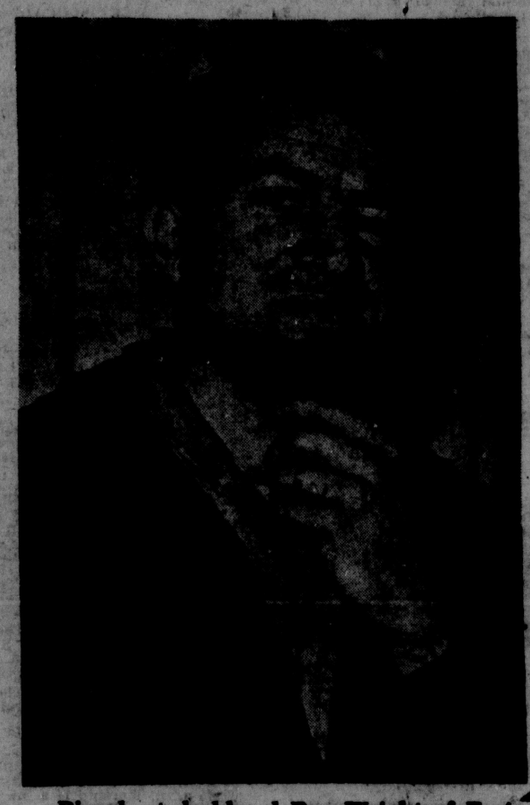
Marvin Triguba of Park Way has had his moustache two years. His father, Henry Triguba of Cleveland, and other members of his family have worn moustaches and beards, but Triguba said he thinks that tradition was a secondary influence on his choice. Primarily, he said, facial hair is a way of preserving individuality and retaining a certain identity.

Director of graphic design at Taylor, Smith and Taylor Co. pottery, Triguba spends his spare time as a portrait painter. He and his wife, Anne, hold art classes in their home for "weekend" painters. First begun while Triguba was on vacation, the moustache stirred a great deal of kidding when he returned to work. But he kept it, and has joined the ranks of his ancestors!

Tom Davidson of Clark Ave., Wellsville, only began growing his beard and accompanying moustache New Year's Day, yet by this week he had a full, heavy growth that would've made Socrates proud! A photographer of Horsley's Studios, he was the perfect choice to snap some of these "beard" feature shots!!

Davidson, who shaved off his beard Wednesday, said that he found that people who formerly spoke to him on the street, ignored him when he had the beard. He stayed for many reasons, though primarily ignoring him wasn't one of them, he said.

All in all, it appears that a man's decision to grow a beard is ultimately his own—but how long he keeps it is a matter of upkeep, patience and time!



Riverboat deckhand Ray Wright of East Liverpool looks like a New England sailor.

A familiar moustache in East Liverpool is that of Patrolman Orin Smith.

Tom Davidson, young East Liverpool photographer, "aged" with his full beard.

Outdoor Notes

This is the time of year when fishermen wish spring would hurry along. It's just sort of a gap between seasons and leaves a lot to be desired.

It shouldn't be too long, though, before fishermen can take to the streams and lakes. Sucker fishing should be good very shortly. The sucker run is one sure sign that summer is coming.

There still is some very good ice fishing around Ohio and Pennsylvania. The recent cold snap has been pure joy to those who like to perch themselves on a frozen lake and jig a lure or bait through a small hole in the ice.

I had planned on ice fishing at Lake Erie this year, but didn't make it. Maybe next year.

Hunting season in Ohio ends today. Grouse was the last legal game for Buckeye hunters.

THIS WAS A GOOD year for grouse hunting. They seemed plentiful. Don McFarland of Holiday St. and I each got one last Saturday. We flushed six birds.

A week before we flushed eight or nine and got none.

Five birds flushed at once Saturday, a little unusual for this time of year. They were feeding on small green shoots beneath the covering of dead leaves.

When one grouse flushes, it is enough to scare you out of your wits. But, let five go out at once and it leaves you dumbfounded. Don and I each got off one shot, but didn't score until the second flush of single birds.

THE ICE ALONG BEAVER Creek is amazing. In some places there are "ice bridges" across the creek, with open water beneath.

The ice has hooved up as high as 10 feet in one or two places. The water then cut through, leaving the bridge.

The ice should make some very good settings for pictures. If you are a shutterbug, now is a good time to get some unusual shots.

RECORDS SHATTERED. Pennsylvania deer hunters made a shambles of most records during the 1967 season, harvesting more than 144,415 whitetails.

All existing records were smashed by buck hunters who tagged 78,268 deer, according to Harvey A. Roberts, Game Commissioner research division chief. The old record of 65,150 was established two years ago.

The take in Beaver County was 147 bucks and 69 antlerless deer. In Allegheny County the totals were 123 bucks and 91 antlerless. In nearby Butler County the total was 862

bucks and 999 antlerless while in Washington County the kill was 234 bucks, 200 antlerless and a bear. Lawrence County totals were 113 bucks and 47 antlerless.

Roberts says the total deer take of 144,415 is the third highest on record, eclipsed only by the 1940 figure of 188,575, harvested in a two-week season open on either sex (except spike bucks), and the 1966 tally of 171,662 taken in a six-day season for antlerless deer only.

THE 66,147 ANTLERLESS deer tagged during the past year make up the fifth highest total ever recorded in this category.

Pennsylvania's 1967 buck harvest was almost 20,000 higher than the previous year's 58,722, while the antlerless deer mark was some 6,000 above that of 1966.

Potter County, traditionally the leading deer producer, was way out in front of all other counties in 1967. The 4,899 bucks taken last fall in Potter constitute the all-time antlered deer record for a single county. Following Potter, the leading buck producing counties were Clearfield, 3,455; Centre, 2,950; Elk, 2,832, and Lycoming, 2,772.

Hunters reported tagging 3,271 antlerless deer in Potter, also high for the state. Leading counties in production of antlerless deer, after Potter, were Centre, 2,683; Warren, 2,580; Venango, 2,307, and Huntingdon, 2,010.

IN TOTAL HARVEST, Potter was tops with 8,170, Centre County was second with 5,633, and Clearfield was third with 5,353. Other counties which produced over 4,000 deer were Bradford, Clinton, Elk, Huntingdon, Lycoming, McKean, Tioga, Venango and Warren.

A breakdown of total harvest shows that 62,522 of the antlered deer had three or more points, while 15,746 were spike bucks. The antlerless harvest included 54,116 females and 12,031 males.

Roberts says further examination of the data shows that resident hunters reported tagging 69,256 of the bucks, a new record, while non-resident hunters bagged 10,769 whitetails, certainly another record.

DURING THE PAST three years, hunters have reported tagging 262,150 bucks and 160,516 antlerless deer, for a total of 362,906 whitetails. The actual harvest by hunters was far in excess of these reported figures because numerous successful hunters fail to report their kills as required by law.

With the 1967 pre-hunting season herd at or above the maximum carrying capacity of the range, the reported harvest of 144,415 animals was in keeping with the commission's management objectives.

A harvest of this magnitude will help to bring the deer population more in line with existing food supplies and keep it out of direct conflict with agricultural and timber production. While subsequent harvests will probably not attain this level, Pennsylvania will continue to provide top-notch deer hunting.

FURS BRING GOOD PRICE. The fur market is more perplexing and undependable than the New York Stock Exchange. It's almost impossible for the small trapper to pick the right time to sell his winter trapped goods.

This year, according to Jesse Weaver, District 3 supervisor, long-haired furs are in demand and their prices are good. Muskrat and mink fur are beginning to drop a little.

The approximate prices being offered for various furs are as follows: gray fox — $1.75; red fox — $4.50 to $5.00; mink — $8.00 to $8.50; muskrat — $1.05; raccoon — $3.00 to $3.25; beaver — $10.00 to $20.00; weasel — $.50, and skunk — $.25 to $.60.

FROZEN IN. A Lakewood fisherman had his fishing trip bog down recently.

The man decided to drive across the ice on Spencer Lake instead of traveling the roads to the opposite shore.

After traveling a few hundred feet, he decided the ice was not as safe as it looked, so the Volkswagen camper was turned around.

Almost immediately, the camper hit a weak spot in the ice and slowly settled in about four feet of water.

A tow truck was unsuccessful in its effort to pull it from the lake. The camper is still in Spencer Lake, "frozen in."

NOW'S THE TIME. Looking for something to do during these cold winter evenings? Haul out your fishing tackle and check the various pieces of hardware. Clean and oil your reels, check your rods for broken guides, wrappings that are unraveling and look for chipped varnish.

If you make these minor repairs right now, your tackle

will be ready and waiting for the opening of Pennsylvania's 1968 trout season on Saturday, April 13 at 5:00 A. M.

Spoons and spinner blades that have tarnished or become oxidized can be shined with a chemically treated cloth commonly used to polish the family silverware. Vinegar or cigarette ashes work fine too in restoring the original luster.

To prevent further oxidation, coat the polished surfaces with clear lacquer. Clear nail polish will also do nicely.

Don't forget the hooks. More fish that strike spoons are missed because of dulled hooks than for any other reason. Hone or file the hooks to needle sharpness. A needle sharp hook is the best insurance you can have to assist in landing that lunker.

April 13 is just a few calendar pages away. Get that hardware in shape and be ready for the great day.

You And The Law

"Since we've got two children, a new car and just bought a house, I suppose we ought to look at our will to see if any changes need to be made," Fred said to his wife.

"Good idea. I'll get the will out of the file box and we can change what's necessary right now. This is a bad television night anyway," she replied.

"Wait a minute," Fred cautioned. "We can't change the will that way. We'll have to take it to our attorney to make any legal changes."

"What for? The will is signed and witnessed. We can make the changes in ink right on the will, initial the changes and that will be O.K.—won't it?" Fred's wife replied.

"Not according to the law. We've got to make a codicil, the only legal way to change a will. Let's not ask for more trouble than we've already got," Fred replied.

FRED'S COURSE of action is correct. Only a codicil, a specific legal document, can legally alter a will. It must be drafted and signed in the same manner as a will. Two witnesses are required, just as with a will.

Corrections made to the original will, such as striking out a word or phrase, could make the entire will void. Even initialing these changes do not make them legal.

Depending on the changes needed and the complexity of the will, a codicil may not be the best answer. An entirely new will might have to be drafted.

However, if the codicil is determined to be the best answer, then it should be attached to the will so that heirs will know of the changes.

When your will was drafted, it took into account numerous factors that would relieve your family of many financial and legal problems which could come if you had no will. Don't ruin all this planning by making illegal changes.

Off The Record

The Lighter Side

By ROBERT POPP

There's a secret report tucked away in the top drawer of Lyndon Johnson's desk that explains the "bombing" of the Russian Embassy a few days ago.

After reading the brief saga, the President upped the classification from "Secret" to "Top Secret" to assure that it never come under the eyes of anyone except those in the absolute top levels of the government. He chuckled a couple of times as he dropped the report into the drawer.

The report was written on stationery of the Center for Indefensible Acrimony, one of the cover names utilized by the domestic investigative apparatus of the Central Intelligence Agency that specializes in such things as handicapping the races at Pimlico, computing the odds on a roulette wheel that's under the influence of lunar eclipses, and balancing the checking account of the director's wife.

"THIS OPERATIVE received an assignment through channels on the morning of Feb. 21 to proceed at once on uncovering the facts behind the purported bombing of the Embassy of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics," the report began. "Nothing could be done until Feb. 23 because all the federal agencies were locked up tight on Feb. 22, Washington's Birthday.

"The first suspicion that came to mind concerned a plot of possible Trotskyites. But this was ruled out almost immediately when someone called to mind that all the Trotskyites died long before Trotsky.

"We argued awhile about the incongruity of the original bolsheviks quibbling about a little incident of bomb-tossing, when they themselves used such methods as a standard item of negotiation, both domestic and foreign. But this discussion was dropped as unproductive.

"We ruled out the possibility of a CIA counter-ploy against the Embassy. Further investigation disclosed that none of the domestic security agencies was involved. Even the John Birch Society emerged with a guiltless record.

"Our best operative on physical evidence disguised himself as a Cossack, and hired a troika so as to pass unnoticed while he surveyed the grounds at the Embassy and the sidewalk immediately in front of the building. He came back with a confused jumble of evidence — a badly bent bicycle, some squares of white cardboard, a mass of tomato paste and desiccated fish and a pile of soggy dough.

"BUT THROUGH careful analysis of these clues, plus some surveillance and bugging reports, we are able to piece together step-by-step the puzzling incident at the Russian Embassy. The first and inescapable conclusion is that no bomb was set off on the window ledge, then or any other time.

"Our investigation has disclosed that about 2 a. m. on the morning of Feb. 21, the Ambassador and a host of his convivial friends telephoned a food order to a carry-out establishment within a few blocks of the Embassy.

"The ambassador, his usually surly manner unenhanced by a considerable quantity of vodka and the loss of 700 rubles to the Andorran emissary in a game of 'spit in the ocean,' told the restaurant staff in no uncertain terms that he wanted delivery of the food immediately.

"Almost two hours later, the FBI surveillance crew in the disguised bagel shop across the street noted the hurried appearance of a white-clad youth pedalling a bicycle madly and holding balanced on the handlebars a series of white cardboard containers that obviously held the foodstuffs ordered by the ambassador.

"HE HURRIED through the wide gate in front of the embassy, up the steps and through the front door, pushing the bicycle alongside. A few moments later there were wild screams of rage from the interior of the Embassy — shouts of imprecation, mingled with oaths in Russian and seven other languages.

"Then there was a tremendous noise, the sound of metal smashing against metal and a literal explosion of glass onto the sidewalk. The deliveryman and his bicycle burst through the window, propelled by the angry mob inside.

"The cardboard containers spilled onto the sidewalk. They burst — scattering pizza through the area like shrapnel. Then the Russian ambassador's head appeared in the broken window opening.

"Cold again, you capitalist dog," he shouted.

The Younger Set

Thursday will be a field day for area high school girls—when it becomes open season on their men, beginning with the dawn's early light! Leap Year Day has been awaited for weeks—indeed years—and the girls aren't going to pass up this chance to get their men. An informer warns that guys had better beware—or relax and enjoy the hunting.

WELLSVILLE RESIDENTS ARE TURTLE LOVERS!—You will be too when you buy some of the Wellsville High seniors chocolate covered "turtle" candy! At a buck-a-box, you can enjoy lots of the cashew patties . . . MUGGED—The Wellsville High Key Club is selling coffee mugs with the Tiger emblems on them. If you're lucky, you'll be able to tell whose "think drink" it is, 'cause the group will personalize the mugs! . . . GRETA GARBO? SOPHIA LOREN? Nah, that was Connie Brown who was given the complete facial at the Y-Teens meeting! The onlookers are making tracks to get their free facials too!

OH YEAH, PARENTS—By this time South Side High has recovered from Parent's Recognition night Feb. 16. The senior basketball players and cheerleaders had their parents present for inspiration. It must've worked, for South won the reserve and varsity games! Patty Suralie's mom was the lucky lady who received a dozen lovely red roses. It's a pity the flowers don't live longer, but the warm memory will remain . . . EXCHANGE DAY—Yesterday the South band tripped up to Lincoln High, Midland, and presented a concert. The majorettes accompanied them. Exactly what kind of exchange it was, no one was sure, but Midland will soon return the favor March 1 (and what else could we call an afternoon, FREE of classes?)

WHEN YOU GROW UP, what do you want to be? East Liverpool High students had to think fast when confronted with the sign-up for vocational conferences which will be held in April. In each conference, an experienced professional speaks on his type of work. Now if a girl were smart . . . architecture here she comes! . . . EIGHTH IN STATE, FIRST IN HEARTS—Congratulations are due to the Potters who ended the season eighth in the state! In an informal school poll the results showed them first in the students' hearts . . . DON'T WORRY BROADWAY—Try-outs have finally been held for Liverpool's production of "Arsenic and Old Lace." Seniors auditioned, and cast members will begin practice right away for the April presentation. Aileen Silverman, Alexandra Cycyn and Linda Alexander, along with Bill Hopper, Mac Ogilvie, Dan Dupont and Len Yanni will be spending a lot of time with James Martin and H. Keith Langden, directors, in addition to the rest of the cast. Wonder how much will get done with those "famous" couples together?

NOW YOU DON'T—The biology lab at Lincoln High, Midland, has an interesting display of transparent fish in an aquarium. John Petchel, instructor, originally put the filled tank in a window just to 'age' some water. He later placed a sign reading "Transparent Fish" to explain the tank. It must be a case of "now you see 'em, now you don't" cause a lot of folks at the school can't see them! . . . SMASHIN' FASHION—Many girls here are wearing sheer, opaque stockings, complementing their outfits. Wednesday, Stephanie Golding, senior, wore a smashing orange polka-dotted tie. . . . TUFF TEST—The Juniors have been working all week in preparation for National Merit Scholarship test given today. . . . MUFFLERED, MITTENED AND SKIING!—A mad rush for mittens, mufflers and warm slacks preceded a skiing trip to Seven Springs by the French and Lation societies.

HE SPEAKS, WE LISTEN—Judge Louis Tobin spoke Thursday at an assembly at Beaver Local High. His topic was "Problems of Columbiana County Youth." . . . SENIORS PLAN TRIP—About 35 plans to attend a senior trip to New York over Easter vacation. . . JUNIORS ARE BUSY—Plans for the prom and a candy sale are keeping the juniors hopping . . SOME PEP RALLY! The spirit was high at the Friday afternoon pep rally, held in preparation for the tourney game with Youngstown South . . .

"SHOULD THERE BE EXAMS?"—WSLI at Southern Local High presented its first public poll. The results showed 143 against and 108 for exams . . . PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT!—Southern's office practice class is on the way to perfection after all that practice making 300 letters to send to CCEA members . . . "FOR HAPPY EVERAFTERING. . "—English 12 students are happily anticipating an annual Senior English trip. This year they are going to see "Camelot" in Pittsburgh . . . . FIT TO CRY—Seniors will be fitted for caps and gowns Monday morning. Hear the tears splashing? . . . FABULOUS DANCERS!—Marie and Carol Philippi, professional dancers, presented a great show Tuesday. It was well worth the paid assembly!

BULLDOGS HONORED AT ASSEMBLY—Coach Jack Swinderman's Bulldogs of East Palestine High were honored Monday in a Tri-County assembly . . . VICTORY DANCE—The team Boosters sponsored a victory dance with a live band. Talk about dedication! . . JOE LEWIS NAMED FOR BOYS STATE—Lewis, a junior, has proved that athletics isn't the only thing in the world (but it'll do till something better comes along by accepting the nomination to attend Boys State in Columbus in August . . . . WHO'S GONNA' BE THE SWEETHEART?—The annual sweetheart dance will be held March 2 with a live bunch of entertainers. Queen candidates are: Melody Keating, freshman; Kathy Ward, sophomore; Vicky McConahy, junior, and Patty Keresty, senior. Classes are campaigning for their gals at a penny a vote. The proceeds will be used with the band and class treasuries going "halfers."

This is the time of year when fishermen wish spring would hurry along. It's just sort of a gap between seasons and leaves a lot to be desired.

It shouldn't be too long, though, before fishermen can take to the streams and lakes. Sucker fishing should be good very shortly. The sucker run is one sure sign that summer is coming.

There still is some very good ice fishing around Ohio and Pennsylvania. The recent cold snap has been pure joy to those who like to perch themselves on a frozen lake and jig a lure or bait through a small hole in the ice.

I had planned on ice fishing at Lake Erie this year, but didn't make it. Maybe next year.

Hunting season in Ohio ends today. Grouse was the last legal game for Buckeye hunters.

THIS WAS A GOOD year for grouse hunting. They seemed plentiful. Don McFarland of Holiday St. and I each got one last Saturday. We flushed six birds.

A week before we flushed eight or nine and got none.

Five birds flushed at once Saturday, a little unusual for this time of year. They were feeding on small green shoots beneath the covering of dead leaves.

When one grouse flushes, it is enough to scare you out of your wits. But, let five go out at once and it leaves you dumbfounded. Don and I each got off one shot, but didn't score until the second flush of single birds.

THE ICE ALONG BEAVER Creek is amazing. In some places there are "ice bridges" across the creek, with open water beneath.

The ice has hooved up as high as 10 feet in one or two places. The water then cut through, leaving the bridge.

The ice should make some very good settings for pictures. If you are a shutterbug, now is a good time to get some unusual shots.

RECORDS SHATTERED. Pennsylvania deer hunters made a shambles of most records during the 1967 season, harvesting more than 144,415 whitetails.

All existing records were smashed by buck hunters who tagged 78,268 deer, according to Harvey A. Roberts, Game Commissioner research division chief. The old record of 65,150 was established two years ago.

The take in Beaver County was 147 bucks and 69 antlerless deer. In Allegheny County the totals were 123 bucks and 91 antlerless. In nearby Butler County the total was 862

bucks and 989 antlerless while in Washington County the kill was 234 bucks, 200 antlerless and a bear. Lawrence County totals were 113 bucks and 47 antlerless.

Roberts says the total deer take of 144,415 is the third highest on record, eclipsed only by the 1940 figure of 186,575, harvested in a two-week season open on either sex (except spike bucks), and the 1938 tally of 171,662 taken in a six-day season for antlerless deer only.

THE 66,147 ANTLERLESS deer tagged during the past year make up the fifth highest total ever recorded in this category.

Pennsylvania's 1967 buck harvest was almost 20,000 higher than the previous year's 58,722, while the antlerless deer mark was some 6,000 above that of 1966.

Potter County, traditionally the leading deer producer, was way out in front of all other counties in 1967. The 4,899 bucks taken last fall in Potter constitute the all-time antlered deer record for a single county. Following Potter, the leading buck producing counties were Clearfield, 3,455; Centre, 2,950; Elk, 2,832, and Lycoming, 2,772.

Hunters reported tagging 3,271 antlerless deer in Potter, also high for the state. Leading counties in production of antlerless deer, after Potter, were Centre, 2,683; Warren, 2,580; Venango, 2,307, and Huntingdon, 2,010.

IN TOTAL HARVEST, Potter was tops with 8,170, Centre County was second with 5,633, and Clearfield was third with 5,353. Other counties which produced over 4,000 deer were Bradford, Clinton, Elk, Huntingdon, Lycoming, McKean, Tioga, Venango and Warren.

A breakdown of total harvest shows that 62,522 of the antlered deer had three or more points, while 15,746 were spike bucks. The antlerless harvest included 54,116 females and 12,031 males.

Roberts says further examination of the data shows that resident hunters reported tagging 69,256 of the bucks, a new record, while non-resident hunters bagged 10,769 whitetails, certainly another record.

DURING THE PAST three years, hunters have reported tagging 202,150 bucks and 160,816 antlerless deer, for a total of 362,966 whitetails. The actual harvest by hunters was far in excess of these reported figures because numerous successful hunters fail to report their kills as required by law.

With the 1967 pre-hunting season herd at or above the maximum carrying capacity of the range, the reported harvest of 144,415 animals was in keeping with the commission's management objectives.

A harvest of this magnitude will help to bring the deer population more in line with existing food supplies and keep it out of direct conflict with agricultural and timber production. While subsequent harvests will probably not attain this level, Pennsylvania will continue to provide top-notch deer hunting.

FURS BRING GOOD PRICE. The fur market is more perplexing and undependable than the New York Stock Exchange. It's almost impossible for the small trapper to pick the right time to sell his winter trapped goods.

This year, according to Jesse Weaver, District 3 supervisor, long-haired furs are in demand and their prices are good. Muskrat and mink fur are beginning to drop a little.

The approximate prices being offered for various furs are as follows: gray fox — $1.75; red fox — $4.50 to $5.00; mink — $8.00 to $8.50; muskrat — $1.05; raccoon — $3.00 to $3.25; beaver — $10.00 to $20.00; weasel — $.50, and skunk — $.25 to $.60.

FROZEN IN. A Lakewood fisherman had his fishing trip bog down recently.

The man decided to drive across the ice on Spencer Lake instead of traveling the roads to the opposite shore.

After traveling a few hundred feet, he decided the ice was not as safe as it looked, so the Volkswagen camper was turned around.

Almost immediately, the camper hit a weak spot in the ice and slowly settled in about four feet of water.

A tow truck was unsuccessful in its effort to pull it from the lake. The camper is still in Spencer Lake, "frozen in."

NOW'S THE TIME. Looking for something to do during these cold winter evenings? Haul out your fishing tackle and check the various pieces of hardware. Clean and oil your reels, check your rods for broken guides, wrappings that are unraveling and look for chipped varnish.

If you make these minor repairs right now, your tackle

will be ready and waiting for the opening of Pennsylvania's 1968 trout season on Saturday, April 13 at 5:00 A. M.

Spoons and spinner blades that have tarnished or become oxidized can be shined with a chemically treated cloth commonly used to polish the family silverware. Vinegar or cigarette ashes work fine too in restoring the original luster.

To prevent further oxidation, coat the polished surfaces with clear lacquer. Clear nail polish will also do nicely.

Don't forget the hooks. More fish that strike spoons are missed because of dulled hooks than for any other reason. Hone or file the hooks to needle sharpness. A needle sharp hook is the best insurance you can have to assist in landing that lunker.

April 13 is just a few calendar pages away. Get that hardware in shape and be ready for the great day.

You And The Law

"Since we've got two children, a new car and just bought a house, I suppose we ought to look at our will to see if any changes need to be made," Fred said to his wife.

"Good idea. I'll get the will out of the file box and we can change what's necessary right now. This is a bad television night anyway," she replied.

"Wait a minute," Fred cautioned. "We can't change the will that way. We'll have to take it to our attorney to make any legal changes."

"What for? The will is signed and witnessed. We can make the changes in ink right on the will, initial the changes and that will be O.K.—won't it?" Fred's wife replied.

"Not according to the law. We've got to make a codicil, the only legal way to change a will. Let's not ask for more trouble than we've already got," Fred replied.

FRED'S COURSE of action is correct. Only a codicil, a specific legal document, can legally alter a will. It must be drafted and signed in the same manner as a will. Two witnesses are required, just as with a will.

Corrections made to the original will, such as striking out a word or phrase, could make the entire will void. Even initialing these changes do not make them legal.

Depending on the changes needed and the complexity of the will, a codicil may not be the best answer. An entirely new will might have to be drafted.

However, if the codicil is determined to be the best answer, then it should be attached to the will so that heirs will know of the changes.

When your will was drafted, it took into account numerous factors that would relieve your family of many financial and legal problems which could come if you had no will. Don't ruin all this planning by making illegal changes.

The Lighter Side

By ROBERT POPP

There's a secret report tucked away in the top drawer of Lyndon Johnson's desk that explains the "bombing" of the Russian Embassy a few days ago.

After reading the brief saga, the President upped the classification from "Secret" to "Top Secret" to assure that it never come under the eyes of anyone except those in the absolute top levels of the government. He chuckled a couple of times as he dropped the report into the drawer.

The report was written on stationery of the Center for Indefensible Acrimony, one of the cover names utilized by the domestic investigative apparatus of the Central Intelligence Agency that specializes in such things as handicapping the races at Pimlico, computing the odds on a roulette wheel that's under the influence of lunar eclipses, and balancing the checking account of the director's wife.

"THIS OPERATIVE received an assignment through channels on the morning of Feb. 21 to proceed at once on uncovering the facts behind the purported bombing of the Embassy of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics," the report began. "Nothing could be done until Feb. 23 because all the federal agencies were locked up tight on Feb. 22, Washington's Birthday.

"The first suspicion that came to mind concerned a plot of possible Trotskyites. But this was ruled out almost immediately when someone called to mind that all the Trotskyites died long before Trotsky.

"We argued awhile about the incongruity of the original bolsheviks quibbling about a little incident of bomb-tossing, when they themselves used such methods as a standard item of negotiation, both domestic and foreign. But this discussion was dropped as unproductive.

"We ruled out the possibility of a CIA counter-ploy against the Embassy. Further investigation disclosed that none of the domestic security agencies was involved. Even the John Birch Society emerged with a guiltless record.

"Our best operative on physical evidence disguised himself as a Cossack, and hired a troika so as to pass unnoticed while he surveyed the grounds at the Embassy and the sidewalk immediately in front of the building. He came back with a confused jumble of evidence — a badly bent bicycle, some squares of white cardboard, a mass of tomato paste and dessicated fish and a pile of soggy dough.

"BUT THROUGH careful analysis of these clues, plus some surveillance and bugging reports, we are able to piece together step-by-step the puzzling incident at the Russian Embassy. The first and inescapable conclusion is that no bomb was set off on the window ledge, then or any other time.

"Our investigation has disclosed that about 2 a. m. on the morning of Feb. 21, the Ambassador and a host of his convivial friends telephoned a food order to a carry-out establishment within a few blocks of the Embassy.

"The ambassador, his usually surly manner unenhanced by a considerable quantity of vodka and the loss of 700 rubles to the Andorran emissary in a game of 'spit in the ocean,' told the restaurant staff in no uncertain terms that he wanted delivery of the food immediately.

"Almost two hours later, the FBI surveillance crew in the disguised bagel shop across the street noted the hurried appearance of a white-clad youth pedalling a bicycle madly and holding balanced on the handlebars a series of white cardboard containers that obviously held the foodstuffs ordered by the ambassador.

"HE HURRIED through the wide gate in front of the embassy, up the steps and through the front door, pushing the bicycle alongside. A few moments later there were wild screams of rage from the interior of the Embassy — shouts of imprecation, mingled with oaths in Russian and seven other languages.

"Then there was a tremendous noise, the sound of metal smashing against metal and a literal explosion of glass onto the sidewalk. The deliveryman and his bicycle burst through the window, propelled by the angry mob inside.

"The cardboard containers spilled onto the sidewalk. They burst — scattering pizza through the area like shrapnel. Then the Russian ambassador's head appeared in the broken window opening.

"Cold again, you capitalist dog," he shouted.

Lisbon Area News

Mrs. Esther DeTemple 424-5965

LISBON — Eighteen members of the Welcome Wagon group were received Thursday night at the W. Lincoln Way home of Mrs. Cornell Mundis.

Mrs. George Kosko, president, was in charge of the business session.

Plans were made for the style show which the group is sponsoring March 28 at Lincoln School. A tea will follow the show. Members were reminded to take cookies.

Also discussed was the Johnny Appleseed Fall Festival. The club will sponsor a white elephant sale booth. Anyone caring to donate to this project is asked to call Mrs. Leonard Hegbest or Mrs. Kosko.

Mrs. Kosko introduced Mrs. Trevor Young to Salem, who discussed and demonstrated ceramics.

The hostess carried out a Washington Birthday theme in serving lunch.

The next meeting will be March 21 with Mrs. Hephner of E. Lincoln Way. Mrs. Ralph Rizzo and Mrs. Paul Mollenkopf will assist the hostess.

D. of A. Group Meets

Pride of Center Council 199, Daughters of America, met Thursday night, with 24 present. Mrs. Ruth McKee, councilor, was in charge.

The 51st anniversary of the orderas discussed, with plans to be completed next week.

Mrs. Ollie Carnes, Mrs. Nannie Meehan, Mrs. Lydia Bennett and Miss Laura McKee won game prizes.

At the next meeting Feb. 29, members with February birthdays will be honored.

The social committee was Mrs. Mary Hoy, Mrs. Mildred McCord, Mrs. McKee and Miss Catherine McKee.

Will Spencer Concert

The Lisbon Music Study Club is sponsoring a concert March 1 at 8 p. m. at the Lisbon Methodist Church honoring young musicians of Lisbon.

Vocal and instrumental numbers will be presented by high school students and piano students.

The public is invited to attend.

Prizes Are Awarded

Mrs. Leo Chamberlain of E. Washington St. was hostess to associates of the QOW Club Thursday night.

Prizes for 500 went to Mrs. Carmen Ireopoli and Mrs. Jack Hall.

Lunch followed.

Mrs. Ireopoli of W. Chestnut St. will entertain March 7.

Patler Gets 20 Years In Slaying Of Nazi Figure

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — John Patler, convicted of the slaying of American Nazi fuehrer George Lincoln Rockwell, has been sentenced to 20 years in prison but could be a free man in five.

Circuit Court Judge Charles F. Russell imposed sentence Friday after denying a motion to set aside the verdict reached by a jury in December. However, Russell suspended execution of the sentence pending Patler's appeal to the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals.

The 30-year-old defendant had been one of Rockwell's closest aides until they argued and Patler left the party early last year.

Russell permitted Patler to remain free on $40,000 bond during the appeal proceedings.

Election Planned By Midland Club

A nominating committee was appointed to present a slate of eight directors for election Feb. 29 when the Midland Rotary Club met Thursday night at the New Riviera Club.

Named were Dr. Thomas Boyd, chairman, Homer Paul and James "Sonny" Migliore.

Lester W. Smith Jr., vice president, presided in the absence of Leo E. Curto, president. He announced the benefit variety show for the Beaver County Society for Crippled Children will be held by the club at Lincoln High School auditorium March 14.

Applications may be obtained at various locations in the Midland area and must be submitted no later than March 7 at 7 p. m.

Migliore, program chairman, presented Part II of "This Is My Life." Part I was given about seven years ago. Migliore plans to prepare Part III for the Club in 1980, it was announced.

James Fervetjans will be program chairman when the club meets next Thursday at 6:15 p. m. at the Riviera.

Cub Pack Presented Awards During Blue And Gold Event

Various awards were presented during the annual Blue and Gold banquet of Cub Pack 31 of the Orchard Grove Methodist Church Thursday night.

More than 225 attended the event at the Calcutta fire hall, with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hoyt of Chester honored guests.

The Rev. Phillip Carl of the church gave the invocation.

The Horizon Girls served the dinner as a phase of their community service project.

Plaques were presented Pat May, committee chairman, and Ray Hopper, institutional representative.

Members of the dens made the centerpieces and place mats, using a George Washington birthday theme.

The program also included songs by the Cubs, led by Mrs. Elaine Chronister and Mrs. Barbara May, and adult singing led by Rev. Carl.

The next pack meeting will be March 27 at the church.

Blue Cross Offer Seen Low For City's Insurance System

Associated Hospital Services, Inc., of Youngstown, which offers the Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans, submitted the apparent low offer Friday for hospital and surgical insurance for municipal employes and their families.

Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, comprising the Board of Control, took the bids under advisement. The city's current contracts for life and hospital insurance for workers are due for renewal March 1. All premiums are paid by the city.

THE YOUNGSTOWN firm offered to provide the hospital and surgical insurance for the employes at $6.34 monthly for single workers and $20.06 monthly for an employe and his dependents.

The only other offer was filed by the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn. It offered coverage for an employe only at $9.45 monthly. The premium would be $29.95 for both a worker and dependents.

Associated Hospital Services of Youngstown holds the current contract for hospital and surgical insurance at a combined rate of $1 less than the premium proposed for the new year. The city now pays $6.09 monthly for coverage for a single employe and $19.06 monthly for those in the "family plan."

Five firms filed offers on life insurance for the employes, also paid for by the city government. The specifications call for $1,000 coverage for workers up to 65 and $500 insurance for those over 65.

Two companies offered the life insurance at $1.06 per month per $1,000 coverage. They are the Ohio National Life Insurance Co. of Omaha. The premiums would total $173.88 per month. The Omaha concern said it would furnish coverage against accidental death and dismemberment on or off the job for an additional premium of 6 cents per month per employe.

THREE other concerns offered the life insurance at $1.07 per month per $1,000. They are: Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn., Connecticut General — Which also bid on the hospital insurance — and Aetna Life & Casualty Co.'s Steubenville office.

Phoenix Mutual said it estimated the premium would drop to 70 cents per $1,000 for the second year of coverage. Ohio National's bid said it anticipated a rate of 88 cents per $1,000 for the second year.

The local office of the Prudential Insurance Co., which now carries life insurance on city employes, did not file a proposal. The current premium for life insurance is $1.19 per $1,000.

Woman, Jockey Injured In Falls

A city woman injured in a fall down steps was admitted Friday to City Hospital, where four others were treated.

South Side Boosters Plan Fund Projects

Mrs. John McCandless, president of the South Side Band Boosters Club, has announced a donation of $100 from the Hookstown Grange for new band uniforms.

The club also will seek to raise funds to purchase overlays for the band's uniforms.

The spring band banquet will be held April 27 at the high school cafeteria.

The Boosters will sponsor a fish dinner at the Hookstown Grange Hall March 29 from 5 to 7:30 p. m. Takeout orders will be received until 4:30 p. m. that day. Mrs. Ethel Glenn is general chairman of the dinner.

The Boosters will meet next on March 18 at 8 p. m. in the high school music room.

Camp Fire Girl News

The torchbearer ceremonial highlighted the meeting of the ALWI Junior Hi Group of the Camp Fire Girls held at East Junior High School, with 25 members and parents present.

Mrs. Edna Veglia, assistant leader, was mistress of ceremonies. Participating in opening exercises were Susan Leonard, Diane Veglia, Sally Jesnick, Elaine Stowers, Cynthia Marie Douglas and Shirley Vanstburg.

Mrs. Shirley Leonard presented the annual charter to Mrs. Almeda Smith, guardian. New member charms were presented by Mrs. Annie Davis, sponsor.

Those receiving pins and beads for completing the seven areas of torchbearer were Pamela Jones, Sheila Ward, Diane Veglia, Debra Veglia, Cynthia Douglas, Ruth McGraw, Sharon Corman, Gloria Goodman, Susan Leonard and Donna Moots.

Refreshments were served at a buffet table decorated in a valentine theme.

Games and a talent show highlighted the pajama party which followed.

A film, "The Open Road," will be screened at the initial meeting of the Camp Fire Fathers Auxiliary Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA. It contains background information for the group.

Mrs. Larry Walton, president of Kinoka Council, and Mrs. Paul Stone, downtown neighborhood coordinator, will preside during the discussion on organization. The session will last an hour, officers said.

Slides Screened On Firefighting

Slides demonstrating an automatic firefighting system were screened during the Tri-State Firemen's Association meeting Thursday at the Midland fire hall.

In other business, Gene Lytton, president, announced the March 2 installation dinner will be at the St. Anthony's Club in Midland.

Lytton said reservations for the dinner, due by March 21, can be made by contacting William Rodgers of Densmore Ave., East Liverpool, during the evening.

Murder Trial Set March 25

LISBON — Lowell N. Conrad, 34, of Alliance, charged with first-degree murder, will be brought to trial March 25.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of Common Pleas Court set the trial date this week and ordered the calling of 75 prospective jurors.

Conrad is charged with the pistol slaying of his estranged wife, Crystal Ann, 24, the morning of Dec. 10 after picking her up at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zeller of Knox Township.

The couple separated in November and Mrs. Conrad and the four children went to live with the Zellers.

Industry Meeting Set

INDUSTRY — The Mayor's Citizens Advisory Committee of Industry will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the borough building, C. L. Finley, president, announced.

The program also included songs by the Cubs, led by Mrs. Elaine Chronister and Mrs. Barbara May, and adult singing led by Rev. Carl.

Blue Cross Offer Seen Low For City's Insurance System

Associated Hospital Services, Inc., of Youngstown, which offers the Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans, submitted the apparent low offer Friday for hospital and surgical insurance for municipal employes and their families.

Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, comprising the Board of Control, took the bids under advisement. The city's current contracts for life and hospital insurance for workers are due for renewal March 1. All premiums are paid by the city.

THE YOUNGSTOWN firm offered to provide the hospital and surgical insurance for the employes at $6.34 monthly for single workers and $20.08 monthly for an employe and his dependents.

The only other offer was filed by the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn. It offered coverage for an employe only at $9.45 monthly. The premium would be $29.95 for both a worker and dependents.

Associated Hospital Services of Youngstown holds the current contract for hospital and surgical insurance at a combined rate of $1 less than the premium proposed for the new year. The city now pays $6.09 monthly for coverage for a single employe and $19.08 monthly for those in the "family plan."

Five firms filed offers on life insurance for the employes, also paid for by the city government. The specifications call for $1,000 coverage for workers up to 65 and $500 insurance for those over 65.

Two companies offered the life insurance at $1.06 per month per $1,000 coverage. They are the Ohio National Life Insurance Co. of Omaha. The preiums would total $173.88 per month. The Omaha concern said it would furnish coverage against accidental death and dismemberment on or off the job for an additional premium of 6 cents per month per employe.

THREE other concerns offered the life insurance at $1.07 per month per $1,000. They are: Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn., Connecticut General — Which also bid on the hospital insurance — and Aetna Life & Casualty Co.'s Steubenville office.

Phoenix Mutual said it estimated the premium would drop to 79 cents per $1,000 for the second year of coverage. Ohio National's bid said it anticipated a rate of 88 cents per $1,000 for the second year.

The local office of the Prudential Insurance Co., which now carries life insurance on city employes, did not file a proposal. The current premium for life insurance is $1.19 per $1,000.

Patler Gets 20 Years In Slaying Of Nazi Figure

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — John Patler, convicted of the slaying of American Nazi fuehrer George Lincoln Rockwell, has been sentenced to 20 years in prison but could be a free man in five.

Circuit Court Judge Charles F. Russell imposed sentence Friday after denying a motion to set aside the verdict reached by a jury in December. However, Russell suspended execution of the sentence pending Patler's appeal to the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals.

The 30-year-old defendant had been one of Rockwell's closest aides until they argued and Patler left the party early last year.

Russell permitted Patler to remain free on $40,000 bond during the appeal proceedings.

Election Planned By Midland Club

A nominating committee was appointed to present a slate of eight directors for election Feb. 29 when the Midland Rotary Club met Thursday night at the New Riviera Club.

Named were Dr. Thomas Boyd, chairman, Homer Paul and James "Sonny" Migliore.

Lester W. Smith Jr., vice president, presided in the absence of Leo E. Curto, president. He announced the benefit variety show for the Beaver County Society for Crippled Children will be held by the club at Lincoln High School auditorium March 14.

Applications may be obtained at various locations in the Midland area and must be submitted no later than March 7 at 7 p. m.

Migliore, program chairman, presented Part II of "This Is My Life." Part I was given about seven years ago. Migliore plans to prepare Part III for the Club in 1980, it was announced.

James Ferretjans will be program chairman when the club meets next Thursday at 6:15 p. m. at the Riviera.

Woman, Jockey Injured In Falls

A city woman injured in a fall down steps was admitted Friday to City Hospital, where four others were treated.

Drivers Cited In Accidents

Five drivers were cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon as the result of four road mishaps Friday.

William D. Louk, 27, of East Liverpool RD 1 was charged with "failure to transfer ownership and registration" of his 1963 convertible, which was rammed from behind Friday at 2:35 a.m. on Route 45, a half - mile south of Salem.

Louk said he slowed to avoid hitting an animal and was struck by a 1961 sedan operated by Russell D. Beaver of Salem.

Beaver was cited for "failure to maintain the assured clear distance," officers said.

Louk was treated for minor cuts and bruises at Salem City Hospital.

Ronald W. Hughes, 26, of Railroad St., Negley, was cited for speeding Friday at 11:20 p.m. after his 1963 coach went off the right side of the road on a curve on Route 518 near Route 45.

Officers said the vehicle then went over an embankment, landed on its right side, overturned and landed upright on a creek bed.

Hughes complained of injuries and was treated at Salem City Hospital.

Roy E. Rivers of Dayton was cited Friday at 1:30 p. m. for an "insecure load" after bricks, which he was hauling on his tractor - trailer rig, fell onto the roadway, causing Karl C. Nicholas, 55, of 127 E. Spruce St., Lisbon, to lose control of his 1964 convertible.

Nicholas complained of injuries, but was not treated, officers said.

Kenneth Felger, 53, of 557 Boardman St., East Palestine, was cited for "attempting to pass without exercising caution" after he rammed an auto turning off Route 170 a half - mile north of East Palestine into a private drive.

Officers said Vivian Arthur, 34, of 1495 N. Market St., East Palestine, and an unidentified auto were turning into the same drive when the accident occurred Friday at 9:20 p.m.

Edgar T. Patton Wins Promotion At B. & W. Plant

Edgar T. Patton,, a former resident of Irondale, has been named machine shop shift foreman at the Babcock & Wilcox Co.'s Barberton Works.

Born in Olive Hill, Ky., Patton was graduated from Irondale High School in 1955. He joined B. & W. as a machine operator in 1947. He became a leader in 1951, foreman in 1955 and was an assistant project engineer in manufacturing engineering at the time of his latest promotion.

Mr. and Mrs. Patton, the former Mary McFadden, daughter of Mrs. O. R. McFadden of 1503 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool, reside at 1430 Maple St., Barberton. They are the parents of two married daughters and Debra Lyn, 15, at home.

Candy Sale Held By Church Group

NEW CUMBERLAND — Orders for Easter candy are being taken by the Altar and Rosary Society of Immaculate Conception Church here, Mrs. Frank Krzys, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced during the group's meeting this week.

Delegates were named to attend the group communication class at Madonna High School in Weirton sponsored by the Diocesan Council organization services commission.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Edward Nogay, county commissioner, who discussed "Politics."

A spiritual reading was given by Mrs. Fred Santimarino, chairman of the church communities commission.

Fr. Innocent Concnik led devotions. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Vito Riggi and Mrs. Francis Baier. The next meeting will be March 20.

Fines Are Assessed On Traffic Charges

SALINEVILLE — One motorist pleaded not guilty to a charge of using an expired 10-day tag on his car and three others pleaded guilty to traffic violation charges in Salineville mayor Dwayne Felton's court Thursday.

Barry Malone, 26, of Mill St., was fined $10 and costs for using improper auto license plates despite the plea of not guilty.

Albert Leroy Ketchum, 18, of Salineville RD 2 was fined $10 and costs for a stop sign violation and Daniel Lewis Leffler, also of RD 2, $15 and costs for reckless operation.

Fined $25 and costs for leaving the scene of an accident was George Brock, 59, of E. Main St.

Becoming Recurring Theme

World War III Pops Up In Nixon, Romney Talks

By The Associated Press

World War III is becoming a recurring theme in the campaign speeches of Richard M. Nixon and his principal rival for the Republican presidential nomination, Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

At opposite ends of the nation Friday the two GOP front-runners raised the specter of the United States drifting into a major global conflict.

In Portsmouth, N.H., where he was fielding questions telephoned to a radio program, Nixon said:

"It is my belief that in the term of the next president the United States will face its greatest danger, insofar as a world war is concerned, since World War II. Because in the next term of the next president the Soviet Union will acquire nuclear parity with the United States and the Chinese Communists will acquire a substantial nuclear capability."

Romney took a break from his campaign for the March 12 New Hampshire primary to do some early spadework in Oregon, which has a primary May 28. He too, was worrying aloud about a big war looming in the years ahead.

Further escalation of the Vietnam war could bring on World War III, he told a GOP gathering in Lincoln, City, Ore.

"You can't win a political guerilla war by overemphasizing the military conflict," Romney said. "The administration is taking us down the road of futility and danger."

Earlier, in Portland, Romney said ways must be found to curb the "momentum" of the military establishment.

"I think we are in danger of losing sight of the fact that U.S. military power only exists as a means of achieving the political ends of both national and international security, progress and peace," he said. "It is not an end in itself."

It was the Michigan governor's first swing into Oregon since he announced he was out to capture the GOP nomination.

In Washington, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen told the Republican National Committee the Johnson administration has as much as said it can't handle the problem of urban riots.

The administration's forecasts that this summer is likely to see a resumption of rioting in the slums amounts, Dirksen said, to "a confession that they are not equal to the violence we have had and are not equal to the enforcement of the law."

He added: "If they can't do it, move over and let someone else have a chance."

One of the day's more poignant political developments occurred in Louisville, where Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., announced he's had it and won't run for the Senate again this fall.

Morton, 60, described himself as tired—"track sore" was his phrase—but associates said it was a case of discouragement as much as physical wear.

Harold Stassen, the GOP's endurance champion when it opened his campaign for the New Hampshire primary with a press conference at Concord.

Stassen said his ambition is to make the primary a referendum on the war.

"President Johnson made one of the most terrible mistakes any president of our country ever made," he said, "when, in 1965, he turned the Vietnamese struggle into an American war."

Fire At Midland Hits Auto Sales

Minor damage resulted in a fire at Midland Auto Sales at Midland Ave. and 9th St. Friday at 10 p.m. A short circuit was blamed.

A hole the size of a wash tub was burned through the roof.

An unidentified motorist noticed lights flashing inside the garage and notified Patrolman Mike Bonato, who sounded the fire alarm.

The blaze erupted as firemen broke through the door. The flames were extinguished quickly.

Fire Chief Vincent D'Ilrl and Sgt. David Jukes and 16 firemen were at the scene. The business, which is owned by Tony Monaco of Midland and James Blalocake of Industry, was hit by a $7,000 fire Sept. 8, 1967.

Gets 20 Days, Fined

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Michael Fleming, president of Local 1478, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, was sentenced to 20 days in jail and fined $50 in common pleas court Friday for violating an order restricting picketing at the Franklin County Welfare Department.

Dies In New York At 78

Novelist Fannie Hurst, An Ohio Native, Claimed

NEW YORK (AP) — Fannie Hurst once remarked of her first bids for literary fame: "I wrote all day from loneliness, and all evening for the same reason."

Miss Hurst died Friday at age 78 in her apartment home overlooking Central Park. She wrote hundreds of short stories, 30 books and several plays—all romances.

Born in Hamilton, Ohio, Oct. 18, 1889, Miss Hurst grew up in St. Louis, Mo., and began her first attempts at serious writing at Washington University there.

Before she received her diploma she had accumulated 35 rejcetion slips.

Miss Hurst came to New York at age 21, took graduate work at Columbia University—and wrote.

Four years later her short story collection, "Just Around the Corner," was published, and success followed.

Some literary critics call Miss Hurst the "sob sister" of American letters. But as one critic put it:

"We all know people who write beautifully and can't tell a story worth a damn. She is a really wonderful story teller."

Miss Hurst also could relate a good story, as evidenced by her numerous visits to Hans Christian Andersen's statue in Central Park where, surrounded by children, she talked to them in the language of youthful fantasy.

Probably her best-known novel was "Back Street"—the story of a mistress who followed her lover, but always as a shadow, until his death, when she sat in discreet sorrow at the back of the church.

Miss Hurst's works were translated into 12 languages, and several of her novels became movies. Her plays included "Humoresque," "Back Pay," "Land of the Free," and "It Is To Laugh."

Wrote From Loneliness.

Miss Hurst was secretly married in 1915 to Jacquse S. Danielson, pianist and composer. Their marriage was kept secret for five years; then she and Danielson continued to maintain separate apartments.

Ohio's Bond Issue Cut By $100 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A House Finance subcommittee, after whacking $100 million from the administation's proposed bond issue, returns Monday for a final look at the measure as the legislative session goes into its final week.

The subcommittee agreed tentatively Friday to a $750 million bond issue for highways and other capital improvements. The administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes had sought an $850 million issue.

Committee Chairman Rep. Ralph E. Fisher R-24 Wayne said another meeting would be held Monday.

Biggest cut whacked out by the committee was reducing from $550 million to $450 million the amount of funds to be set aside for highway construction.

Still to be determined is when the issue would be placed on a statewide ballot. Some committee members said they were inclined to put it before voters in the May 7 primary, but did not rule out a delay until the Nov. 5 general election.

MOVE UP NOW-TO CLEANER COOKING

To cook on a new flameless ELECTRIC range is to make a clean break with the past. Bottoms of pots and pans don't need scouring because there's no flame to make them black. The oven cleans itself. All you do to clean an electric "self-cleaning" oven is set a dial. Baked-on food and grease disappear. Electric surface units clean themselves. Join the trend to better, cleaner cooking, baking and broiling. Move up to a self-cleaning flameless electric range. Only electric ranges have self-cleaning ovens.

Some literary critics call Miss Hurst the "sob sister" of American letters. But as one critic put it:

"We all know people who write beautifully and can't tell a story worth a damn. She is a really wonderful story teller."

Miss Hurst also could relate a good story, as evidenced by her numerous visits to Hans Christian Andersen's statue in Central Park where, surrounded by children, she talked to them in the language of youthful fantasy.

Probably her best-known novel was "Back Street"—the story of a mistress who followed her lover, but always as a shadow, until his death, when she sat in discreet sorrow at the back of the church.

Miss Hurst's works were translated into 12 languages, and several of her novels became movies. Her plays included "Humoresque," "Back Pay," "Land of the Free," and "It Is To Laugh."

FANNIE HURST
Wrote From Loneliness.

Miss Hurst was secretly married in 1915 to Jacquse S. Danielson, pianist and composer. Their marriage was kept secret for five years; then she and Danielson continued to maintain separate apartments.

Ohio's Bond Issue Cut By $100 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A House Finance subcommittee, after whacking $100 million from the administation's proposed bond issue, returns Monday for a final look at the measure as the legislative session goes into its final week.

The subcommittee agreed tentatively Friday to a $750 million bond issue for highways and other capital improvements. The administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes had sought an $850 million issue.

Committee Chairman Rep. Ralph E. Fisher R-24 Wayne said another meeting would be held Monday.

Biggest cut whacked out by the committee was reducing from $550 million to $500 million the amount of funds to be set aside for highway construction.

Still to be determined is when the issue would be placed on a statewide ballot. Some committee members said they were inclined to put it before voters in the May 7 primary, but did not rule out a delay until the Nov. 5 general election.

Candy Sale Held By Church Group

NEW CUMBERLAND — Orders for Easter candy are being taken by the Altar and Rosary Society of Immaculate Conception Church here, Mrs. Frank Krzys, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced during the group's meeting this week.

Delegates were named to attend the group communication class at Madonna High School in Weirton sponsored by the Diocesan Council organization services commission.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Edward Nogay, county commissioner, who discussed "Politics."

A spiritual reading was given by Mrs. Fred Santimarino, chairman of the church communities commission.

Fr. Innocent Concnik led devotions. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Vito Riggi and Mrs. Francis Baier. The next meeting will be March 20.

Fines Are Assessed On Traffic Charges

SALINEVILLE — One motorist pleaded not guilty to a charge of using an expired 10-day tag on his car and three others pleaded guilty to traffic violation charges in Salineville mayor Dwayne Felton's court Thursday.

Barry Malone, 26, of Mill St., was fined $10 and costs for using improper auto license plates despite the plea of not guilty.

Albert Leroy Ketchum, 18, of Salineville RD 2 was fined $10 and costs for a stop sign violation and Daniel Lewis Leffler, also of RD 2, $15 and costs for reckless operation.

Fined $25 and costs for leaving the scene of an accident was George Brock, 59, of E. Main St.

Becoming Recurring Theme

World War III Pops Up In Nixon, Romney Talks

By The Associated Press

World War III is becoming a recurring theme in the campaign speeches of Richard M. Nixon and his principal rival for the Republican presidential nomination, Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

At opposite ends of the nation Friday the two GOP front-runners raised the specter of the United States drifting into a major global conflict.

In Portsmouth, N.H., where he was fielding questions telephoned to a radio program, Nixon said:

"It is my belief that in the term of the next president the United States will face its greatest danger, insofar as a world war is concerned, since World War II. Because in the next term of the next president the Soviet Union will acquire nuclear parity with the United States and the Chinese Communists will acquire a substantial nuclear capability."

Romney took a break from his campaign for the March 12 New Hampshire primary to do some early spadework in Oregon, which has a primary May 28. He too, was worrying aloud about a big war looming in the years ahead.

Further escalation of the Vietnam war could bring on World War III, he told a GOP gathering in Lincoln, City, Ore.

"You can't win a political guerilla war by overemphasizing the military conflict," Romney said. "The administration is taking us down the road of futility and danger."

Earlier, in Portland, Romney said ways must be found to curb the "momentum" of the military establishment.

"I think we are in danger of losing sight of the fact that U.S. military power only exists as a means of achieving the political ends of both national and international security, progress and peace," he said. "It is not an end in itself."

It was the Michigan governor's first swing into Oregon since he announced he was out to capture the GOP nomination.

In Washington, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen told the Republican National Committee the Johnson administration has as much as said it can't handle the problem of urban riots.

The administration's forecasts that this summer is likely to see a resumption of rioting in the slums amounts, Dirksen said, to "a confession that they are not equal to the violence we have had and are not equal to the enforcement of the law."

He added: "If they can't do it, move over and let someone else have a chance."

One of the day's more poignant political developments occurred in Louisvlile, where Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., announced he's had it and won't run for the Senate again this fall.

Morton, 60, described himself as tired—"track sore" was his phrase—but associates said it was a case of discouragement as much as physical wear.

Harold Stassen, the GOP's endurance champion when it opened his campaign for the New Hampshire primary with a press conference at Concord.

Stassen said his ambition is to make the primary a referendum on the war.

"President Johnson made one of the most terrible mistakes any president of our country ever made," he said, "when, in 1965, he turned the Vietnamese struggle into an American war."

Fire At Midland Hits Auto Sales

Minor damage resulted in a fire at Midland Auto Sales at Midland Ave. and 9th St. Friday at 10 p.m. A short circuit was blamed.

A hole the size of a wash tub was burned through the roof.

An unidentified motorist noticed lights flashing inside the garage and notified Patrolman Mike Borato, who sounded the fire alarm.

The blaze erupted as firemen broke through the door. The flames were extinguished quickly.

Fire Chief Vincent D'Itri and Sgt. David Jakes and 18 firemen were at the scene. The business, which is owned by Tony Monaco of Midland and James Blakeslee of Industry, was hit by a $7,000 fire Sept. 8, 1967.

Gets 20 Days, Fined

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Michael Fleming, president of Local 1478, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, was sentenced to 20 days in jail and fined $50 in common pleas court Friday for violating an order restricting picketing at the Franklin County Welfare Department.

Bulldogs Meet Ursuline Next

Beaver Local, which posted a glittering 16-2 mark during the regular season, could not cope with Youngstown South High last night, and was ousted 69-50 in the first round of the AA basketball sectionals at Youngstown South Field House.

East Palestine beat Youngstown North 73-64 in the opener of the triple-header and will meet Youngstown Ursuline, which had a first-round bye, in the opener of a doubleheader Wednesday night. South meets Boardman, a 73-54 winner over Campbell Memorial in the middle game last night, in the nightcap Wednesday.

East Palestine was paced by Dan McKinstry, who threw in 31 points. McKinstry connected on 12 of 27 field goal attempts and added 7 of 8 fouls. The Bulldogs of Jack Swinderman, which posted a 15-3 regular season mark and were seeded third in the tournament, were outgoaled by North 29-25 but made 23 of 31 foul shots to grab the win. McKinstry was backed by Joe Lewis with 16, Bill Lewis with 12 and Jim Taucher with 11.

Little Ron McElroy, North's all-city selection, thrilled the crowd with his long fall-away jump shots and ended with 23 points. Leaping Dave Moncrief added 14 and J. C. Williams 10.

The Bulldogs, again led by McKinstry with 18, controlled the boards 58-42. Tim Owens had 10 to pace the losers. The winners, bothered occasionally by the North press, committed 16 turnovers to 13 for the losers.

North's last lead was at 10- and a long shot by Bill Lewis put East Palestine ahead for good. Five straight foul shots, including a technical, made it 21-14. The winners connected on 11 of 12 from the charity stripe in the first period, and not a foul was called against them.

The margin mounted to 33-25 in the second period, but North got back in the game with three quick baskets. The Bulldogs led by as much as nine in the third quarter, but North fought back to cut the gap to five. With the margin 67-62 four straight foul shots sewed up the game for the winners with a minute to go.

Boardman was led by Ray Mellott, who had 23, Roger Kreps with 16, Bruce Beard with 11 and George Brownlee with 10. Jim Hogan had 16 to pace Campbell, with Joe Zlak adding 11 and Tim Jones 10. Campbell led 30-27 at half-time, but with the score tied at 32, Mellott made two fantastic driving shots, and the Spartans went on an 18-2 tear to sew up the win.

Beaver Local experienced a cold shooting night, and was also outrebounded by a tall south team. The Beavers hit on only 2 per cent of their shots, and the 50 points scored represented their lowest output of the campaign. South hit 41 per cent, with Julias Livas and Fred Cooper leading the way with outside bombing. Cooper ended with 21 points and Livas 20. Otis Dancey, who displayed some beautiful inside moves, added 14.

Mike Platt was high for the Beavers with 19, Rex Campbell had 15 and Jim Reese 11, all in the first half. Campbell made only 5 of 22 from the field, as many of his shots rolled around the rim and out, a typical Beaver plight all night long. Beaver center Dave Mason was held without a field goal, though he was top board man for the losers with 11. Campbell grabbed 10.

But South, with three players 6-3 or better in the starting lineup, had a 63-45 rebounding edge. Cooper grabbed 16, Ray Griffen 13 and Dancey 10. Time and again the Warriors would make good on second attempts for baskets, while the Beavers rarely got a second chance.

The performance of Livas, voted the MVP in Youngstown, was no surprise, but the long-range sharpshooting of the 6-3 Taylor was unexpected. This pair riddled the Beavers' 3-2 zone, and still were effective when coach Lloyd Stockdale switched to a man-to-man.

Beaver Local led only at 4-2 and 5-4, as seven straight by the Warriors from the latter score put them ahead for good. With it 13-9 the home team tore off seven more to make it 20-9. Beaver Local kept the margin even, mostly on the long shots of Reese, and just before the half hit two baskets to narrow it to 34-27. A long shot by Platt to open the second half narrowed the margin to five points, but eight in a row by South put them back in the drivers' seat and the margin gradually widened from then on.

Local KSU Branch Wins

Three foul shots in the final 18 seconds carried the East Liverpool Kent State U. branch to a 52-51 win over their Salem counterparts at the Memorial Auditorium last night.

With the score tied at 49 Emery Brewer made a foul shot and after a missed shot by Salem and a rebound by Howard Jackson, Lee Sherwood was fouled and made both ends of a one-plus-one to make it 52-49 with 10 seconds to go. A basket by Denny Ferguson left Salem short.

Sherwood paced Chuck Leedy's team with 20 points and Jackson added 11. Gary Smith had 20 for the losers and Ferguson 11.

East Liverpool had lost to Salem in an earlier game here, but claimed a forfeit win at Salem and so claimed a trophy put up for competition between the two branches.

The game was close all the way, with never more than a six - point difference. Salem jumped off to a 9-3 lead, but the locals battled back and led 24-18 at halftime. Salem regained the lead 34-32 going into the final period and it see-sawed down to the final seconds. Sherwood got nine points in the final period to pace the rally of East Liverpool.

The locals had a 42-36 rebounding edge. Both teams were cold from the field, shooting 26 per cent.

Yastrzemski Counting On 'Pride' Of Red Sox

By DICK COUCH

The pride of the Red Sox is counting on the pride of his teammates bringing another American League pennant to Boston in 1968.

"I think we will win the pennant again because of our pride," Triple Crown winner Carl Yastrzemski said Friday after checking into the Red Sox' Winter Haven, Fla., training base. "I have never seen a team with as much pride in itself as the Red Sox."

While Yaz' early arrival and the signing of pitcher Jose Santiago brightened the Boston camp, the Los Angeles Dodgers, New York Yankees and Baltimore Orioles continued to meet stiff resistance from unsigned players.

Relief pitcher Phil Regan said he would remain at his home in Grand Rapids, Mich., until his salary dispute with the Dodgers is settled. Yankee Manager Ralph Houk fretted over the prolonged holdout of southpaw Al Downing, the club's top pitcher last season with a 14-10 mark.

And Orioles second baseman Dave Johnson held firm to his demand for a big pay boost, although he won't be considered a holdout until the Baltimore regulars report to spring camp at Miami, Fla., next week.

"I don't like to miss spring training, but the club has sent me four or five contracts and I have sent them all back," said Regan, who is fighting a $5,000 cut from his estimated 1967 salary of $36,000. The tall right-hander was 9-1 two years ago, 6-9 last season.

In Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Houk said Downing—who wants a bigger raise than the Yankees have offered him—is "missing work he should have.

"I don't like a pitcher to push himself trying to get in shape too fast," added the Yankees' pilot. "I wish he'd get down here, get the contract signed and start working."

Johnson, who batted only .247 for the Orioles, is said to be seeking a $9,000 pay hike from his estimated $16,000 salary of last year. "We offered Dave a raise," said Harry Dalton, the club's director of player personnel. "But I would have to say we are still far apart.

"I wouldn't want to tell you what he is asking. It would make you sick."

Outfielders Frank Robinson and Curt Blefary and first baseman Boog Powell are among the other unsigned Orioles.

In granting Santiago a healthy raise on the merits of his 12-4 pitching record last year, the Red Sox trimmed their unsigned roster to two — outfielder, Smith and Jose Tartabull.

Yastrzemski, meanwhile, weighed in at a trim 182 pounds —the same as he scaled at the end of the World Series last October—and set his sights on a .300 batting average and at least 100 runs batted in for 1968. The AL's Most Valuable Player batted .326, swatted 44 home runs and had 121 RBI last year.

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals and the pennant-hungry Cincinnati Reds filled out a rainy Florida day by announcing some prominent signings.

The Reds signed pitchers Milt Pappas, Gary Nolan and Gerry Arrigo, outfielder Alex Johnson and catcher Jim Schaffer, leaving eight teammates still unsatisfied.

Phillips Quits As NFL Player, To Be Coach

ATLANTA (AP) — The National Football League's eighth all-time pass receiver is quitting his career as a player to become a coach for the Atlanta Falcons, coach Norb Hecker said Friday.

Jim "Red" Phillips of Minnesota, star flanker at Auburn in the 1950s, will work with Falcon receivers.

In his 10 seasons with the NFL, Phillips caught 401 passes for 6,044 yards. He was originally drafted by the Los Angeles in 1958. He went to the Vikings in 1965.

Oak Glen Defeats Benwood

Oak Glen concluded regular season play by defeating Benwood Union 71-60 at Benwood last night, evening the Golden Bears' record at 10-10.

Oak Glen had defeated Benwood 64-54 at Oak Glen, but last night's win was something of an upset, as it snapped a six - game winning streak for the losers, now 12-7. It also was the last high school game ever to be played on the Benwood floor, as the school will merge with Moundsville next year.

The game was tied 49-49 going into the final period, but led by John Roach and Perry Stanley the winners pulled away. Roach had 8 of his 14 points in the last period while Stanley had 15 of his 24 points in the second half. The Golden Bears trailed 39-33 at halftime, the biggest lead of the game for Benwood, but Bob Starkey's forces rallied to pull even and then go ahead. Jim Carnes had 16 points for the game.

Game honors went to Jim Polley of the losers, who tossed in 28 markers. Mickey Garrison added 13 and Fred Zelinsky 10. Oak Glen controlled the boards 53-45, with Stanley pulling down 19 rebounds and surprise starter Tom McGeehan 11.

Oak Glen shot 42 per cent to 31 per cent for the losers.

The visitors won the reserve game 49-46 as Chuck Gillespie was high with 13.

Douglass, Ogden Tied For Tucson Open Lead

By STEVE BASSETT

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Dale Douglass and Bill Ogden carried a one-stroke lead into today's third round of the $100,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament.

Douglass, 31, Denver, Colo., carded nine birdies en route to a 31-32—63 second round, equaling the Tucson National Golf Club course record in 1965 by Don January.

He and Ogden, the host pro, both had 36-hole totals of nine under par 135, to lead a pack of close pursuers over the 72-yard par 72 Tucson National Course.

Ogden, 41-year-old winter tour regular since 1947, played steady golf Friday, his approach shots putting him in position for four birdie putts of eight feet or less.

He also eagled the 530-yard, par five 11th hole with a drive, four-wood second shot and a six-inch putt.

"It's the best round I ever played. I'm sure of that," said Douglass, who missed only one green. The slender 28-year-old rifled his approach shots so accurately that six of his birdie putts measured four feet or less.

One stroke behind the leaders with eight-under 136's at the start of play today were Harold Henning, Jack Montgomery and first-round leader Jerry McGee, who had to scramble to record a one-under-par 71.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer had a three-under 69 Friday but his 36-hole total of 143 put him eight strokes behind the leaders.

Lakefront Hires Pro

Lakefront Golf Course in Columbiana has hired Ernie S. Nagy of Boardman to be the pro there this year.

Nagy, a former Akron resident, has won numerous amateur titles in Canada and this country and is a former YDAIGA member. He was a director of the Youngstown Open for several years.

Lakefront is a nine - hole, watered course that opened last season.

Wilt Scores 25,000th Point With Foul Shot

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain scored his 25,000th career point Friday night in a most unlikely manner —on a free throw.

The world's greatest basketball scorer, 7-foot-1 Chamberlain is one of the world's worst foul shooters, unless there is some sort of record or milestone at stake.

Chamberlain also scored his 20,000th point on a free throw. He passed Bob Pettit for the all-time scoring leadership on a free throw, too.

In 1962, when he scored 100 points in a game against New York, he made 28 from the foul line, still a one-game record.

In other NBA games, St. Louis beat Baltimore 118-110, Los Angeles trounced Cincinnati 131-115, Seattle nipped San Diego 127-122 and San Francisco edged Boston 127-122.

Chamberlain's 25,000th point was one of 31 he scored against the Pistons. He also grabbed 32 rebounds, and handed out 12 assists in leading the Eastern Division leaders to their 16th win in the last 19 games.

The 25,000th point came with 1:51 remaining in the first half and was Chamberlain's ninth point. He was fouled by Happy Hairston. Wilt dipped and underhanded toward the hoop. It hit the backboard, bounced on the rim and finally fell through as 12,382 fans roared approval at the spectrum.

The retired Pettit, who played for the St. Louis Hawks, is still runner-up on the all-time scoring list with 20,880, followed by Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor who has close to 19,500. Chamberlain's total after Friday night is 25,022.

Zelmo Beatty, survived a fight with Baltimore's Ras Scott, and went on to lead St. Louis to victory. Beatty hit for 31 points. Earl Monroe scored 25 for Baltimore.

Los Angeles gained its sixth victory in the last eight games behind a touch defense and the scoring of Jerry West, 29 points, Archie Clark, 26, and Elgin Baylor. West suffered a pulled groin muscle in the fourth period. The extent of the injury was not immediately known.

Walt Hazzard, who scored 31 points, and Bob Rule, who got 30, combined for 28 in the fourth quarter, sparking Seattle to its victory. Rooki Art Williams scored a pro career high of 26 for San Diego.

With San Francisco leading 121-119, Jeff Mullins sank a basket and Clyde Lee hit two foul shots to clinch the Warriors victory. Lee scored an NBA career high of 33 points. Tom Sanders led Boston with 25.

South meets Boardman, a 73-54 winner over Campbell Memorial in the middle game last night, in the nightcap Wednesday.

East Palestine was paced by Dan McKinstry, who threw in 31 points. McKinstry connected on 12 of 27 field goal attempts and added 7 of 8 fouls. The Bulldogs of Jack Swinderman, which posted a 15-3 regular season mark and were seeded third in the tournament, were outgoaled by North 29-25 but made 23 of 31 foul shots to grab the win. McKinstry was backed by Joe Lewis with 16, Bill Lewis with 12 and Jim Taucher with 11.

Litlte Ron McElroy, North's all-city selection, thrilled the crowd with his long fall-away jump shots and ended with 23 points. Leaping Dave Moncrief added 14 and J. C. Williams 10.

The Bulldogs, again led by McKinstry with 18, controlled the boards 55-42. Tim Owens had 10 to pace the losers. The winners, bothered occasionally by the North press, committed 16 turnovers to 13 for the losers.

North's last lead was at 10- and a long shot by Bill Lewis put East Palestine ahead for good. Five straight foul shots, including a technical, made it 21-14. The winners connected on 11 of 12 from the charity stripe in the first period, and not a foul was called against them.

The margin mounted to 33-25 in the second period, but North got back in the game with three quick baskets. The Bulldogs led by as much as nine in the third quarter, but North fought back to cut the gap to five. With the margin 67-62 four straight foul shots sewed up the game for the winners with a minute to go.

Boardman was led by Ray Mellott, who had 23, Roger Kreps with 16, Bruce Beard with 11 and George Brownlee with 10. Jim Hogan had 16 to pace Campbell, with Joe Ziak adding 11 and Tim Jones 10. Campbell led 30-27 at half-time, but with the score tied at 32, Mellott made two fantastic driving shots, and the Spartans went on an 18-2 tear to sew up the win.

Beaver Local experienced a cold shooting night, and was also outrebounded by a tall south team. The Beavers hit on only 2 per cent of their shots, and the 50 points scored represented their lowest output of the campaign. South hit 41 per cent, with Julias Livas and Fred Cooper leading the way with outside bombing. Cooper ended with 21 points and Livas 20. Otis Dancey, who displayed some beautiful inside moves, added 14.

Mike Piatt was high for the Beavers with 19, Rex Campbell had 15 and Jim Reese 11, all in the first half. Campbell made only 5 of 22 from the field, as many of his shots rolled around the rim and out, a typical Beaver plight all night long. Beaver center Dave Mason was held without a field goal, though he was top board man for the losers with 11. Campbell grabbed 10.

But South, with three players 6-3 or better in the starting lineup, had a 63-45 rebounding edge. Cooper grabbed 16, Ray Griffen 13 and Dancey 10. Time and again the Warriors would make good on second attempts for baskets, while the Beavers rarely got a second chance.

The performance of Livas, voted the MVP in Youngstown, was no surprise, but the long-range sharpshooting of the 6-3 Taylor was unexpected. This pair riddled the Beavers' 3-2 zone, and still were effective when coach Lloyd Stockdale switched to a man-to-man.

Beaver Local led only at 4-2 and 5-4, as seven straight by the Warriors from the latter score put them ahead for good. With it 13-9 the home team tore off seven more to make it 20-9. Beaver Local kept the margin even, mostly on the long shots of Reese, and just before the half hit two baskets to narrow it to 34-27. A long shot by Piatt to open the second half narrowed the margin to five points, but eight in a row by South put them back in the drivers' seat and the margin gradually widened from then on.

Local KSU Branch Wins

Three foul shots in the final 18 seconds carried the East Liverpool Kent State U. branch to a 52-51 win over their Salem counterparts at the Memorial Auditorium last night.

With the score tied at 49 Emery Brewer made a foul shot and after a missed shot by Salem and a rebound by Howard Jackson, Lee Sherwood was fouled and made both ends of a one-plus-one to make it 52-49 with 10 seconds to go. A basket by Denny Ferguson left Salem short.

Sherwood paced Chuck Leedy's team with 20 points and Jackson added 11. Gary Smith had 20 for the losers and Ferguson 11.

East Liverpool had lost to Salem in an earlir game here, but claimed a forfeit win at Salem and so claimed a trophy put up for competition between the two branches.

The game was close all the way, with never more than a six - point difference. Salem jumped off to a 9-3 lead, but the locals battled back and led 24-18 at halftime. Salem regained the lead 34-32 going into the final period and it see-sawed down to the final seconds. Sherwood got nine points in the final period to pace the rally of East Liverpool.

The locals had a 42-38 rebounding edge. Both teams were cold from the field, shooting 26 per cent.

Yastrzemski Counting On 'Pride' Of Red Sox

By DICK COUCH

The pride of the Red Sox is counting on the pride of his teammates bringing another American League pennant to Boston in 1968.

"I think we will win the pennant again because of our pride," Triple Crown winner Carl Yastrzemski said Friday after checking into the Red Sox' Winter Haven, Fla., training base. "I have never seen a team with as much pride in itself as the Red Sox."

While Yaz' early arrival and the signing of pitcher Jose Santiago brightened the Boston camp, the Los Angeles Dodgers, New York Yankees and Baltimore Orioles continued to meet stiff resistance from unsigned players.

Relief pitcher Phil Regan said he would remain at his home in Grand Rapids, Mich., until his salary dispute with the Dodgers is settled. Yankee Manager Ralph Houk fretted over the prolonged holdout of southpaw Al Downing, the club's top pitcher last season with a 14-10 mark.

And Orioles second baseman Dave Johnson held firm to his demand for a big pay boost, although he won't be considered a holdout until the Baltimore regulars report to spring camp at Miami, Fla., next week.

"I don't like to miss spring training, but the club has sent me four or five contracts and I have sent them all back," said Regan, who is fighting a $5,000 cut from his estimated 1967 salary of $36,000. The tall righthander was 9-1 two years ago, 6-9 last season.

In Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Houk said Downing—who wants a bigger raise than the Yankees have offered him—is "missing work he should have.

"I don't like a pitcher to push himself trying to get in shape too fast," added the Yankees' pilot. "I wish he'd get down here, get the contract signed and start working."

Johnson, who batted only .247 for the Orioles, is said to be seeking a $9,000 pay hike from his estimated $16,000 salary of last year. "We offered Dave a raise," said Harry Dalton, the club's director of player personnel. "But I would have to say we are still far apart.

"I wouldn't want to tell you what he is asking. It would make you sick."

Outfielders Frank Robinson and Curt Blefary and first baseman Boog Powell are among the other unsigned Orioles.

In granting Santiago a healthy raise on the merits of his 12-4 pitching record last year, the Red Sox trimmed their unsigned roster to two — outfielder, Smith and Jose Tartabull.

Yastrzemski, meanwhile, weighed in at a trim 182 pounds —the same as he scaled at the end of the World Series last Ocotber—and set his sights on a .300 batting average and at least 100 runs batted in for 1968. The AL's Most Valuable Player batted .326, swatted 44 home runs and had 121 RBI last year.

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals and the pennant-hungry Cincinnati Reds filled out a rainy Florida day by announcing some prominent signings.

The Reds signed pitchers Milt Pappas, Gary Nolan and Gerry Arrigo, outfielder Alex Johnson and catcher Jim Schaffer, leaving eight teammates still unsatisfied.

Phillips Quits As NFL Player, To Be Coach

ATLANTA (AP) — The National Football League's eighth all-time pass receiver is quitting his career as a player to become a coach for the Atlanta Falcons, coach Norb Hecker said Friday.

Jim "Red" Phillips of Minnesota, star flanker at Auburn in the 1950s, will work with Falcon receivers.

In his 10 seasons with the NFL, Phillips caught 401 passes for 6,044 yards. He was originally drafted by the Los Angeles in 1958. He went to the Vikings in 1965.

Oak Glen Defeats Benwood

Oak Glen concluded regular season play by defeating Benwood Union 71-60 at Benwood last night, evening the Golden Bears' record at 10-10.

Oak Glen had defeated Benwood 64-54 at Oak Glen, but last night's win was something of an upset, as it snapped a six - game winning streak for the losers, now 12-7. It also was the last high school game ever to be played on the Benwood floor, as the school will merge with Moundsville next year.

The game was tied 49-49 going into the final period, but led by John Roach and Perry Stanley the winners pulled away. Roach had 8 of his 14 points in the last period while Stanley had 15 of his 24 points in the second half. The Golden Bears trailed 39-33 at halftime, the biggest lead of the game for Benwood, but Bob Starkey's forces rallied to pull even and then go ahead. Jim Carnes had 16 points for the game.

Game honors went to Jim Polley of the losers, who tossed in 28 markers. Mickey Garrison added 13 and Fred Zelinsky 10. Oak Glen controlled the boards 53-45, with Stanley pulling down 19 rebounds and surprise starter Tom McGeehan 11.

Oak Glen shot 42 per cent to 31 per cent for the losers.

The visitors won the reserve game 49-46 as Chuck Gillespie was high with 13.

Douglass, Ogden Tied For Tucson Open Lead

By STEVE BASSETT

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Dale Douglass and Bill Ogden carried a one-stroke lead into today's third round of the $100,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament.

Douglass, 31, Denver, Colo., carded nine birdies en route to a 31-32—63 second round, equaling the Tucson National Golf Club course record in 1965 by Don January.

He and Ogden, the host pro, both had 36-hole totals of nine under par 135, to lead a pack of close pursuers over the 72-yard par 72 Tucson National Course.

Ogden, 41-year-old winter tour regular since 1947, played steady golf Friday, his approach shots putting him in position for four birdie putts of eight feet or less.

He also eagled the 530-yard, par five 11th hole with a drive, four-wood second shot and a six-inch putt.

"It's the best round I ever played. I'm sure of that," said Douglass, who missed only one green. The slender 155-pounder rifled his approach shots so accurately that six of his birdie putts measured four feet or less.

One stroke behind the leaders with eight-under 136's at the start of play today were Harold Henning, Jack Montgomery and first-round leader Jerry McGee, who had to scramble to record a one-under-par 71.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer had a three-under 69 Friday but his 36-hole total of 143 put him eight strokes behind the leaders.

Lakefront Hires Pro

Lakefront Golf Course in Columbiana has hired Ernie S. Nagy of Boardman to be the pro there this year.

Nagy, a former Akron resident, has won numerous amateur titles in Canada and this country and is a former YDAIGA member. He was a director of the Youngstown Open for several years.

Lakefront is a nine - hole, watered course that opened last season.

Wilt Scores 25,000th Point With Foul Shot

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain scored his 25,000th career point Friday night in a most unlikely manner —on a free throw.

The world's greatest basketball scorer, 7-foot-1 Chamberlain is one of the world's worst foul shooters, unless there is some sort of record or milestone at stake.

Chamberlain also scored his 20,000th point on a free throw. He passed Bob Pettit for the all-time scoring leadership on a free throw, too.

In 1962, when he scored 100 points in a game against New York, he made 28 from the foul line, still a one-game record.

In other NBA games, St. Louis beat Baltimore 118-110, Los Angeles trounced Cincinnati 131-115, Seattle nipped San Diego 127-122 and San Francisco edged Boston 127-122.

Chamberlain's 25,000th point was one of 31 he scored against the Pistons. He also grabbed 32 rebounds, and handed out 12 assists in leading the Eastern Division leaders to their 16th win in the last 19 games.

The 25,000th point came with 1:51 remaining in the first half and was Chamberlain's ninth point. He was fouled by Happy Hairston. Wilt dipped and underhanded toward the hoop. It hit the backboard, bounced on the rim and finally fell through as 12,382 fans roared approval at the spectrum.

The retired Pettit, who played for the St. Louis Hawks, is still runner-up on the all-time scoring list with 20,880, followed by Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor who has close to 19,500. Chamberlain's total after Friday night is 25,022.

Zelmo Beatty, survived a fight with Baltimore's Ras Scott, and went on to lead St. Louis to victory. Beatty hit for 31 points. Earl Monroe scored 25 for Baltimore.

Los Angeles gained its sixth victory in the last eight games behind a touch defense and the scoring of Jerry West, 29 points, Archie Clark, 26, and Elgin Baylor. West suffered a pulled groin muscle in the fourth period. The extent of the injury was not immediately known.

Walt Hazzard, who scored 31 points, and Bob Rule, who got 30, combined for 28 in the fourth quarter, sparking Seattle to its victory. Rooki Art Williams scored a pro career high of 26 for San Diego.

With San Francisco leading 121-119, Jeff Mullins sank a basket and Clyde Lee hit two foul shots to clinch the Warriors victory. Lee scored an NBA career high of 33 points. Tom Sanders led Boston with 25.

Run Or Pass Conversion Studied

NFL Won't Have A 'Kick' Coming If Rule Is Passed

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The automatic kick for a point after touchdown may be doomed if the National Football League follows a suggestion that was proposed at Friday's annual meeting.

A committee will study a proposal to eliminate the conversion kick in 1967 preseason games and force the team that has scored a touchdown to run or pass the ball for one point, starting from the two-yard line.

If the committee recommends the rule change, the league will vote on the proposal at the mid-May meetings to be held at a site to be determined.

The proposed elimination of the one-point conversion kick was the most interesting news from the week-long meetings of the two pro football leagues. The NFL and American Football League spent most of the time involved in working out technical problems leading to their actual merger in 1970.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle named joint committees to study television, finance, pension, Hall of Fame, player limits and trades.

One big back breaking job to be done is the realignment and scheduling of the merged 26-team league in 1970. A merger committee that has been active since 1966 will continue to work on these problems, reporting in mid-May.

The new idea on conversions was by far the most intriguing development of the meetings. Don Shula, Baltimore Colts' coach, and Otto Graham, Washington coach, were enthusiastic about the suggestion. Vince Lombardi, retired Green Bay coach, and Joe Kuharick, Philadelphia coach, had a few reservations.

The NFL office produced figures to show that the conversion kick had become almost automatic with 97 per cent of the attempts being good in each of the past three seasons. In 1967 there were 606 touchdowns and 587 successful conversions.

According to a survey of the entire 112-game season, a team with the ball on the two-yard normally averages 1.3 yards per play. However, a club scored a touchdown 48.9 per cent of the time on the first play from the two-yard line.

Art Modell of the Cleveland Browns, re-elected president of the NFL for another year on an unsalaried basis, said one result of the proposed change would be to put the individual high scoring race back into perspective.

Eight of the top 10 leading scorers in the NFL last season were kickers. If the conversion kicks were removed, Homer Jones, New York Giants' split end, would have been the top scorer with 84 points on 16 touchdowns.

Jim Bakken of St. Louis was the leader with 117 points, but that includes a perfect 36 of 36 conversions. Leroy Kelly of Cleveland with 78 points on 13 touchdowns was the only other in the top 10 who was not a kicker.

If the committee agrees, the change may be tried in preseason games next fall. Of course, the AFL has the two-point rule and will continue to use it. However, some compromise could be worked out for interleague games.

The NFL decided to make no change from its announced plans for the four divisions in 1968. That means the New York Giants will move, as scheduled, to the Capitol Division this fall, changing places with the New Orleans Saints who will move to the Century Division.

Pipers Down Muskies, Pad Eastern Lead

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pipers used Chico Vaughn's string to pull themselves farther ahead in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Vaughn's string—built of nine field goals and nine foul shots in nine attempts—sparked Pittsburgh to a 110-102 victory over Minnesota Friday night as the Pipers increased their lead to three games over second-place Muskies.

The Pipers clinched it by scoring eight straight points for a 92-83 lead with about eight minutes left.

Connie Hawkins scored 26, one less than Vaughn, for Pittsburgh, and Sam Smith, Mel Daniels and Ron Perry each got 18 for the Muskies.

In the only other ABA game, Willie Murrell scored 20 points to lead Denver over New Orleans 108-102.

Denver went ahead to stay, 101-99, on Lonnie Wright's jump shot with 3:20 left. Doug Moe led New Orleans with 32 points.

Wallace Party Okayed For Alabama Election

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — George Wallace's American Independent party has been certified to run candidates in the state's general election in November.

The party filed a copy of its articles and incorporation in Montgomery Friday.

Remain Tied With Princeton

Columbia Captures 14th In Row, Best In 17 Years

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There hasn't been so much excitement on the Columbia University campus in 17 years.

Back in 1951, the Columbia basketball team won 21 in a row, sweeping its regular season schedule, before losing in the NCAA post-season championship tournament.

The Lions are back among the leaders in college basketball this season. They have won 18 of 21 games and are sixth-ranked nationally in the Associated Press poll.

The Lions made it 14 in a row with an easy 73-45 road victory over Brown Friday night to remain tied with Princeton, 18-4, for first place in the Ivy League. Princeton, playing at home, beat Harvard 84-72.

Columbia was written off in some quarters when the Lions lost three straight to Cornell, Georgetown and Fordham early in December.

With sophomore Jim McMillian and big Dave Newmark showing the way, the Lions caught fire after that and won the Christmas Holiday Festival by whipping West Virginia, Louisville and St. John's of New York. "This is a wonderful thing to happen," a Columbia professor said after the Lions surprised virtually everyone by winning the Holiday Festival. "We are all worked up over the team."

Newmark didn't play against Brown because of a sprained ankle, but the Lions had little trouble. McMillian was content with 13 points as Bill Ames paced the Lions with 20.

Joe Heiser, with 21 points, showed the way over Harvard for Princeton. The Tigers, hopeful of regaining a spot in the AP Top Ten, are pointing for their showdown battle with Columbia next Saturday when the Ivy crown will be at stake.

It was a comparatively quiet night on the College hardwoods with the Lions the only top ten team to see action.

Stanford edged Oregon State 70-67 in overtime, California downed Oregon 76-64, Penn defeated Dartmouth 60-55, Yale whipped Cornell 83-76, Los Angeles Loyola vanquished U. of Pacific 85-82 and the Air Force humbled Denver for the first time in eight games 94-89. All were home court victories.

Tentative Site Picked For New Ohio River Span

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va., (AP) — Highway officials from West Virginia, Ohio and the federal government have agreed upon a tentative site for an Ohio River bridge to replace the Silver Bridge which collapsed here Dec. 15, killing more than 40 persons.

Henderson, a Mason County town about a mile south of here, is the tentative location.

The four - lane bridge will be part of U.S. 35. It will connect W. Va. 2 and Ohio 7.

West Virginia State Road Commissioner M. R. Hamill said an existing bridge design would be selected to avoid planning delays.

"Funds to start reconstruction are assured by the President's action making $2 million in Appalachian Regional Commission funds available to the project," Hamill said.

Ohio has agreed to contribute one - third of the matching funds necessary and West Virginia will contribute two-thirds, Hamill added.

He estimated total cost of the project at between $6 million and $12 million.

Hershey To Fight Decision About Draft Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft chief Lewis B. Hershey says he probably will fight a court decision requiring disclosure of the addresses of local draft board officials.

Hershey said Friday the Selective Service System likely will ask the Department of Justice to appeal a recent federal court decision requiring that the names, addresses, ages and military background of Local Board 136 in Philadelphia be disclosed.

The Selective Service director said he doesn't object to the court's ruling on names and ages except as it applies to revealing addresses. They should be withheld, he said, because "there are some threats going around the country."

Saying local board members are unpaid citizens who "want to feel that when they get home they're not going to be harassed with phone calls or maybe threatened," Hershey said his home telephone is listed publicly and added:

"I have always felt that being pestered at home was an occupational hazard."

Innocent Plea Given In Drug Charge Case

CLEVELAFD (AP) — A 27-year-old Alliance pharmacist pleaded innocent Friday in U.S. District Court to charge of possession and sale of dangerous drugs.

Williams L. Ferguson and George D. Winters, 34, Atwater, proprietor of a commercial truck body shop, were arrested by federal agents Feb. 7. Agents said more than 7,000 pills, stimulants and depressants were seized in Winters' body shop.

Judge Frank J. Battisti continued Ferguson's bond at $1,000, but no trial date was set.

Winters is to appear in court March 7.

Orenthel James Simpson of Southern California led major college elevens in rushing during 1967 with 1,415 yards, 141 more than runnerup Eugene Morris of West Texas State.

Run Or Pass Conversion Studied

NFL Won't Have A 'Kick' Coming If Rule Is Passed

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The automatic kick for a point after touchdown may be doomed if the National Football League follows a suggestion that was proposed at Friday's annual meeting.

A committee will study a proposal to eliminate the conversion kick in 1967 preseason games and force the team that has scored a touchdown to run or pass the ball for one point, starting from the two-yard line.

If the committee recommends the rule change, the league will vote on the proposal at the mid-May meetings to be held at a site to be determined.

The proposed elimination of the one-point conversion kick was the most interesting news from the week-long meetings of the two pro football leagues. The NFL and American Football League spent most of the time involved in working out technical problems leading to their actual merger in 1970.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle named joint committees to study television, finance, pension, Hall of Fame, player limits and trades.

One big back breaking job to be done is the realignment and scheduling of the merged 26-team league in 1970. A merger committee that has been active since 1966 will continue to work on these problems, reporting in mid-May.

The new idea on conversions was by far the most intriguing development of the meetings. Don Shula, Baltimore Colts' coach, and Otto Graham, Washington coach, were enthusiastic about the suggestion. Vince Lombardi, retired Green Bay coach, and Joe Kuharick, Philadelphia coach, had a few reservations.

The NFL office produced figures to show that the conversion kick had become almost automatic with 97 per cent of the attempts being good in each of the past three seasons. In 1967 there were 606 touchdowns and 587 successful conversions.

According to a survey of the entire 112-game season, a team with the ball on the two-yard normally averages 1.3 yards per play. However, a club scored a touchdown 48.9 per cent of the time on the first play from the two-yard line.

Art Modell of the Cleveland Browns, re-elected president of the NFL for another year on an unsalaried basis, said one result of the proposed change would be to put the individual high scoring race back into perspective.

Eight of the top 10 leading scorers in the NFL last season were kickers. If the conversion kicks were removed, Homer Jones, New York Giants' split end, would have been the top scorer with 84 points on 16 touchdowns.

Jim Bakken of St. Louis was the leader with 117 points, but that includes a perfect 36 of 36 conversions. Leroy Kelly of Cleveland with 78 points on 13 touchdowns was the only other in the top 10 who was not a kicker.

If the committee agrees, the change may be tried in preseason games next fall. Of course, the AFL has the two-point rule and will continue to use it. However, some compromise could be worked out for interleague games.

The NFL decided to make no change from its announced plans for the four divisions in 1968. That means the New York Giants will move, as scheduled, to the Capitol Division this fall, changing places with the New Orleans Saints who will move to the Century Division.

Pipers Down Muskies, Pad Eastern Lead

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pipers used Chico Vaughn's string to pull themselves farther ahead in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Vaughn's string—built of nine field goals and nine foul shots in nine attempts—sparked Pittsburgh to a 110-102 victory over Minnesota Friday night as the Pipers increased their lead to three games over second-place Muskies.

The Pipers clinched it by scoring eight straight points for a 92-83 lead with about eight minutes left.

Connie Hawkins scored 26, one less than Vaughn, for Pittsburgh, and Sam Smith, Mel Daniels and Ron Perry each got 18 for the Muskies.

In the only other ABA game, Willie Murrell scored 29 points to lead Denver over New Orleans 108-102.

Denver went ahead to stay, 101-99, on Lonnie Wright's jump shot with 3:20 left. Doug Moe led New Orleans with 32 points.

Maple Heights Has Upper Hand In Mat Tourney

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Defending champion Maple Heights had the jump on all other competition going into today's semifinal and final rounds of the State High School Wrestling Tournament.

Maple Heights, seeking its third straight championship, rolled up 12 points in Friday's opening rounds and placed five wrestlers in the semifinals.

In other preliminary and quarterfinal action, Toledo St. Francis, Kent State High and Parma Valley Forge,each with three semifinalists, racked up eight points apiece.

With two victories each on Friday, two defending champions, Maple Heights' Tom Milkovich at 112-pounds and Toledo Whitmer's Greg Wojciechowski in the heavyweight division, advanced to the finals.

Wallace Party Okayed For Alabama Election

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — George Wallace's American Independent party has been certified to run candidates in the state's general election in November.

The party filed a copy of its articles and incorporation in Montgomery Friday.

Remain Tied With Princeton

Columbia Captures 14th In Row, Best In 17 Years

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There hasn't been so much excitement on the Columbia University campus in 17 years.

Back in 1951, the Columbia basketball team won 21 in a row, sweeping its regular season schedule, before losing in the NCAA post-season championship tournament.

The Lions are back among the leaders in college basketball this season. They have won 18 of 21 games and are sixth-ranked nationally in the Associated Press poll.

The Lions made it 14 in a row with an easy 73-45 road victory over Brown Friday night to remain tied with Princeton, 18-4, for first place in the Ivy League. Princeton, playing at home, beat Harvard 84-72.

Columbia was written off in some quarters when the Lions lost three straight to Cornell, Georgetown and Fordham early in December.

With sophomore Jim McMillian and big Dave Newmark showing the way, the Lions caught fire after that and won the Christmas Holiday Festival by whipping West Virginia, Louisville and St. John's of New York. "This is a wonderful thing to happen," a Columbia professor said after the Lions surprised virtually everyone by winning the Holiday Festival. "We are all worked up over the team."

Newmark didn't play against Brown because of a sprained ankle, but the Lions had little trouble. McMillian was content with 13 points as Bill Ames paced the Lions with 20.

Joe Heiser, with 21 points, showed the way over Harvard for Princeton. The Tigers, hopeful of regaining a spot in the AP Top Ten, are pointing for their showdown battle with Columbia next Saturday when the Ivy crown will be at stake.

It was a comparatively quiet night on the College hardwoods with the Lions the only top ten team to see action.

Stanford edged Oregon State 70-67 in overtime, California downed Oregon 76-64, Penn defeated Dartmouth 60-55, Yale whipped Cornell 83-76, Los Angeles Loyola vanquished U. of Pacific 85-82 and the Air Force humbled Denver for the first time in eight games 94-89. All were home court victories.

Tentative Site Picked For New Ohio River Span

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va., (AP) — Highway officials from West Virginia, Ohio and the federal government have agreed upon a tentative site for an Ohio River bridge to replace the Silver Bridge which collapsed here Dec. 15, killing more than 40 persons.

Henderson, a Mason County town about a mile south of here, is the tentative location.

The four - lane bridge will be part of U.S. 35. It will connect W. Va. 2 and Ohio 7.

West Virginia State Road Commissioner M. R. Hamill said an existing bridge design would be selected to avoid planning delays.

"Funds to start reconstruction are assured by the President's action making $2 million in Appalachian Regional Commission funds available to the project," Hamill said.

Ohio has agreed to contribute one - third of the matching funds necessary and West Virginia will contribute two-thirds, Hamill added.

He estimated total cost of the project at between $6 million and $12 million.

Hershey To Fight Decision About Draft Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft chief Lewis B. Hershey says he probably will fight a court decision requiring disclosure of the addresses of local draft board officials.

Hershey said Friday the Selective Service System likely will ask the Department of Justice to appeal a recent federal court decision requiring that the names, addresses, ages and military background of Local Board 136 in Philadelphia be disclosed.

The Selective Service director said he doesn't object to the court's ruling on names and ages except as it applies to revealing addresses. They should be withheld, he said, because "there are some threats going around the country."

Saying local board members are unpaid citizens who "want to feel that when they get home they're not going to be harassed with phone calls or maybe threatened," Hershey said his home telephone is listed publicly and added:

"I have always felt that being pestered at home was an occupational hazard."

Innocent Plea Given In Drug Charge Case

CLEVELAFD (AP) — A 27-year-old Alliance pharmacist pleaded innocent Friday in U.S. District Court to charge of possession and sale of dangerous drugs.

Williams L. Ferguson and George D. Winters, 34, Atwater, proprietor of a commercial truck body shop, were arrested by federal agents Feb. 7. Agents said more than 7,000 pills, stimulants and depressants were seized in Winters' body shop.

Judge Frank J. Battisti continued Ferguson's bond at $1,000, but no trial date was set.

Winters is to appear in court March 7.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

HELEN F. OLIVER In loving remembrance of our dear wife, mother and grandmother who passed away 6 years ago today February 24, 1962.
It only takes a little space
To write how much we miss you.
But it will take to the end of our days
To forget the day we lost you.
Nothing can ever take away,
The love our hearts hold dear,
Cherished memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps you dear.
Lovingly - husband, daughters, sons, grandchildren

In loving memory of Jeanette Fletcher who passed away two years ago (Feb. 24, 1966) By her niece Mrs. Eleanor Spackman.
Just missing you so much
Your soft voice and gentle touch
In my heart you'll remain
Till we are together again
The Lord bless you above
You'll always have my love
May you always find peace
And your happiness never cease.

3 CARD OF THANKS

Legislation Fills Air In War On Pollution

CHICAGO (AP)—The various states in 1967 enacted more than three times the amount of air pollution control, noise control and solid waste disposal legislation they approved the year before.

Commerce Clearing House said well over 100 laws related to such problems were passed across the country, compared with 34 such enactments in 1966.

Laws provide tax exemptions, license credits and other incentives designed to eliminate air pollution. They authorized the formation of air pollution control commissions, councils, agencies and boards.

State pacts also combined states into regional enforcers of rules on air pollution. Connecticut, New York and New Jersey approved their entrances into the Mid - Atlantic States Air Pact which would also include Delaware and Pennsylvania.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

HELEN F. OLIVER In loving remembrance of our dear wife, mother and grandmother who passed away 8 years ago today February 24, 1960.
It only takes a little space
To write how much we miss you.
But it will take to the end of our days
To forget the day we lost you.
Nothing can ever take away,
The love our hearts hold dear,
Cherished memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps you dear,
Lovingly - husband, daughters, sons, grandchildren

In loving memory of Jeanette Fletcher who passed away two years ago (Feb. 24, 1966) By her niece Mrs. Eleanor Spackman.
Just missing you so much
Your soft voice and gentle touch
In my heart you'll remain
Till we are together again
The Lord bless you above
You'll always have my love
May you always find peace
And your happiness never cease.

3 CARD OF THANKS

To our many wonderful friends who showed care and concern during our hour of need — Thanks. Leroy and John Barcus, Mildred Jones and Norma Windle.

Legislation Fills Air In War On Pollution

CHICAGO (AP)—The various states in 1967 enacted more than three times the amount of air pollution control, noise control and solid waste disposal legislation they approved the year before.

Commerce Clearing House said well over 100 laws related to such problems were passed across the country, compared with 34 such enactments in 1966.

Laws provide tax exemptions, license credits and other incentives designed to eliminate air pollution. They authorized the formation of air pollution control commissions, councils, agencies and boards.

State pacts also combined states into regional enforcers of rules on air pollution. Connecticut, New York and New Jersey approved their entrances into the [illegible] - Atlantic States Air Pact, which would also include Delaware and Pennsylvania.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

HELEN F. OLIVER In loving remembrance of our dear wife, mother and grandmother who passed away 8 years ago today February 24, 1960.
It only takes a little space
To write how much we miss you.
But it will take to the end of our days
To forget the day we lost you.
Nothing can ever take away,
The love our hearts hold dear,
Cherished memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps you dear.
Lovingly - husband, daughters, sons, grandchildren

In loving memory of Jeanette Fletcher who passed away two years ago (Feb. 24, 1966) By her niece Mrs. Eleanor Spackman.
Just missing you so much
Your soft voice and gentle touch
In my heart you'll remain
Till we are together again
The Lord bless you above
You'll always have my love
May you always find peace
And your happiness never cease.

3 CARD OF THANKS

To our many wonderful friends who showed care and concern during our hour of need — Thanks. Leroy and John Barcus, Mildred Jones and Norma Windle.

Legislation Fills Air In War On Pollution

CHICAGO (AP)—The various states in 1967 enacted more than three times the amount of air pollution control, noise control and solid waste disposal legislation they approved the year before.

Commerce Clearing House said well over 100 laws related to such problems were passed across the country, compared with 34 such enactments in 1966.

Laws provide tax exemptions, license credits and other incentives designed to eliminate air pollution. They authorized the formation of air pollution control commissions, councils, agencies and boards.

State pacts also combined states into regional enforcers of rules on air pollution. Connecticut, New York and New Jersey approved their entrances into the Mid - Atlantic States Air Pact which would also include Delaware and Pennsylvania.

2 IN MEMORIAM

HELEN F. OLIVER In loving remembrance of our dear wife, mother and grandmother who passed away 8 years ago today February 24, 1960.
It only takes a little space
To write how much we miss you.
But it will take to the end of our days
To forget the day we lost you.
Nothing can ever take away,
The love our hearts hold dear,
Cherished memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps you dear,
Lovingly - husband, daughters, sons, grandchildren

In loving memory of Jeanette Fletcher who passed away two years ago (Feb. 24, 1966) By her niece Mrs. Eleanor Spackman.
Just missing you so much
Your soft voice and gentle touch
In my heart you'll remain
Till we are together again
The Lord bless you above
You'll always have my love
May you always find peace
And your happiness never cease.

3 CARD OF THANKS

QUESTION: How important was the buffalo to the Indians?

ANSWER: As the ancestors of our present-day Indians moved across the land bridge from Asia and fanned southward through North America, some of them arrived in the open prairies. Here they found immense herds of buffalo. They soon realized the possibility of hunting these animals for food. Many of them made permanent villages but followed the buffalo during the hunting season and brought back quantities of dried meat and buffalo hides. These Indians used large dogs hitched to a kind of sled called a travois. This enabled them to carry large quantities of meat and hides back to their camp. Soon the Indians learned what a wonderful source of living material the buffalo could give them. The meat could be used in many ways; the hides could be cured and softened. Elaborate clothing was made by these Indians with trousers for the men and long dresses for the women and children. By sewing 15 to 30 buffalo hides together, an Indian tent or tepee could be made which was then stretched around a set of poles as our illustration shows. Fires were lit inside the tepee with an opening at the top through which smoke could pass out. Such tepees were works of art, often beautifully decorated.

Chester Firemen Continue Probe In Trailer Blaze

An investigation was continuing today into Friday's fire which destroyed the large trailer home of Mrs. Jo Anne Armus of Chester.

While no official cause of the blaze has yet been determined by Chester firemen, a faulty furnace may have touched off the flames, it was speculated.

The fire broke out early Friday. The home was unoccupied at the time and the flames had gained considerable headway before the department was summoned.

Weirton Group Will Hold Dinner

The annual spring meeting of the Weirton Steel Employes 25-Year Club will be held March 9 in the Millsop Community Center at Weirton.

After the awards presentations, there will be a stage show. The meeting will conclude with a buffet supper.

Thieves Enter Office Of Industry Church

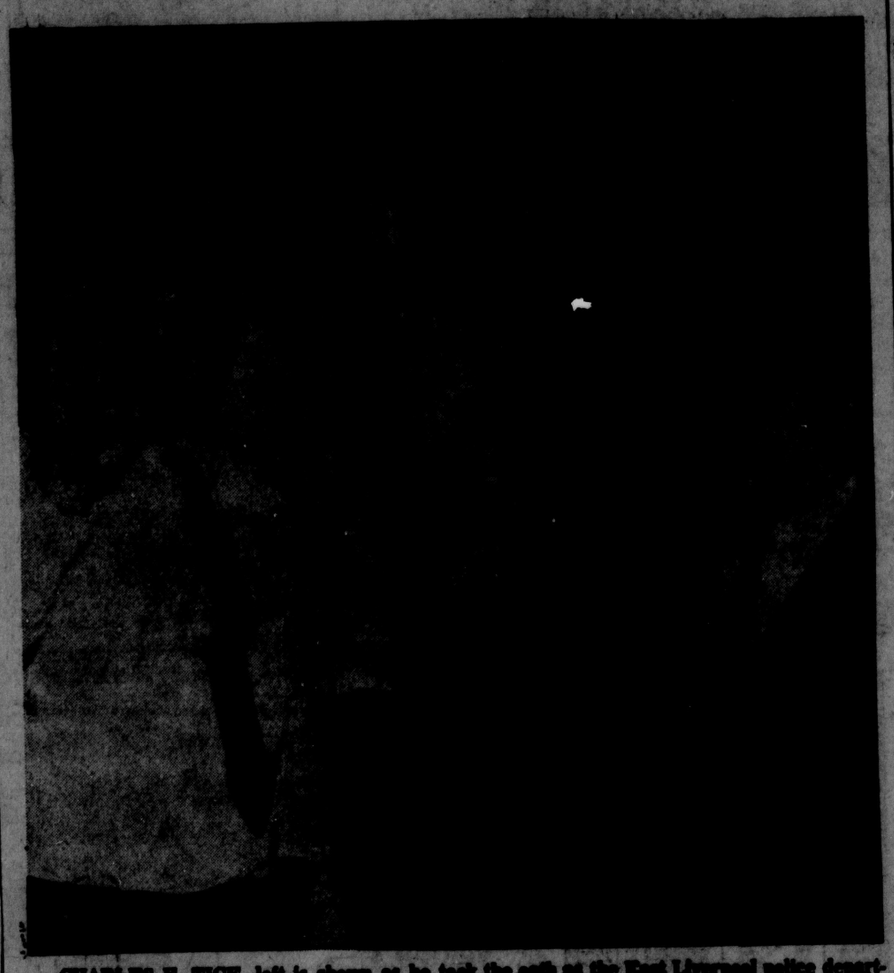
INDUSTRY — Police continued investigation today of the theft of small items from the pastor's study of St. Christine Catholic Church Friday.

The office of Fr. Adelbert Williams was ransacked by intruders, but no valuables were taken, he told Patrolman Roy Hohenshell.

An inventory was taken, and latent fingerprints found. Fr. Williams said the study cupboards and drawers were ransacked as well as a downstairs hall and classrooms.

During Ceremonies Friday

2 Take New Police Posts



CHARLES E. TICE, left is shown as he took the oath at the East Liverpool police department's second captain Friday from Mayor George E. Willshaw. Looking on is Paul C. Blevins, who was sworn in at the same time as a lieutenant.

Charles E. (Bill) Tice, formerly a lieutenant, was sworn in Friday afternoon by Mayor George E. Willshaw as the police department's second captain.

Tice, the only man on the Civil Service Commission eligibility list for the post, was appointed by Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

Promotion to any rank above patrolman goes automatically to the man at the top of the eligibility list.

THE ADVANCEMENT of Tice is scheduled to clear the way for creation of a new police department "administrative and staff services division" to handle such duties as personnel, training, safety and public information.

Chief A. J. Radeschi recommended the establishment of the second captaincy and the creation of the new police department division in a letter to Council Feb. 5. Council enacted legislation last Monday night setting up the new job.

The chief said Det. Capt. Kenneth H. Money will continue to head up the investigative and administrative branch, while Tice will be assigned in direct charge of uniformed officers, as well as other duties.

Despite the creation of the new job, there will be no increase in the size of the force. In adding the captaincy, Council cut the number of patrolmen from 21 to 20. Robert B. Pyle and Paul A. Burson Jr. are the other two lieutenants.

Money won promotion to captain to succeed the late Robert H. Pyle, father of the lieutenant. Tice ranked second on the eligibility list, which put him in direct line for the next opening.

THE CAPTAIN'S post pays $502 monthly. The new captain, 40, has been on the force since November 1950, when he was appointed in the administration of Former Mayor Arnold W. Devon.

He served until July 1953, when he resigned to become a case worker with the County Welfare Department. He returned to the police department in 1954 and served until 1956. From 1956 to 1958, he was with the plant protection department of the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co. He returned to the force in 1958.

Tice won the top grade in a Civil Service test in December 1962 and was appointed a lieutenant to succeed Thomas A. Walker, resigned.

Blevins joined the police force Nov. 30, 1961, under an appointment by Robert Owen, who was safety service director in the administration of former Mayor Bert H. Goodballet.

A 1957 graduate of East Liverpool High School, he served from 1958 to 1960 with the Army armored infantry, seeing service in Germany. A native of East Liverpool, he is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lantford Blevins.

Silver Gets New Fans In Coin Market

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of people are spending their lunch hours at the coin dealer cashing in on the great silver rush of 1968.

Speculators, prompted by the current high price of silver, are paying a premium for 90 per cent silver U.S. coins—those minted in 1964 and before.

They're gambling that the government will lift its ban on private citizens melting the coins. Melted down the silver can be sold for more than the face value of the coins.

The U.S. Treasury, which opposes lifting the ban, has been accumulating as many of the "old" silver coins as it can on the theory that any profit derived from melting should go to the government.

"I'm not gambling," says Joel Coen of Coen-Messer Co. in New York, "my customers are. I've got customers all over the country. A customer calls me up and says 'Get me $9 bags' (of silver coins), and I get them for him."

The premiums Coen and his partner, Dan Messer, pay for the "old" silver coins range from $1.05 for a silver dollar to 10.3 cents for a dime. A half dollar gets 53 cents and a quarter draws 25¾ cents.

"We're being swamped with silver coins," says Coen, gesturing at five men waiting their turn in the small store, each clutching a box or a bag stuffed with at least $100 worth of coins. "We get 40 to 50 people a day. They come from all over—subway change people, cab drivers, vending machine people, bank tellers bartenders, the whole bit."

The law of supply and demand is responsible for the activity in silver.

For years, the Treasury held the price of American silver at a ceiling of $1.29 an ounce despite the fact that silver consumption was outstripping production.

In an effort to get more silver on the market, the Coinage Act of 1965 eliminated all silver from the dime and the quarter and reduced the silver content of the half dollar from 90 to 40 per cent. The government also began removing silver certificates from circulation but they can be redeemed for silver bullion until June 24.

As the demand for silver continued to outstrip supply, the Treasury finally abandoned its $1.29 an ounce price last July and the price of an ounce of silver since has soared as high as $2.17—although it varies from day to day.

Coen says his firm did a gross business of between $10 million and $15 million in 1967.

"I'll keep doing this as long as I have customers," Coen says. "The minute I don't have customers, I quit. You can bet your life we're not going to be left holding the bag."

At Sweetheart Dance

Reigns As Queen

Linda Hager, dauger of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hager of 2037 Ohio Ave., was crowned by Dale Jones as queen of the East Liverpool High School Key Club "Sweetheart Dance" Friday night at the IBOP hall near Williamsport. More than 200 attended.

Dave Burcham, left, was the queen's escort. Jones is president of the Key Club.

Suzy Jackson was second attendant to the queen and Vicki Jones first attendant. Other candidates were Linda Alexander, Jane DeLong and Susie Williams. Roger Aronson was chairman of the dance.

Committee chairmen were Tim Cunningham, decorations; Rich King, coronation; Fred Schuitz, refreshments, and Oliver Spencer, tickets. James Moore is faculty adviser.

Protesting Role In Viet War

U.S. Army Deserters Set Goal Of 2,000 Defectors

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A goal of 2,000 defectors in Sweden was set today by a group of American Army deserters protesting the U.S. role in the Vietnamese war.

They are entering Sweden at an average of one a day and this rate will pick up, said Richard Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla., one of the four American sailors who quit the aircraft carrier Intrepid in Japan last fall and arrived here via Moscow Dec. 29.

The four sailors are among the 13 who have been granted asylum by the Swedish government.

The Swedish aliens commission said it had a list of at least 30 Americans who had defected and others were being added almost daily. Requests for asylum are pending.

The deserters have scheduled a meeting Sunday to organize an association which they said would work with a similar federation of American defectors in France.

There are at least 100 to 150 Army deserters in France, Bailey said.

"You don't hear too much about them. They aren't accepted as they are here. They have to work through the underground."

Defecting servicemen are working through two groups—the moderate Stockholm conference on Vietnam, headed by the prominent Swedish pacifist Gunnar Myrdal, and the militant, left-wing National Liberation Front, (FNL).

The U.S. servicemen who have found refuge in Sweden have split into two camps but most of them, according to Bailey, are solidly behind the planned defectors' organization.

"We believe we will have 2,000 by the end of the year," Bailey said. "That means 2,000 less bodies in the U.S. Army and fewer deaths in Vietnam. It also means a stronger voice for us to send the people back home."

Reports of new defections mounted.

Gosta Johansson of the Swedish Aliens Commission reported the arrival in the last few days of four infantrymen and a sailor, not identified.

Another soldier flew to Stockholm from the United States, conferred with Swedish authorities about possible citizenship and 24 hours later took a plane home.

Johansson told of another case of a U.S. Army man, also unidentified, coming to Sweden on a leave and then quickly going back to his unit in West Germany.

The soldier complained that it was too cold here, the aliens commission official said.

After Months Of Testimony

Texas Interests Favored In Case Of $300 Million

SARITA, Tex. (AP) — After months of testimony, a special probate judge has ruled in favor of Texas interests in the case of the $300-million estate of Sarita Kenedy East. The other contestants included a New York industrialist and a Trappist monk from Massachusetts.

Judge William R. Edwards sat beneath a stern portrait of ranch baron Mifflin Kenedy in the Kenedy County Courthouse Friday to issue his ruling that he would admit to probate a 1948 will and 1959 codicil of Mrs. East which named South Texans among the heirs.

All parties have indicated they will appeal any decision against them.

The crowd in the packed courtroom included many of the would-be heirs from South Texas. Some of the women wore furs. Diamond rings sparkled on many fingers.

At issue was the wills and codicils of the late Mrs. East, who died in 1961 after developing a close friendship with a former Trappist monk, Christopher Gregory. Gregory was known in his religious order as Brother Leo.

Judge Edwards said Mrs. East, in a 1950 will and codicil, was unduly influenced by New York shipping magnate J. Peter Grace and Brother Leo.

The 1950 will set up a foundation to run the estate. Brother Leo and Grace were on the foundation board.

"Under the preponderance of the evidence introduced at that trial the question of the validity of the 1950 will and codicils thereto, it is clearly established that undue influence existed and was the procuring factor as to all or parts of such instrument," Edwards said.

His ruling has yet to be filed. An appeal would take the case to state district court.

Gregory was not in the courtroom Friday and has never appeared once during the hearings which began last fall.

One of the heirs to a 1948 will made out by Mrs. East, a granddaughter of ranch founder Kenedy, was Robert Turcotte, who stands to become richer by millions if the 1948 will is upheld through the appeals. He showed no emotion after Edwards' ruling but predicted the estate case may consume five years. Other heirs under the 1948 will include some Roman Catholic institutions.

The ranch fortune involved includes the 400,000-acre La Parra ranch in South Texas as well as the spread's cattle and oil and other minerals.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I clean and freshen up wood - panelled walls that are finished with varnish or shellac?

A. — After dusting, freshen them up by applying the following mixture: Combine ¼-cup of pure gum turpentine, one cup of boiled linseed oil, and about a tablespoon of vinegar. With a clean cloth, apply a very thin coating of this, let stand for about 15 minutes, then rub until it meets the test of a fingertip without smudging or marking.

Q. — How can I forestall yellowing in some important documents I am storing away?

A. — By wrapping these papers in blue tissue paper, or in a cloth dyed with bluing.

Q. — How can I prevent Angora sweaters, gloves and scarves from shedding so much?

A. — By keeping these articles in your refrigerator between wearings. Usually works fine.

Q.—How can I condition a new paint brush for many efficient use and for longer life?

A.—By soaking the brush in linseed oil for about twelve hours. Your brush will then handle more easily, and will clean much easier, too, in the future.

Home Destroyed In Beaver Area

BEAVER — The interior of a South Beaver Township home was destroyed Friday night, leaving the family of four homeless.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schreiner and family of Georgetown Rd. were not at home when the blaze broke out before 9 p.m., and was discovered by a passerby.

Forty firemen, including departments from South Beaver, Chippewa and Ohioville, responded to the alarm. Tankers from Ohioville and Chippewa were summoned at 9:05 to provide water.

Two Cars In Mishap At Waterford Park

Damage was minor in a two-car collision Friday at 1:05 p.m. at the intersection of Route 2 and the stable gate at Waterford Park.

A car driven by Anthony Skolny, 47, of 1013 Phoenix Ave., Chester, was struck from behind by a vehicle operated by Dominic Gargone, 69, of Youngstown.

Skolny told Hancock County deputies he started to make a right turn into the stable gate entrance when a small truck came out of the gate. Skolny stopped to avoid hitting the truck and was hit from behind by Gargone's vehicle.

No injuries were reported and no citations issued.

Wreckers Continue Demolition Of Hotel

LISBON — Wreckers have removed nearly all the third story of the century - old Lisbon Hotel, which was damaged by fire Jan. 18.

The building has been condemned by state and local fire and health officials.

Robert Delgandri of Youngstown is the owner. Officials said any plans he has to repair the structure must be submitted to the Ohio Department of Public Buildings for approval.

The fire burned out the second and third floors in the southeast corner above the Buckeye Tavern.

Mrs. Wallace Feels Well, Doctors Reveal

MONTGOMERY, Ala. AP — Gov. Lurleen Wallace's doctors say the atrophied state of a tumor they removed from Mrs. Wallace's pelvic region makes them hopeful that her third cancer operation has cleared away all traces of cancer.

They said Friday they hoped she would be able to go back to work in a month or so.

Doctors reported that the governor "is doing well and she feels well" after the operation Thursday.

They said her condition must be considered serious, "as any person's would be this length of time after a major operation." But "we wouldn't say she is critical."

Auto's Door Damaged In East End Collision

The door of a 1966 model auto was damaged in a two-way collision early Friday afternoon on Pennsylvania Ave., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1956 model car driven by Clifford Clutter, 43, of Post Office Box 1420, Station A, and a 1966 auto operated by Carl Bailey, 50, of Post Office Box 161. It damaged the right front door of Bailey's car.

Clutter told Patrolman Jack Strobel he was pulling off the parking lot at the Station A Post Office, while Bailey was turning from Pennsylvania Ave. onto the lot.

Editor Dies At 59

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — C. Allen Van Fossen, 59, managing editor of the Camden Courier-Post since 1963, died Friday after a heart attack. He started with the newspaper 34 years ago as a copy boy.

Richest thoroughbred races in Europe are for 3-year-olds. In America the 2-year-olds have the biggest purses.

Area Residents Are Warned That 'Strep' Season Is Here

The "strep" season is here, area residents have been reminded by the Columbiana County Health Department at Lisbon.

"From now through spring," said Dr. M. K. Singer of the department, "is the period when most so-called 'strep' infections occur. Striking anyone regardless of age, they can be far more dangerous to health than many people might suspect."

A "strep" infection, he explained, gets its name from a scientific term for the bacteria which produce the infection, streptococcus. He said only certain types of these bacteria are harmful and that sore throat is the most common indication of infection by them.

Usually entering the body through the mouth, these microscopic organisms can grow rapidly under favorable conditions found in the throat. As they multiply, a substance irritating to throat membranes is given off causing the familiar raw, sore feeling of "strep" throat. Fever generally accompanies it, Dr. Singer continued.

He cautioned that "strep" infections are contagious, the bacteria being spread mainly by direct or close contact between people. The ideal conditions for epidemic spread of "strep" bacteria are found in crowded, confined areas. Hence, early detection of such infections offers a good preventative measure.

Dr. Singer said that at present the County Health Department, along with the Columbiana County Branch of the Heart Association of Eastern Ohio and the Salem and East Liverpool Departments of Health are now cooperating with the Ohio Department of Health to make adequate throat culture facilities available to all physicians in Columbiana County.

"Your physician has these throat culture kits in his office now," he said. "These are furnished by the State Department of Health, free of charge, and the culture of smears is also done in your state laboratory free of charge. Your physician may charge you for his service.

"Take your children to your physician for examination when they have a sore throat—don't take a chance with their health and let them end up as cardiac cripples the rest of their lives."

Alabama's freshman football team won three of its four games, including a 7-3 victory over Tennessee. The Tide bowed to Ole Miss 21-3.

Chester Firemen Continue Probe In Trailer Blaze

An investigation was continuing today into Friday's fire which destroyed the large trailer home of Mrs. Jo Anne Armus of Chester.

While no official cause of the blaze has yet been determined by Chester firemen, a faulty furnace may have touched off the flames, it was speculated.

The fire broke out early Friday. The home was unoccupied at the time and the flames had gained considerable headway before the department was summoned.

INDUSTRY — Police continued investigation today of the theft of small items from the pastor's study of St. Christine Catholic Church Friday.

The office of Fr. Adelbert Williams was ransacked by intruders, but no valuables were taken, he told Patrolman Roy Hohenshell.

An inventory was taken, and latent fingerprints found. Fr. Williams said the study cupboards and drawers were ransacked as well as a downstairs hall and classrooms.

During Ceremonies Friday

2 Take New Police Posts

CHARLES E. TICE, left is shown as he took the oath as the East Liverpool police department's second captain Friday from Mayor George E. Willshaw. Looking on is Paul C. Blevins, who was sworn in at the same time as a lieutenant.

Charles E. (Bill) Tice, formerly a lieutenant, was sworn in Friday afternoon by Mayor George E. Willshaw as the police department's second captain.

Tice, the only man on the Civil Service Commission eligibility list for the post, was appointed by Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

Patrolman Paul C. Blevins took the oath of office at the same time to advance to lieutenant, filling the vacancy created by Tice's promotion.

Promotion to any rank above patrolman goes automatically to the man at the top of the eligibility list.

THE ADVANCEMENT of Tice is scheduled to clear the way for creation of a new police department "administrative and staff services division" to handle such duties as personnel, training, safety and public information.

Chief A. J. Radeschi recommended the establishment of the second captaincy and the creation of the new police department division in a letter to Council Feb. 5. Council enacted legislation last Monday night setting up the new job.

The chief said Det. Capt. Kenneth H. Money will continue to head up the investigative and administrative branch, while Tice will be assigned in direct charge of uniformed officers, as well as other duties.

Despite the creation of the new job, there will be no increase in the size of the force. In adding the captaincy, Council cut the number of patrolmen from 21 to 20. Robert B. Pyle and Paul A. Burson Jr. are the other two lieutenants.

Money won promotion to captain to succeed the late Robert H. Pyle, father of the lieutenant. Tice ranked second on the eligibility list, which put him in direct line for the next opening.

THE CAPTAIN'S post pays $502 monthly. The new captain, 40, has been on the force since November 1950, when he was appointed in the administration of Former Mayor Arnold W. Devon.

He served until July 1953, when he resigned to become a case worker with the County Welfare Department. He returned to the police department in 1954 and served until 1956. From 1956 to 1958, he was with the plant protection department of the Midland Division of the Crucibls Steel Co. He returned to the force in 1958.

Tice won the top grade in a Civil Service test in December 1962 and was appointed a lieutenant to succeed Thomas A. Walker, resigned.

Blevins joined the police force Nov. 30, 1961, under an appointment by Robert Owen, who was safety service director in the administration of former Mayor Bert H. Goodballet.

A 1957 graduate of East Liverpool High School, he served from 1958 to 1960 with the Army armored infantry, seeing service in Germany. A native of East Liverpool, he is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lantford Blevins.

After Months Of Testimony

Texas Interests Favored In Case Of $300 Million

SARITA, Tex. (AP) — After months of testimony, a special probate judge has ruled in favor of Texas interests in the case of the $300-million estate of Sarita Kenedy East. The other contestants included a New York industrialist and a Trappist monk from Massachusetts.

Judge William R. Edwards sat beneth a stern portrait of ranch baron Mifflin Kenedy in the Kenedy County Courthouse Friday to issue his ruling that he would admit to probate a 1948 will and 1950 codicil of Mrs. East which named South Texans among the heirs.

All parties have indicated they will appeal any decision against them.

The crowd in the packed courtroom included many of the would-be heirs from South Texas. Some of the women wore furs. Diamond rings sparkled on many fingers.

At issue was the wills and codicils of the late Mrs. East, who died in 1961 after developing a close friendship with a former Trappist monk, Christopher Gregory. Gregory was known in his religious order as Brother Leo.

Judge Edwards said Mrs. East, in a 1960 will and codicil, was unduly influenced by New York shipping magnate J. Peter Grace and Brother Leo.

The 1960 will set up a foundation to run the estate. Brother Leo and Grace were on the foundation board.

"Under the preponderance of the evidence introduced at that trial the question of the validity of the 1960 will and codicils thereto, it is clearly established that undue influence existed and was the procuring factor as to all or parts of such instrument," Edwards said.

His ruling has yet to be filed. An appeal would take the case to state district court.

Gregory was not in the courtroom Friday and has never appeared once during the hearings which began last fall.

One of the heirs to a 1948 will made out by Mrs. East, a granddaughter of ranch founder Kenedy, was Robert Turcotte, who stands to become richer by millions if the 1948 will is upheld through the appeals. He showed no emotion after Edwards' ruling but predicted the estate case may consume five years. Other heirs under the 1948 will include some Roman Catholic institutions.

The ranch fortune involved includes the 400,000-acre La Parra ranch in South Texas as well as the spread's cattle and oil and other minerals.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I clean and freshen up wood - paneled walls that are finished with varnish or shellac?

A. — After dusting, freshen them up by applying the following mixture: Combine ½-cup of pure gum turpentine, one cup of boiled linseed oil, and about a tablespoon of vinegar. With a clean cloth, apply a very thin coating of this, let stand for about 15 minutes, then rub until it meets the test of a fingertip without smudging or marking.

Q. — How can I forestall yellowing in some important documents I am storing away?

A. — By wrapping these papers in blue tissue paper, or in a cloth dyed with bluing.

Q. — How can I prevent Angora sweaters, gloves and scarves from shedding so much?

A. — By keeping these articles in your refrigerator between wearings. Usually works fine.

Q.—How can I condition a new paint brush for more efficient use and for longer life?

A.—By soaking the brush in linseed oil for about twelve hours. Your brush will then handle more easily, and will clean much easier, too, in the future.

Home Destroyed In Beaver Area

BEAVER — The interior of a South Beaver Township home was destroyed Friday night, leaving the family of four homeless.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schreiner and family of Georgetown Rd. were not at home when the blaze broke out before 9 p.m., and was discovered by a passerby.

Forty firemen, including departments from South Beaver, Chippewa and Ohioville, responded to the alarm. Tankers from Ohioville and Chippewa were summoned at 9:05 to provide water.

Two Cars In Mishap At Waterford Park

Damage was minor in a two-car collision Friday at 1:05 p.m. at the intersection of Route 2 and the stable gate at Waterford Park.

A car driven by Anthony Skolny, 47, of 1013 Phoenix Ave., Chester, was struck from behind by a vehicle operated by Dominic Gargone, 69, of Youngstown.

Skolny told Hancock County deputies he started to make a right turn into the stable gate entrance when a small truck came out of the gate. Skolny stopped to avoid hitting the truck and was hit from behind by Gargone's vehicle.

No injuries were reported and no citations issued.

Wreckers Continue Demolition Of Hotel

LISBON — Wreckers have removed nearly all the third story of the century - old Lisbon Hotel, which was damaged by fire Jan. 19.

The building has been condemned by state and local fire and health officials.

Robert Delquadri of Youngstown is the owner. Officials said any plans he has to repair the structure must be submitted to the Ohio Department of Public Buildings for approval.

The fire burned out the second and third floors in the southeast corner above the Buckeye Tavern.

Silver Gets New Fans In Coin Market

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of people are spending their lunch hours at the coin dealer cashing in on the great silver rush of 1968.

Speculators, prompted by the current high price of silver, are paying a premium for 90 per cent silver U.S. coins—those minted in 1964 and before.

They're gambling that the government will lift its ban on private citizens melting the coins. Melted down the silver can be sold for more than the face value of the coins.

The U.S. Treasury, which opposes lifting the ban, has been accumulating as many of the "old" silver coins as it can on the theory that any profit derived from melting should go to the government.

"I'm not gambling," says Joel Coen of Coen-Messer Co. in New York, "my customers are. I've got customers all over the country. A customer calls me up and says 'Get me 50 bags' (of silver coins), and I get them for him."

The premiums Coen and his partner, Dan Messer, pay for the "old" silver coins range from $1.65 for a silver dollar to 10.3 cents for a dime. A half dollar gets 53 cents and a quarter draws 25¾ cents.

"We're being swamped with silver coins," says Coen, gesturing at five men waiting their turn in the small store, each clutching a box or a bag stuffed with at least $100 worth of coins. "We get 40 to 50 people a day. They come from all over—subway change people, cab drivers, vending machine people, bank tellers bartenders, the whole bit."

The law of supply and demand is responsible for the activity in silver.

For years, the Treasury held the price of American silver at a ceiling of $1.29 an ounce despite the fact that silver consumption was outstripping production.

In an effort to get more silver on the market, the Coinage Act of 1965 eliminated all silver from the dime and the quarter and reduced the silver content of the half dollar from 90 to 40 per cent. The government also began removing silver certificates from circulation but they can be redeemed for silver bullion until June 24.

As the demand for silver continued to outstrip supply, the Treasury finally abandoned its $1.29 an ounce price last July and the price of an ounce of silver since has soared as high as $2.17—although it varies from day to day.

Coen says his firm did a gross business of between $10 million and $15 million in 1967.

"I'll keep doing this as long as I have customers," Coen says. "The minute I don't have customers, I quit. You can bet your life we're not going to be left holding the bag."

Mrs. Wallace Feels Well, Doctors Reveal

MONTGOMERY, Ala. AP — Gov. Lurleen Wallace's doctors say the atrophied state of a tumor they removed from Mrs. Wallace's pelvic region makes them hopeful that her third cancer operation has cleared away all traces of cancer.

They said Friday they hoped she would be able to go back to work in a month or so.

Doctors reported that the governor "is doing well and she feels well" after the operation Thursday.

They said her condition must be considered serious, "as any person's would be this length of time after a major operation." But "we wouldn't say she is critical."

Auto's Door Damaged In East End Collision

The door of a 1968 model auto was damaged in a two-way collision early Friday afternoon on Pennsylvania Ave., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1956 model car driven by Clifford Clutter, 43, of Post Office Box 1420, Station A, and a 1968 auto operated by Carl Bailey, 50, of Post Office Box 161. It damaged the right front door of Bailey's car.

Clutter told Patrolman Jack Strobel he was pulling off the parking lot at the Station A Post Office, while Bailey was turning from Pennsylvania Ave. onto the lot.

Editor Dies At 59

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — C. Allen Van Fossen, 59, managing editor of the Camden Courier-Post since 1963, died Friday after a heart attack. He started with the newspaper 34 years ago as a copy boy.

Richest thoroughbred races in Europe are for 3-year-olds. In America the 2-year-olds have the biggest purses.

Reigns As Queen

Linda Hager, daugher of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hager of 2037 Ohio Ave., was crowned by Dale Jones as queen of the East Liverpool High School Key Club "Sweetheart Dance" Friday night at the IBOP hall near Williamsport. More than 300 attended.

Dave Burcham, left, was the queen's escort. Jones is president of the Key Club.

Suzy Jackson was second attendant to the queen and Vicki Jones first attendant. Other candidates were Linda Alexander, Jane DeLong and Susie Williams. Roger Aronson was chairman of the dance.

Committee chairmen were Tim Cunningham, decorations; Rich King, coronation; Fred Schultz, refreshments, and Oliver Spencer, tickets. James Moore is faculty adviser.

Protesting Role In Viet War

U.S. Army Deserters Set Goal Of 2,000 Defectors

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A goal of 2,000 defectors in Sweden was set today by a group of American Army deserters protesting the U.S. role in the Vietnamese war.

They are entering Sweden at an average of one a day and this rate will pick up, said Richard Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla., one of the four American sailors who quit the aircraft carrier Intrepid in Japan last fall and arrived here via Moscow Dec. 29.

The four sailors are among the 13 who have been granted asylum by the Swedish government.

The Swedish aliens commission said it had a list of at least 30 Americans who had defected and others were being added almost daily. Requests for asylum are pending.

The deerters have scheduled a meeting Sunday to organize an association which they said would work with a similar federation of American defectors in France.

There are at least 100 to 150 Army deserters in France, Bailey said.

"You don't hear too much about them. They aren't accepted as they are here. They have to work through the underground."

Defecting servicemen are working through two groups—the moderate Stockholm conference on Vietnam, headed by the prominent Swedish pacifist Gunnar Myrdal, and the militant, left-wing National Liberation Front, (FNL).

The U.S. servicemen who have found refuge in Sweden have split into two camps but most of them, according to Bailey, are solidly behind the planned defectors' organization.

"We believe we will have 2,000 by the end of the year," Bailey said. "That means 2,000 less bodies in the U.S. Army and fewer deaths in Vietnam. It also means a stronger voice for us to send the people back home."

Reports of new defections mounted.

Gosta Johansson of the Swedish Aliens Commission reported the arrival in the last few days of four infantrymen and a sailor, not identified.

Another soldier flew to Stockholm from the United States, conferred with Swedish authorities about possible citizenship and 24 hours later took a plane home.

Johansson told of another case of a U.S. Army man, also unidentified, coming to Sweden on a leave and then quickly going back to his unit in West Germany.

The soldier complained that it was too cold here, the aliens commission official said.

Area Residents Are Warned That 'Strep' Season Is Here

The "strep" season is here, area residents have been reminded by the Columbiana County Health Department at Lisbon.

"From now through spring," said Dr. M. K. Singer of the department, "is the period when most so-called 'strep' infections occur. Striking anyone regardless of age, they can be far more dangerous to health than many people might suspect."

A "strep" infection, he explained, gets its name from a scientific term for the bacteria which produce the infection, streptococcus. He said only certain types of these bacteria are harmful and that sore throat is the most common indication of infection by them.

Usually entering the body through the mouth, these microscopic organisms can grow rapidly under favorable conditions found in the throat. As they multiply, a substance irritating to throat membranes is given off causing the familiar raw, sore feeling of "strep" throat. Fever generally accompanies it, Dr. Singer continued.

He cautioned that "strep" infections are contagious, the bacteria being spread mainly by direct or close contact between people. The ideal conditions for epidemic spread of "strep" bacteria are found in crowded, confined areas. Hence, early detection of such infections offers a good preventative measure.

Dr. Singer said that at present the County Health Department, along with the Columbiana County Branch of the Heart Association of Eastern Ohio and the Salem and East Liverpool Departments of Health are now cooperating with the Ohio Department of Health to make adequate throat culture facilities available to all physicians in Columbiana County.

"Your physician has these throat culture kits in his office now," he said. "These are furnished by the State Department of Health, free of charge, and the culture of smears is also done in your state laboratory free of charge. Your physician may charge you for his service.

"Take your children to your physician for examination when they have a sore throat—don't take a chance with their health and let them end up as cardiac cripples the rest of their lives."
